Rock Creek Ripples.

Rock Creek is wide awake. Improvements are constantly being made.

Mr. Sam Center is having a lot of posts made for a new fence.

Mr. Herman Steidel has made some new fence.

G. W. Kneeland's place has been much improved.

Mrs. Kneeland has has been quite sick. We wont say anything about the man who brought her the medicine. She did not get the whiskey because the cork came out.

Mr. C. H. Pearse the and family, who have been camping on Rock creek, have returned to California.

The Rocca postmaster will spend the winter at home for the first time

Lewis Hampton is spending his vacation at home.

Henry Scott is very busy making preparations for a new house. We don't know who is to be the housekeeper.

Rock creek lost one of her fairest young ladies last Sunday, when Miss Larah Wright became Mrs.
Ev. H. Bryant. The wedding was private. Rev. Montgomery, of Fall City, officiating.

Next Sunday will be the regular appointment for preaching.

The Sunday school is progressing nicely.

Eighteen pupils are enrolled in the public school with Miss M. L.
Hampton as teacher. The school house was built entirely by volunteer work and is a credit to Rock creek.

PEARL.

Rocca, Aug. 7, 1896.

Rev. H. L. Barkley, of Woodburn, Marion county, is another republican who has refused to support McKinley and a single gold standard. Mr. Barkley was a member of the legislative session of 1895, and was re-elected to the legislature last June, having received the second highest vote cast for any candidate in Marion county for representative. He has always been very free and outspoken in his sentiments for free silver. He was one of the republican leaders that led the bolt against Dolph two years ago.

Colonel F. J. Parker has left at the Oregonian office a fine sample of flax grown on his farm near Elk City, Lincoln county. It is about three feet in height, and there had been no rain till it was pulled.
With favorable showers, it would probably have been six inches aller. The flax was raised on ground which has been in continuous cultivation without manure for 20 years. Just whether to engage in the business of making twine or in the colonel has not yet decided.—Oregonian.

There are just about eight cuckoo office-holders of the E. D. McKee stripe in Portland, and we move that these eight be made delegates to the gold bug convention to be held in Indianapolis. They are all getting good stated salaries and, of course, are in the proper mood to thoroughly sympathize with the man who has produce or labor to sell. If they don't want to pay their own expenses to Indianapolis let them draw on Mark Hanna for the amount.

A comparison of the steel production for the year 1895 can now be made between the United States and Great Britain. During the period the United States produced 4,909,128 tons of Bessemer, against 1,535,225 for Great Britain. In open-hearth steel ingots Great Britain has still a slight lead, she having manufactured 1,724,737 tons against the United States 1,237,182 tons.

One item of news that used to be never failing has been taken from the newspapers along the line of the O. C. & E. That was the item of pay day on the railroad. Under the old receiverships it used to be an ever-flowing source of news and comment. Two or three weeks before the time for a monthly pay day came around it was always in order to estimate, speculate and guess on the probable percentage of wages the employes would receive at the next pay day. And if pay day was delayed or omitted altogether, as it frequently was, then there followed the usual amount of comment and condemnation. After the pay car had made its spasmodic trip and had doled out its percentage of pay to the boys, then at least two weeks' items were secured on account of the excess or shortage from what had been previously predicted, and various reasons were always advanced therefor. Now it is all changed. Pay days come and pay days go, but no comments are excited thereby. There is a sameness to all of these pay days that brings joy to the hearts of the employes of the railroad, but it brings no items the newspaper offices. One pay day does not differ now from the one that has gone before it, nor the one that will follow after. The men are promptly paid all that is due them and that ends it. There is no more speculation as to when there will be another pay day, and what per cent of wages will be paid. These items seem to be a thing of the past: forever. Now no kick can be made because of the pro rata is not what it ought to be. There are no more dark hints that some receiver is pocketing the money that ought to be paid out for wages. In fact, pay day items belong to the dim and misty past. While the papers miss their items they all manage to adjust themselves to the changed condition with a resignation that could not be expected from anyone that was not so perfect and pure as the Oregon editor.

Here is Oregon's game law in a nut shell. Game and fish can be killed only during the following seasons: Grouse, Mongolian pheasant and quail, September 1 to December 1. Prairie chickens, July 1 to October 1. Wild ducks and water fowls, September 1 to March 15. Deer, mountain sheep, etc., August 1 to December 1.
Killing for hides or part of carcass only is prohibited. East of Cascades it is unlawful to kill at any time, Chinese pheasants, quail or Bob White. Trout, April 1 to November 1. Salmon, December 15 to November 1. Explosives to kill fish, nets, seines, obstructions to free passage of fish, etc., prohibited.

The army is now about 600 short of its maximum of 25,000, but the enlistment returns for June show a slight increase in numbers over preceding months; 779 men were enlisted in June, as against 749 in May, 697 in April, 598 in March, 431 in February, 590 in January and 673 in December. As an interesting fact in connection with these figures, it has been pointed out that in most of the months the greatest number of enlistments were at the recruiting stations in the various cities. The new system of recruiting is working satisfactorily, and the character of the men is improving, it is said.

An exchange publishes the following: "It is recorded that Noah was the first advertiser. He advertised the flood and it came through all right. The fellows who laughed at advertising got drowned. Ever since Noah's time the advertiser has been prosperous, while the other fellow has been struggling to keep his head above the flood of disaster."

TOO LATE! TOO LATE!!

It is too late to get an Abstract of Title to a piece of land after you have bought it and found out that there are judgements and tax liens against it. The proper thing to do is to have the

LINCOLN COUNTY ABSTRACT COMPANY, of Toledo, make you an Abstract of Title before investing your money. A business man now days never buys real estate without first obtaining evidence of a good title.
We warrant our work to be absolutely correct. Address.
