PUT OUT AS A FEELER.

A few days since Governor Lord allowed himself to be interviewed on the question of an extra session of the legislature to be called this fall, and expressed the belief that that when a United States senator is to be elected, and railroad commissioners, etc., selected forty days is not long enough time to transact the business. Further on in the interview the governor said "it was doubtful whether the legislature at its regular session would have time enough in forty days to dispose of all the public business that would come before it, as a large part included transactions which belonged to the legislature which failed to organize, and he was desirous of turning over his administration with its affairs settled and disposed of."

Governor Lord is a pretty sly old fellow, and this interview was allowed in order to get an expression from the people of their approval or disapproval of an extra session. It has probably had the effect he desired, for a vigorous protest will go up from everybody who is not interested in boodle, against the calling of an extra session. There could be no hope of any remedial legislation being enacted except the passage of an appropriation bill for general expenses. This would save the interest for a few months on warrants now outstanding, but the saving would be small in comparison with the expenses of an extra session. Had the governor desired to save public expenses by reconvening the legislature, he would have done so early last year, and not have waited until the state has had all the burdens of interest piled upon it, and then call a session to increase the burden. The people generally, regardless of party will oppose any legislature being called prior to the regular session of 1899.

There are more people at the Bay this season than for many years past and the visitors, it is said, are making their stay longer than usual, on account of a general reduction in the cost of living there. The crowded condition of the west-bound C. & E. cars gives them the appearance of a 4th of July excursion train. Large crowds from both north and south are transferred at Albany from the S. P. trains, while the west-side tourists take the C. & E. at Corvallis. Since the 15th of last month 333 pieces of baggage have been transferred from the S. P. depot at this point to the C. & E. There were checked during the same period about 400 pieces of baggage belonging to people starting westward from Corvallis.—Times.

In spite of the pending peace proposals the Spanish troops at Manila tried to force back the American troops in the strong position at Malate by attacking them. They as usual mistook the metal of the American soldier and after several fierce assaults were obliged to retire before the galling fire of our brave boys, with a loss of upwards of 200 killed and 300 wounded. On our side was 13 killed and 47 wounded. The Spaniards had 5000 in the engagement. Our troops consisted of the First battalion, California volunteers; Tenth Pennsylvania; First battalion, U. S.—Third artillery, regulars; and Utah battery. The fight was a sharp one and indicates the true spirit of the American soldiers.

IT IS COLLECTOR CROSNO.

One more plum has fallen from the tree of federal patronage in Lincoln county, and our townsman, Hon. C. B. Crosno, was the lucky man into whose outstretched hands it tumbled. And while Mr. Crosno and his friends are rejoicing, it is no stretch of truth and veracity to say that there are several other applicants that are disappointed, and no doubt some of them have still worse feelings about the matter.

This office is the last federal office in this county to be filled by the present administration, unless they go after the postmaster at Elk City, and one or two other small places. The collector's office at Yaquina bring $1,000 cold cash to the holder of that important position, and as the most arduous duties that are to be performed are making out reports and drawing the salary attached to the office one can readily see that it was a very desirable position to get into. No deputy is needed in the affairs of the office.

The bond required of the office is $10,000, and the government will accept either a bond made up of private individuals, or one made by one of the duly recognized surety companies.

Mr. Crosno stated to a LEADER man this week that he intended making his bond and taking charge of the office at once. He has not decided just where he will reside yet, but will probably move to Newport in the spring.

Hon. Jas. Ball, who will soon put an "ex" before his name, was appointed collector of customs in 1894, and has filled the office very acceptably during a term of four years.

It is safe to say that the government business will continue to be in careful and conservative hands while Mr. Crosno holds it.

The following from the Florence West smells fishy: Fred Rowe saw a deer the other day and shot at it. It dropped, but soon appeared to jump up again, and Fred pumped two or three more shots at it and it dropped again. Yet again it jumped up and Fred fired again and it dropped again. He waited a minute to see if the hard-lived critter would get up again, and then went over to where it had been and found three dead deer. Fred and several of his neighbors have been feasting on venison since.

The administration is said to be much incensed because the native officials in Cuba are opposed to receiving U. S. silver money at more than fifty cents on the dollar. How inconsistent these patriotic gold standard fellows are! Haven't they been declaring for eight years past that the silver dollar is worth but fifty cents—and these unsophisticated Cubans thought they really meant it!—Roseburg Plaindealer.

The Rev. W. B. Costley, of Stockbridge, Ga., while attending to his pastoral duties at Ellenwood, that state, was attacked by cholera morbus. He says: "By chance I happened to get hold of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and I think it was the means of saving my life. It relieved me at once." For sale by O. O. Krogstad, Druggist.
