The Hot Weather Cracked Them.

Down at Yaquina there are several cars loaded with fine, large blocks of Pioneer stone that has been condemned and will not be forwarded to San Francisco. Up at the quarry there is another lot of stone that has also been condemned, and it is said that there is still another lot at San Francisco. These huge blocks of stone have been ruined by being cracked, or sunchecked. Through the edge or sides of each one of these blocks runs a small crack, just similar to cracks made in hard clay by the sun.

The casualty that has occurred to this large lot of stone has caused the shutting down of the quarry temporarily, and just what will be done in the future is not known. In an interview with Mr. Elmo Davis yesterday, he stated that he did not know what would be done, but felt satisfied that the shutting down was only temporary. The cause of the cracking of the stone is attributed by him to the fact that the stone was not sufficiently seasoned. It was quarried out of the south ledge which lies on the north slope of the hill. The ledge is covered with dirt and vegetation, the sun never strikes it, and it is always water-soaked. As a consequence when the stone is first taken it is soaked as full of water as it can be, and the action of the hot sun causes the outside to expand. The inside remaining firm and unyielding the result is a check, or crack in the surface. The stone that has been put into the building is entirely free from such flaws, and the action of the sun and weather seems to have no effect on it. The stone in the south ledge is exactly similar to that of the north ledge, and there never has been any cracking or checking of stone taken from that ledge.

What will be done next is not known. The company have a considerable amount of rock to deliver yet to finish filling their contract. It is in the nature of a calamity to have this quarry shut down, and we hope that it will only be temporary.

Turkey is a foul blot on the face of civilization and should be obliterated and wiped off of the face of the map. The outrages committed by its people with the passive assent of its rulers are enough to justify the civilized nations of the world in crushing it out of existence. And they would, too, if it were not for the lamentable fact that the Turkish bonds are held by the money powers of the great nations of Europe.

The Spokane Outburst speaking of the new mines in Alaska deliberately makes the assertion that sixty thousand dollars to the pan has been obtained. As that amount of gold would weigh 280 pounds it must have been a pretty strong man with a pretty big pan to wash it out.

The war between Turkey and Greece is now fairly on, and it grieves us to note that the fortunes of war seem to be with the Turkish armies. The interference of the powers of Europe may put a stop to the war at any time now.

About That $89.

According to the Corvallis Times there is danger of another law suit between Benton and Lincoln counties. This time it is over a claim that Benton county holds against Lincoln for the sum of $89 as a balance due on final settlement made between the two counties a couple of years ago. Judge Stearns informs us that he does not think it probable that a suit will result from the matter. The bill was first presented to the county court of Lincoln county at its last term. At that time Commissioner Williams stated that he had a letter from the treasurer of Benton county to the effect that since this settlement had been made between the two counties that Lincoln county had acquired a credit in some manner from Benton county for something like $40 or $50. So the bill of Benton county was continued for the term in order to look up this credit. The court did not refuse to pay it as the Benton county officials seem to have been led to believe. It is very probable therefore, that if Benton county will possess her soul in patience that when the county court of this county meets in June that the matter will be amicably settled, and that all danger of another suit between the two counties will be avoided.

Elk City Items.

Jack Frost came along yesterday.

Col. F. J. Parker left for his mines yesterday. Colonel says his prospect at the mines is very flattering now and he has struck it at last.

Two cases in justice court this week. Mrs. L. E. Palmer vs. School district No. 31. Wherein she claims $14.18. Case postponed until May 4th. Clyde Trapp vs. Bluford Miller, for possession of a dwelling house occupied by Miller at Pioneer. Case continued until April 30th 10 a. m. Some prospect of another case in the near future.

Steamer Mascotte went down the Bay yesterday with a fishing party, composed of Wm. Woods, J. B. White, of Pioneer, L. W. Deyoe and W. F. Whetsler, of Elk City.

I. J. Pepin, of Chitwood, was in town yesterday.

Two loads of chittim arrived this week. One from Little Elk and one from Big Elk. It is the only legal tender on the market at this season.

L. W. Deyoe's sister, Mrs. Clara Carns, of Florence, arrived yesterday for a few days' visit, when she will join her husband on the Santiam.

Assessor Lutz made his appearance yesterday morning. We cannot say whether he was traveling with the same pass that Jack Alphin saw him with or not.

There will be no excuse for bachelors at the dance Friday without partners. The hill are full of girls hunting for escorts.

BATTLE AXE.

April 28, 1897.

The railroad commissioners are now making their semi-annual junket over the railroads of the state. Every time one sees this board go flying by on one of their special trains it makes his righteous wrath rise against the legislature that was pledged to abolish this state nuisance, and then wilfully betrayed the people.
