SALADO SAYINGS.

Big Elk is bank full and our mail carrier had to carry the mail on foot over to Glen. The writer will say that the Drift creek settlers need a bridge across Elk river very badly, as it is not fordable a good part of the time.

Mr. Dave Hamar, of Prineville, was in our part of the country buying up calves. He intends driving them over into Eastern Oregon near Prineville, where he has a stock ranch. He enriched a few of our settlers' purses with a little of the much abused silver.

Mr. Frank Thompson went over to Little Elk station to meet his friend F. R. Overlander, of Corvallis, who will rusticate for a few days in our mountains.

Mr. P. N. Lathrop and Jesse Craft paid Toledo a visit with the intention of making proof on Mr. Lathrop's homestead.

Report says Ralph Daniels is on the sick list and is coming home.

Ernest Dixon was up on his ranch Saturday to see the house had not run off.

Those that are in need of fine alder and cedar lumber, go to Hodges' sawmill for it. No place can beat it.

Chas. Young has a small band of five goats from which he has got $6.50 worth of wool, besides five kids. He thinks goats will pay a better profit than Jersey cows. His goats have not had to be fed this winter. This country affords a fine range for goats and sheep.

Athol Chapman is staying at Mr. Hodges at present helping him run the saw mill.

RELIABLE.

TIDEWATER CHIPS.

The river reached as high a stage yesterday as at any time this winter, and as for rain, the oldest inhabitants say, "the like I never saw before," but we hope to soon see some fine weather. Everyone has plenty of work to do as soon as Old Sol shows his smiling face.

Mr. Otis Thissel and Clarence Barclay expect to start for California the last of this week. May health and prosperity accompany you boys, but hurry and sow your wild oats and get back to Lincoln county before Uncle Sam's best land is all taken up.

School commenced in Upper Tidewater district today, Miss Lsa Barclay teacher.

Porter Trenholm, of Fall creek, came down Sunday, bringing his little brother to attend school here.

Miss Lena Forden returned home yesterday, after a short visit to her grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. McKey, of this place.

While out hunting on Scott's mountain a few days ago Master Roy McMillen encountered three bears, and secured two of them. It was only owing to the thick brush and darkness coming on that the other got away. Bears are very plenty here but seem to be backward in coming out this spring.

Last week our mail carrier treated himself to a cold bath. While passing friend Forden's place his attention was attracted by something on shore and while standing up in the boat to get a better view he unconsciously stepped onto the gunwale when the boat craned and to save a fall he grabbed the mast and the boat capsized completely. He was fortunate in gaining a seat on the bottom of the upturned boat, where his cries of distress soon brought help. With a dry suit of clothes he was soon on his way, none the worse for his ducking.

Dr. Hinsel, of Alsea, was down to visit the little daughter of Wm. Rominett, who is very sick with but little hopes of recovery. Fortunately we have but little sickness here. It is hard to get a doctor here as the nearest is some 25 miles distant.

Mr. I. R. Gault, one of the solid farmers of this place, is putting in quite a crop of peas this spring. He uses them to fatten hogs and considers it one of the best crops that can be grown in this country, and we consider his advice worth heeding.

Hoping and praying for sunshine I remain,

THE HERMIT.

CHITWOOD CHIPS.

Births—none.

Deaths—none.

Marriages—none.

Rain in abundance.

All hands rather blue, all waiting for the rain to cease so they can put in spring crops and garden.

Some are canning up the old crop of potatoes so as to have grub for next winter.

As blue as it looks people will talk politics and county seat. Most all here are for Toledo on account of the expense of moving the county seat at this time. The strongest argument in favor of West Yaquina is a few dollars of outside money. Well, these hard times of gold standard a few dollars and free whiskey is an argument that is hard to overthrow. But it is to be hoped that the better class of citizens will vote to the best interest of the county and vote for Toledo.

Messrs. Chauncey and Clyde Trapp succeeded in capturing a large brown bear a few days ago. Hope you will do so some more, boys.

Miss Elsie M. Wilson, of Chitwood, left Sunday morning on the Farallon for California to make her future home. Sorry to lose you Elsie, and hope that success may attend you in your new home.

School is progressing nicely under the care of Prof. D. J. Chitwood.

Judge.

L. H. McMahan has started another paper at Salem, which he calls the Oregon Arbitrator. The initial number is principally taken up with skinning Gov. Fletcher, of the Oregon Independent, alive. If Mac calls the manner in which he starts out arbitration, then we have always misunderstood the meaning of the word. Stir 'em up, Mac!

There is now every evidence that if a justice of the peace and a constable are not elected in Toledo precinct on the first day of June it will not be for the lack of candidates. Two more candidates have appeared in the field in the persons of W. E. Rich, who petitions himself onto the official ticket as an independent candidate for justice of the peace, and J. J. Turnidge has been nominated by the populists as a candidate for constable. The field is still open for independent candidates up till the 15th of this month. After that we are going to send for 400 pounds of new type and print the entire list.
