

Two brothers from a North Missouri county appeared at the portals of the St. Joseph insane asylum, one of them to be incarcerated there as a patient, the other having him in charge as far as the asylum. They were dressed very much alike, and the casual observer on the train would not have detected signs of insanity in either. When the keeper appeared each insisted that he had brought the other. The asylum man was in a quandary. He chatted with his visitors until a late hour, and then locked them in a room together. Then he telegraphed the authorities at the town where the brothers lived: "Two men arrived from your town today; both dressed alike; one calls himself Bill and talks about constructing an air line to the moon; the other goes by the name of Dave and advocates the gold standard. Which shall I keep?—Exchange.

Quiet a few people have said that the way to a man's heart was by the stomach route, and it is too true that if the stomach is abused the whole body at once gets out of repair. One of the most useful accomplishments in the world is to be a good cook. Recognizing this fact the managers of the Oregon Industrial Exposition in Portland have engaged Miss Tracy to give free cooking lectures at the exposition building every day from Sept. 22 to Oct. 22.

It no doubt was useful to the republican party to demonstrate, even for a short time, that silver and wheat had parted company, but Mr. Levi Z. Leiter who has just paid six and a half million dollars that his son Joe spent to demonstrate it, probably thinks the price is too high. About one month ago my child, which is fifteen months old, had an attack of diarrhoea accompanied by vomiting. I gave it such remedies as are usually given in such cases, but as nothing gave relief, we sent for a physician and it was under his care for a week. At this time the child had been sick for about ten days and was having about twenty-five operations of the bowels every twelve hours, and we were convinced that unless it soon obtain relief it would not live. An Arkansas editor explains his position as follows: Our aim—Tell the truth though the heavens take a tumble. Our paper—Of the people, for the people, to be paid by the people. Our religion—Orthodox, with a belief in hell for delinquent subscribers. Our motto—Take all in sight and rustle for more. Our policy—To love our friends and brimstone our enemies. If thine enemy smite thee on one cheek, swipe him with haste and dexterity at the butt of the most convenient ear. What we advocate—One country, one flag, one wife—at a time. Our object—To live in pomp and oriental splendor.

Mrs. Twiss, a dressmaker of Baker City, was about dead after an illness of several months, when the doctor took about 15 feet of thread from her stomach. She had carelessly swallowed it at different times while at her work.—Ex.

A black and white portrait of a man with curly hair, wearing a high-collared coat, likely a military officer. The man is looking slightly to the left of the viewer. The portrait is rendered in a sketchy, etched style.
