> The city jail and council chamber in Gervais were destroyed by fire last Friday night. The jail is a small building and the council chamber is a large structure. All the contents of the council chamber were saved, including the county voting booths. The origin of the fire is thought to have been incendiary, as the jail was thoroughly cleaned and a new lock had been put on. It is supposed that some one set fire to the jail and building, but they were so near limited that to save them was impossible. There was no insurance.
