Salem, Or., January 16, 1895.
Senator Dolph's succession to his own seat in the senate of the United States was settled tonight in the joint caucus of the republican members of both houses of the legislature. The last vestige of opposition to the caucus proposition died out this afternoon, when the meeting of what might have been called the anti-caucus members assembled and decided to go into the caucus. This meeting was presided over by Senator Alley, who urged a compliance with the caucus call on those present for the good of the party. Long before the hour of assembling the door of the armory, a room in the capitol basement, was surrounded by curious outsiders and much speculation was indulged in as to the appearance of the anti-caucus element. Predictions of absenteeism were unfulfilled however, for the last of the hesitating one went in just before 7:30, and the caucus began. Organization was effected by the election of Senator Alley, chairman, and Representative Long, secretary. The roll-call showed every republican present, except Representative Cole, of Multnomah county, who is slightly ill tonight, but who voted by proxy. Considerable time was occupied in fact nearly all of the two hours the caucus was in session, by preliminary discussion, partly as to the method to be used in voting. It was finally decided to call the names and have each member as called upon drop his ballot in a box. This was done. The first ballot settled it. The count showed: Dolph 40, Fulton 12, Tongue 11, Lowell 4, Lord 2, Hermann 2, Strong 1, total 72. Senator Lowell's four votes were friendly to Dolph and would have gone to him upon a second ballot. It was George L. Strong, of Portland, who received the single vote. It was then moved and voted without a dissenting voice that the nomination of Dolph be made unanimous.

Notice for Publication.
Land Office at Oregon City, Oregon, December 18, 1894.
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE FOLLOWING named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim and that said proof will be made before B. F. Jones, County Clerk of Lincoln County Oregon, at Toledo, Lincoln County, Oregon, on February 9th, 1895, viz:
J. C. Barnes, H. E. No. 11,234, for the Lots 11, 12 and 5, section 8, and southeast 1/4 of northeast 1/4, section 7, township 13 south, range 10 west.

With the establishing and successful operation of a creamery at Toledo, an era of dairy industry will be established in this county that will mark the beginning of better times. Too much cannot be said concerning the advantages this country possesses for that line of industry. Everything points to the success of any venture in this line. The remarkable richness of the grasses, the plentiful supply of good spring water, the moist climate, and all other necessary adjuncts for a successful dairy industry are here. The very topography of the country seems to have been designed with a view to dairying. Added to all the natural advantages we have the other advantages of having a market at home in our own state for every pound of creamery butter that can be produced. Oregon annually buys hundreds of thousands of pounds of butter from other states, even sending it as far east as Iowa, Illinois and Minnesota. A creamery will condense the product and put in a shape that the cost for carrying it to market will be low. To our mind no thing will develop Lincoln county so rapidly as the establishing and fostering of the creamery industry. It will be the making of the country. Instead of one there should be a half dozen in Lincoln county.

Joe Simon has been elected president of the senate and C. B. Moore, of Salem, speaker of the house.

Elk City Items.
Snow and rain.
Rob Campbell came up the first of the week looking for beef cattle.

C. P. Bevens went to King's Valley yesterday will be gone a few days.

P. N. Lathrop will go to Wren's station tomorrow for a car load of lumber to replace his house on the ranch.

O. C. Simpson will commence his house when the fair weather comes. Wonder why O. C. builds so large a house.

L. W. Deyoe made a trip to the county seat the first of the week.

Elk City bridge left us on Saturday night. Seems it started for the county seat and would have made the trip, but B. F. Jones caught it in Depot slough and tied it up only a few feet from its destination. It is hard luck on the people of this place after all the money and work expended for it. Marsh Simpson and Dr. Carter put up $125 in coin besides other small amounts. We who put in one hundred and thirty days' work have lost nothing but our time, and have got more of that than anything else. All kinds of plans are offered to replace the bridge. The plan of a double span with a good solid pier in the center seems better than any other suggested. The bridge on Big Elk at D. B. Ramsdell's only hangs by a straw and unless looked after will soon go.

Dr. Carter informs us that some people below us informed him that it was by our neglect to remove drift that caused the bridge to go out. We will say this, if those parties had four-bits a day for the number of days work put in in a rain storm they would have more money than they have brains. And had the drift all been kept out until dark Saturday night enough come in after that time to swamp the bridge. It has become a custom along the Elk and Yaquina rivers for the people in clearing land to cut the trees and brush into the rivers for the high water to carry away. While this may never cause the destruction of another bridge. It catches on the sand bars in the Bay and causes the sand to gather and fill up the the Bay, and unless looked after soon will cost thousands of dollars to remove the obstructions to navigation. Fishermen will tell you that within the last year it has filled in places from three to five feet with brush and the sand gathered with it. Alder, vine maple and crab apple wood will soon go to the bottom in tidewater.

Dated January 17, 1895.

Confirm The Sale.
Judge Fullerton will have the matter of the confirmation of the O. P. sale before him next Saturday. The sale should be confirmed. It is true that the amount bid was a mere pittance, as applied toward the debt of the road, but it is equally true that it is the highest sum that will ever be bid. As far as the proposition of Wallis Nash to put up a $50,000 forfeit is concerned, we believe that it is mere wind. Nash last summer was an earnest pleader for the road to be put up for sale at an early date. He stated that his men were then ready. It seems as if he must have lost them and now wants more time. Nash never has been a bona fide bidder and we don't believe that he ever will be one. His is simply a policy of delay.

The fact that the amount bid for the road will not pay court fees, taxes, etc., and will thus beat the men out of their hard earned money is greatly deplored by us.

and we do not hesitate to condemn the methods by which they were wronged as outrageous in the extreme. But it is done, and no man of business sense will believe today that the road will sell for any greater sum than it brought on the day of sale, and it is extremely doubtful if another bidder can be found if the present sale is set aside.

The road has been bid in by men who have the ability and capital to construct it over the mountains and make a paying road out of it. It will develop the country and will serve the best interests of all concerned if the sale be confirmed.

Siletz Items.
Snowing this morning, the 17th. It will be hard on stock.

The school boys were chasing little pigs the other morning before school hours. Butler Fairchild and Frank McDonald held the lead string and behind them was about thirty little tots to catch little pigs. It was good exercise for the boys.

Jacob Orton, of this place, who has been over to the Yakima country for the past year, came home on the 16th. He states that there is lots of snow where he came from. He looks to be in good health.

The rainy weather of the past few days caused the river to raise much higher than it had for some time, and during the high water our assistant ferryman got the ferry boat on the west bank and tied it pretty well up, but during the night the water fell and left it out of the water. On Sunday afternoon they got a crowd of men together to put the boat back in the water, and were successful, of course. It took strength to do it, but Siletz isn't behind on that, or willing hands, either.

Mr. Rakestraw, the school supervisor, arrived here on Sunday last, and on Monday called a council with the Indians on the school question. He found that there had been some complaint against the superintendent, Mr. Myers, so he told the Indians that he would fix it all right. Mr. Rakestraw was very much pleased with the way the school is conducted. After inquiry among the Indians who are acquainted with the school he found it to be in better shape than ever it was.

In the revised charter of the town of Woodburn, ratified at a mass meeting, women are given the right of petition on the saloon question, also the right to vote upon all municipal laws, provided, that at a regular election the women receive a majority of all the legal votes granting them the right of franchise. The constitutionality of the matter has been raised.

Krogstad brothers are erecting on their farm near town, a chicken house 20x30 in size. They will fit it up in first-class manner and will engage in the raising of thoroughbred poultry to a considerable extent.
