Number 49.

THE COURT HAS STOPPED some ping-pong leaks and will succeed in stopping others, saving a great deal of money to the payees in the coming year.

The above statement is from a paper which is at present busyly engaged in appealing to all over the Union. In an article composed principally of quotations made by the payees the article falls to state just where the leak is in the court.

We have been forwarded by the Indian Department a copy of the law passed by Congress, and approved January 30, 1897, making it an offence to sell to the sale of liquor to Indians.

"An act to prohibit the sale of intoxicating drinks to Indians, providing penalties for violations thereof and for other purposes."

"Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That it shall be unlawful to sell, give away, dispose of exchange, or barter for, or lend to any Indian any intoxicating liquor, fuel, distill, or other intoxicating liquor of any kind whatsoever, or any compound, composition or any article whatsoever, under any name, label or brand, which produces intoxication or tendency to any Indian to whom it is lawful to sell, give away, dispose of exchange, or barter for, or lend to any Indian, including mixed drinks, over which the government, through its departments, executive, legislative or judicial, has no control, to any person who shall introduce or attempt to introduce into the United States any spirituous or other intoxicating liquor, including beer, ale and wine, or any extract or intoxicating liquor of any kind whatsoever into the Indian country, which shall include any Indian allotment while the title to the same shall be held in trust by the government, or while the same shall remain inalienable by the allottees without the consent of the United States, shall be punished by imprisonment not less than 30 days, and by a fine of not less than $100 for the first offense, and not less than $200 for any subsequent offense."
