Col. T. J. Buford was in Toledo Saturday, receiving the compliments of his friends upon his appointment to the office of agent at Siletz.

D. J. Chitwood and family moved back to Chitwood last Saturday. The house vacated by them has been occupied by C. M. Collins and family.

Victor Hurt came over from Corvallis on business last Saturday, and made a stay of three or four days. Mr. Hurt is in the employ of S. L. Kline, the Corvallis merchant. He reports times quite lively in Corvallis this fall.

We notice that all of those letters from Franklin M. Carter in the Oregonian are dated from Toledo. This is strange. We don't know of any Franklin M. Carter at Toledo, and we are pretty well acquainted here too. There is a Dr. F. M. Carter at Elk City, perhaps this is the writer of the letters.

The second trial between Al Meaker and Jas. Lewis, the rival cattle buyers, was had at Yaquina last week before 'Squire Booth and a jury of six unbiased citizens. Two days and a night were taken up with the case, but a great part of the time was occupied in getting a jury. The jury, after being out all night, finally rendered a verdict in favor of Meaker Saturday morning. This suit, it will be remembered, was a replevin suit brought by Meaker to recover some cattle which both buyers claim to have bought from a party on the Alsea. The first trial, which was held several days ago, resulted in a hung jury.

Make your wants known at Gowell's.

The largest and best assortment of groceries at Gowell's.

You can at any time find a full stock of flour and feed, oats and wheat at Peter Tellefson's, Yaquina.

Just arrived at Mrs. Fish's a fine line of calico and outing flannels, also gloves, stockings and corsets.

The best cake in the United States is the Hoe Cake Soap, for sale at Peter Tellefson's, Yaquina.

Our young friend Geo. McCluskey is attending Philomath college. George is making a very commendable effort to secure an education.

Apples! Talk about apples; Lincoln county certainly has a fine crop of them this year. They are great big, juicy, sound, fine flavored apples too.

The memorial to the late Ora Mays should have appeared in last week's paper, but unfortunately it was handed in too late.

J. Worrell left some magnificent specimens of Climax potatoes at our office last Thursday. They were raised by Wilson White, of Pool's Slough, and were grown on high bench land.

Agent Beal Gaither and wife were over from the Siletz the first of the week visiting relatives. Mr. Gaither states that he has the business at the agency ready to turn over to the new agent, Mr. Buford, at any time.

Misses Alma, Rena and Birdie Brederson will please accept our thanks for a basket of most delicious apples left at our office last Friday. These apples were rivaled in beauty and sweetness only by the three demure little damsels that brought them.

We regret to announce that Toledo is soon to be left without a barber, as our present barber, Mr. R. C. Miller, intends to leave for Corvallis next Saturday where he has accepted a good position in a shop. We are sorry to lose Mr. Miller and his estimable family from our city.

J. H. Crawford, living on the Cloak place, at Storrs, brought some of as fine apples to this market last Monday that have come here this year. We have a sample of fall pippins, the largest of which just weighs a pound. The apples are all sound, almost without a flaw or speck on them.

The depot ground at this place has a much improved look since the new side track has been extended and the unsightly humps of dirt that have disfigured the appearance of the grounds so long have been removed. If the company would now spread a good layer of gravel over the north end of the ground, where the teams will approach the depot, the work will be complete.

Dr. Wakefield, of Little Elk, wears the blue ribbon so far for fine apples brought to this office. Last Monday he brought a box of apples of the Dutch Mignon variety that are certainly hard to beat. There were fifty-one apples in the box and they weighed fifty-six pounds, averaging a little over one pound to the apple for the whole box full. In addition to their size the apples are sound, finely flavored, and the entire box was without scarcely a speck or flaw. Besides the apples Dr. Wakefield brought down some excellent samples of corn grown on his farm. Two of the stalks had two well developed ears each, and the other two stalks had one ear each. The corn is of the Yellow Dent variety and was grown on bench land. The corn is quite well matured, and is a proof that this variety of corn can be successfully grown here.

Pride of Japan tea at Gowell's. All the popular brands sold by Gowell.

The railroad to Gowell's store is completed.

The youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. A. Waugh is quite seriously ill.

Frank Weitman came over from Corvallis this week where he has been working for some time.

Dr. Darnell informs us this morning that the condition of R. F. Raines, of this place, is improved, a change which we are very glad to note.

We are sorry to note that Wm. Matthews, of the Newport News, had the misfortune to fall out of a hack and injure his back quite badly while on his trip with the Oregon editors last week. Owing to this he was prevented from enjoying his trip much.

Dr. R. Parent, or Farmer Parent, has shucked his potatoes, dug his pumpkins and thrashed his carrots on his Otter Rock farm, and has come to Toledo with his family for a short stay. We think Doc's idea is to send his children to school this winter.

One of the chinamen employed on the section here got one of his hands badly smashed last evening by the falling of a railroad rail upon it. Just how seriously it was hurt we could not find out, as he did not have a doctor care for the injured member, but it is safe to say that this John Chinese will take a layoff for some time.

Wallace Fish, a little son of T. P. Fish, had the misfortune to break both the bones of his left fore arm last Thursday. He and his brotrea have been riding from the Dundon place, where the boys live with their grandparents, to school, both on one horse. While going home Thursday evening the horse started to run down the hill in front of the Henry Wulf house. The boys were bareback and were unable to hold the pony from running, and as it made a turn at the bridge this side of Mr. Hyde's the boys were thrown off. Wallace threw out his arm to shield his face, and the result was the breaking of both bones just above the wrist. The boy was brought to town where Dr. Darnell set the broken bones and gave the boy the proper medical aid, and he is getting along as nicely as possible.

MARRIED.

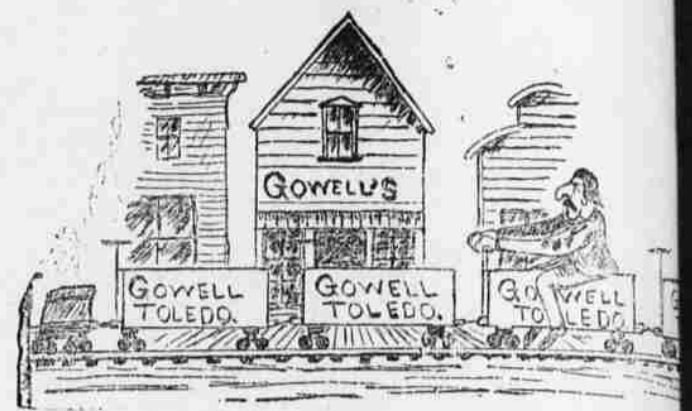

DUNN—DICK.—At the residence of the bride's parents in this city on Sunday, October 17, 1897, Jay Dunn and Miss Eva Dick, J. A. Hall officiating.

The ceremony which united these young people for life was performed about one o'clock in the afternoon and was witnessed only by the relatives and a few close friends of the family. After the ceremony the assembled guests sat down to an elegant wedding dinner prepared by the bride's mother.

The contracting couple are both well and favorably known in this community. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Dick, of this place, and has resided here many years with her parents. The groom is one of the industrious and prosperous young farmers of our county. The happy couple went at once to housekeeping in the comfortable and commodious new house just completed by the groom on his farm near town. The LEADER joins with their many friends in extending hearty congratulations.

IN MEMORIAM.

Died, near Mill Four, on October 6, 1897, Ora G. May, aged 20 years, 3 months and 22 days.

The deceased has been a resident of the Bay for some years and was well known and universally beloved. His was a most lovable disposition, and to the natural beauty of character was added the charm of religion. He has been a most earnest worker for the Master since his conversion some two years ago, and was the means of leading many to Christ. He was never ashamed to own his Master, but on all occasions was ready to speak and work "in His name." On his death bed he exhorted all who were present to live good lives and meet him again. He was ready to go, and in beautiful language and a sweet smile he said, "I am just waiting," and again he said, "It is nothing to die, just a step across the river." For his beloved parents he had a special message, telling them not to mourn for him as he would be a comfort to them still. When nearly gone he was asked what he wanted. He smiled and pointed upward. To one friend he said, "They tell me you have backslidden; is it true?" "Yes," was the reply. "Well," he said, "you must go back to your first work; the Lord will claim his own." For each he had a message, speaking as one inspired. No doubt he saw beyond the vale as he spoke of the beauties of what he saw beyond the river. We cannot mourn him as lost, he is only gone before. Another bright spirit has joined the heavenly hosts, and we can only remember that he has gone to the Savior whom he loved so well. We can truly say his life was a most lovely one, and his death most grand, and while we sympathize with the bereaved parents, we could not wish him back to suffer again. He suffered a great deal during his long illness but never complained, bearing all with the patience of a saint. He was a member of the United Brethren Church in Christ. Our Master says, "Blessed are they who die in the Lord," and we may rest assured that he has joined the ransomed throng.

The funeral services were held at the house, as some of the family were unable to attend elsewhere. The services were most appropriate and impressive. The Rev. Butler preached a stirring sermon on "The Resurrection." It was a splendid address and was listened with close attention. There were fifty present besides the family. floral offerings were numerous and lovely, as each one brought a tribute to the memory of one so sally beloved.

A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is stilled,
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.
God, in his wisdom, has recalled
The boon His love had given,
And though we mourn our loved one
We'll meet again in Heaven.

A loving friend,
Mrs. M. L. BOON

A CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to thank all the friends who have aided us during the illness of our beloved son. "He who doeth all things we requite you.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. MA

Gowell is always in.

It pays to trade at Gowell's. N. Snow is expected to return from Missouri tonight. He was accompanied by one of his daughters who will visit here this winter. When Mr. Snow returns we expect to get some "statues" the great state of Missouri.

Toledo is to have a new store. Dr. Darnell is fitting a room recently occupied by J. Newlin, and will put in a stock of drugs. He has already a stock which he shipped from Kalama and he will add to this and make complete stock.

The fish mentioned some time since as being taken at Yaquina and which are supposed to be a new and fine species of herring, not before caught on this coast, attracting considerable attention from fish dealers and consumers. They are a very plump fish, much larger and thicker than the mackerel received from the Sound and Alsea. So far only small lots have been received, but Mr. Miller, of Toledo writes to L. L. Schuman that they are now being caught there in large quantities. The fish resemble herring in every particular, some fish dealers maintain that they are not a true herring. If they prove to be as good as they they could be cured as bloaters would take the place of those imported from the East and Europe. Pickled Alaska herring from Killisnoo, are now being received here, and there is considerable demand for them.—Oregonian
