It Is Judge Stearns.

Lincoln county is no longer an orphan as far as a county judge is concerned. After due deliberation of nearly a month, Gov. Lord finally made a selection for the office of county judge from the list of the numerous applicants for that position. A special to the LEADER informs us that J. O. Stearns, of Waldport, has been appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Burt.

Judge Stearns has been a resident of Alsea Bay for a number of years. He is the recognized republican leader of that part of the county. His first appearance in politics was in 1892, before the county was divided, when he run for the legislature and was defeated by S. T. Jeffreys, by a small majority. In 1893, when the county was divided, he was appointed county commissioner by Gov. Pennoyer, and served a little over a year in that capacity. In 1894 he was urged by many republicans to become a candidate for county judge, and he refused to allow his name to be used. At the last republican county convention he was an aspirant for the nomination for county clerk, but was defeated in the convention by Capt. Robertson. His appointment as county judge will hold until the first of July 1896.

The Oregon Industrial Exposition will open at Portland, Saturday evening, September 19th, and continue one month. As an exposition of the resources, products and industries of the entire Pacific Northwest it will far surpass any of its predecessors. Its financial success is assured by a guaranty fund, and with this to rely upon the managers have gone ahead with boldness and confidence to gather the most complete exhibit of everything entering into the life and prosperity of this region ever brought together. Many alterations are being made in the interior arrangements of the huge structure in which the Fair is held, especially in providing greater facilities for the enjoyment of visitors. Special attention is being paid to those who attend in many ways besides the music and exhibits. Every night something special will be given for the amusement of visitors. Frequent excursions, at extremely low rates of fare, will be run on all railroads, and special rates will be given at other times on all lines in Oregon, Washington and Idaho. Both in the variety and quality of the exhibits and in its special attractions the Fair will be far superior to any of its predecessors.

A Timely Reminder.

Each season forces upon our consideration its own peculiar perils to health. The advent of fall finds many reduced in strength and vigor, poorly prepared to continue the business of life. The stomach and bowels, the great highway of animal economy, is especially liable to disorder in the fall. The nervous system has also suffered in the struggle. Typhoid fever and malaria in particular find in the fall that combination of air, earth and water that mark this season as especially dangerous. The falling leaves, the decaying vegetables contribute their share of contamination. Hood's Sarsaparilla furnishes a most valuable safeguard at these important points, and should be used in the fall before serious sickness has laid you low.

Elk City Items.

Trout bite very well now and then.

M. W. Simpson went to the Valley on business the last of the week.

The Toledo and Yaquina butchers make us calls twice a week.

Col. F. J. Parker and family are down from Walla Walla, stopping at the Colonel's ranch.

Prospect for spud crop is very good in this vicinity, and the price promise is much better than common.

Elk City fishermen are below waiting for the chinook to come. The law for this stream should be extended fifteen days to fit the time of the fish coming in.

The Odd Fellows' building is well under way. J. H. Van Orden and sons are building it. It will be a fine addition to our burg.

It is reported we are to have another general merchandise store in town. It will occupy the Odd Fellows' building. "Opposition is the life of trade."

Prof. Geo. Bethers will teach the Elk City school the coming term.

Miss Madge Dunn will teach in the Hooker district.

There is talk of Bryan and McKinley clubs in Elk in the near future.

The launch Roselda made two trips up to Elk last week. It is a nice boat and makes good time while running, but seems to be slightly muleish at times.

The editor of the Corvallis Times, with a party of friends from Corvallis, spent a few days at Elk last week, fishing for trout.

NOVUS HOMO.

Sept. 1, 1896.

Rock Creek Ripples.

B. J. Harrington, our enterprising merchant, put in some needed repairs on the road this week. He is quite conscious that the road is narrow and the bluffs steep, since he and the contents of his wagon "took a header" over the grade below the Rocca postoffice.

C. H. Barberow and John Hollingsworth made a trade recently and now everyone who passes along the road knows that John has a team. If they cannot see him plowing they can hear him talk to his horses.

Geo. Heckel believes in killing two birds with one stone. Last week he burned his slashing and roasted his crop of corn and potatoes.

Frank Morrison is minus one of the best bachelor outfits in the mountains. The fire of his slashing made a clean sweep and his house became a "fire place."

Adolf Samson is expected home from the Bay.

Lewis Hampton and niece, Iva Baker, left Rocca for Clackamas county Tuesday morning.

Z. M. Derrick, the Lincoln county surveyor, made a trip in the direction of Sugarloaf this week.

Mrs. Oscar Fanno made a visit on Rock creek this week on her way to the coast to visit her old home.

Rock creek school had an interesting program last Friday afternoon.

Bradley, a young Divine from Fall City, preached in place of Rev. Harrington last Sunday.
