

KERNVILLE NOTES.

Too much rain in this section. A good many campers coming and going about the bay. Most of them are land hunters and do not appear to be much pleased with the country. Difficulty of access is the main objection.

John Effholder has returned from working on the Deer Creek road, connecting the Salmon river and Slab creek roads. He reports a small party at work and slow progress, and fears the road will not be completed this summer. This is unfortunate, as this road would make a tolerably good outlet to the valley, avoiding the long stretch of road and bad fords along Salmon river. A number of parties living near the road and who would be benefitted by it did not show up when work was in progress. The hands had to pack their own grub. I think the suggestion of the LEADER that the county should furnish rations to those isolated settlers who have to build roads with an insufficiency of labor, should be carried out.

Some work should be done on the Newport trail before winter sets in.

Mrs. A. S. Austin with her youngest son has returned to Seattle. The two older boys remain at the Bay, Dana carrying the mail.

Andy King is making a wagon trip to Sheridan.

There is to be a dance at Andy King's (Jakie Johnson's place) July 4th.

Will some reader of the LEADER who knows please state in your undyked tide land? I sowed oats on a piece, the June tide damaged it so that it is too thin. If not too late I would like to replant with something to feed stock. Am thinking of rutabagas. How would German millet do? Would be glad to have an answer in next issue of your paper.

Z. M. Derrick has been on the Bay surveying again. Jim is an expert at finding obscure corner stakes. He has already made a large acquaintance with the almost obliterated government survey here of 22 years ago. He is rapid, industrious and obliging, and we hope will be retained by Lincoln county at a service for which he is so well fitted.

How does the county clerk receive filings under the Free Homestead bill when it is not law yet? THE LIZZARD.

Chitwood Chips.

Crops are looking fine around here, and promises a bountiful harvest.

Mr. Lutz, the county assessor, is around here today assessing property. He seems to be very careful to do just the right thing by everyone. Success to Hurley.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wilson have just returned from a trip to the Valley. They brought a fine full-blood Jersey cow and calf home with them. They say they got their choice out of the herd of several full-blood Jerseys. They bought her of Mrs. Beach, of Corvallis. She (the cow) is a beauty.

In last week's Yaquina Bay News we noticed in the "Eddyville Items," written over the signature of "Bellis," a statement that "Chitwood seems to be a very prolific place for churches. The latest organization is spiritualistic church on Thornton creek." Now we think he spells his name wrong. He should spell it Bellows instead of Bellis, for the reason his items are so windy. He is clear off his beat when he gives "Chitwood Items." The above statement is all wind. There are only two church organizations in Chitwood, namely, The Deciples and the Seventh Day Adventists, and we can assure the readers of the LEADER and News that His Satanic Majesty is not so far the control of the people here as to establish his church here.

Work at the Victor Sandstone Company's quarry is still in progress. They are changing the position of their hoisting works to about seventy-five yards nearer the water tank. When that is accomplished they will be ready to take out rock in any quantity wanted.

Notes From Eddyville.

On Tuesday, June 29th, the Eddyville Sabbath school enjoyed themselves by having a picnic. Owing to the rain the party had to repair to the hall over the I. X. L. company store, where a grand dinner was spread, after which the afternoon was devoted to instrumental and vocal music, speeches, recitations and plays. All present enjoyed themselves.

Our genial friend Will Tucker has gone to the Valley, to be absent a few months. While we feel sorry to part with one of our neighbors we trust his trip will be a paying one.

What might have been a serious fire was timely noticed about 5 o'clock on Thursday evening. Mr. Conroy was sitting in his office writing when hearing a cracking noise in the upper part of the building, hastened up stairs to investigate and found that the upper part of the building was on fire. He immediately rang the fire bell, and with the help of Mr. Marion Hunt and Ed. Dutton and several buckets of water the flames were stopped, but none too soon as a very few minutes more would have been too late.

We had a visit yesterday (Sabbath day) from Rev. Mr. Tonkins, who preached an eloquent sermon, subject, "Our Young Republic." All present expressed themselves as being highly pleased. Come again Bro. Tonkins, we will always welcome you in our burg.

The I. X. L. Co. are buying and shipping large quantities of wool, cascara bark and other produce.

We notice in our city tonight Mr. Henry McCullough and family, from Newport. They are guests of Israel F. Eddy, Esq.

On arrival of the train this morning an officer of the law, armed with the proper implements of his office, held up the passenger train at this station, and search was made for an escaping criminal, but the party was not aboard. Several constables are searching the mountains for him. We learn that the cause of action is for theft and burning a building.

We are having lots of rain. Hay, grain, potatoes and fruit look well. Mr. C. Wesley Price, of Detroit, Michigan, paid us a visit, remaining over night on Friday last, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Conroy.

July 5th we had quite a celebration, and at night a grand display of fireworks took place illuminating the sky for miles around.

We learn that our esteemed friend Mr. Israel F. Eddy is about to build quite a large dwelling house, and take unto himself a wife. Well, we wish him success and a long life.
