INCOLN COUNTY LEADER.

—W. L. DAVIS, Editor.—

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1898.

LOCAL IN BRIEF

A woodland Rebuff.

"Where are you going, my pretty maid?"
"I'm going a nu ting, sir," she said.
"Can I go with you, my pretty maid?"
"I can't stand your chestnuts, sir," she said.

Winter is most here.

Only 27 days till Thanksgiving.

B. F. Jones returned from Albany last night.

Judge Stewart went to the Agency Tuesday on business.

Martin Berry of Newport, was a Tuesday visitor in Toledo.

The Ontario News, after six months of labor, has ceased.

W. H. Buoy & Co. are packing apples for the 'Frisco market.

Dr. J. F. Turner came over from the Siletz agency yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Renus Arnold returned on her visit to Portland Friday evening.

Beal Gaither and wife spent Sunday with their son, J. S. Gaither, Yaquina.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Owen departed for their Independence home yesterday morning.

Attorney Jones went to Albany on business Tuesday morning, to be absent several days.

The Scandinavians living in this vicinity held religious services at the Methodist church yesterday.

Salmon fishing will soon be a thing of the past. The run this year was fast and furious, but short.

Mrs. Job Arnold and Al Waugh's girls returned from their visit to long friends at Eugene Friday night.

Mr. Needham, a nephew of Mrs. L. Gowell, arrived from Shedd's Tuesday and will remain here this week.

A restaurant will be opened Tuesday by J. H. Crawford, who lives near Elk City. We wish him success.

If you don't read THE LEADER, you don't get the news. $1.50.

Mrs. F. M. Wadsworth who has been visiting friends at Eugene for a fortnight past, returned Saturday evening.

Plowing and seeding are being pushed zealously about Dallas these days. Next year's acreage will be a "cracker."

Advertisers in the LEADER do the business. Judicious advertising invariably bespeaks the rustling business man.

John Daly who lived on King's Slough, went to Salem last week to accept a position at the State Reform school.

Henry Gannon is raising the sidetrack in town today, and that part already done looks oh, so much better than formerly.

San Francisco and Spokane were connected by telephone last week. Talk was plainly heard the entire distance of 1,300 miles.

Charley Emigh, mate on the T. M. Richardson, fell last week, striking on a cavel on the deck, and broke two of his ribs.

Attorney C. E. Hawkins did legal business in Albany Monday and Tuesday. "Hawkey" is a rustler and has a nice business.

Capt. Frank Plummer, who has been absent for a month seeking health in California, returned last evening looking much improved.

From Jonesboro, Indiana, comes a request for a LEADER. Mr. Pearson has traded for land here and will come on in the near future.

Miss Julia Taylor departed Monday morning for the bedside of her mother at Philomath. Mrs. Ed. Stanton fills her position in the school.

Bushnell & Mahon, prune growers of Lane county have plans made to build a drier for next season's crop that will hold 1,700 bushels of prunes at once.

Mr. Olson, one of our solid farmers, was a Tuesday caller at this office. He is a wide-awake farmer and we were glad to make his acquaintance.

Chester Dixon came down from Elk City Wednesday on business and while here made this office a call and ordered the LEADER to visit his home a year.

Jay Van Cleve departed on the steamer Navara yesterday for San Francisco to visit his brother, Bert, who is employed by a phonograph company in that city.

Even the glorious climate of California cannot surpass today.

George Burch, proprietor of the Yaquina Bay Crabbery of Newport is in the city today.

Peter Schirmer of Wright Creek is in our city today on business.

Jack Rader, the very same Jack, returned from the mines last evening. He wanted to tell us all about that country but time would not allow and the description was postponed.

The News is authority for the following: Mrs. Alice C. Peairs, of Toledo, Or., has been appointed matron of the Western Shoshone Indian school, Nevada, at $500 per annum.

Rev. Charles Booth and wife who have spent a month at the front among the grand Cascades as a period of vacation returned Friday and stopped over one day to visit friends here.

Mr. Ed Owen and wife arrived from Independence Saturday evening to visit for a few days with Uncle Hop. Mr. Owen reports business as having been excellent in his town this fall.

We will buy all the apples that are offered, in trade, at 25 ct. per bushel. YAQ. BAY MERC. CO.

If you want good bread go to Fish's Store for your flour. He has the leading brands, Perfection, Golden Crown and Magnolia.

We would call the public's special attention to the extra quality of our shorts, chop and flour, if not better than any other in the market we would not say so.

YAQ. BAY MERC. CO.

Lester Waugh is improving very rapidly now, sitting up about half the day. His appetite is—well its astonishing, that's all. He has been a very sick man, but we shall have him again on our streets ere long.

An informal choir rehearsal was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Stewart last night and next Friday evening the regular rehearsal will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Buoy. All singers are invited.

Mrs. Jack McCullum of Newport, put kindling on top of her stove to dry one night last week and awoke later to find a miniature bonfire on the stove and the house full of smoke. A pail of water quickly applied saved her house.

Our readers will be pleased to learn that M. L. Trapp's family has come to live among us again. The family moved from the Chitwood home Monday and is now domiciled in the Huntsucker residence just above Mr. Brazleton's.

W. J. Bilyeu and family, who came here to conduct a restaurant about a month ago, departed for their old home near Aumsville Wednesday morning. Mrs. Bilyeu was not able to do the necessary work we understand. Sorry to lose them so soon.

J. W. Flowers of Newport, departed for Lewiston, Maine, Monday morning. He goes to assist in manufacturing some of his patents which parties there are about to purchase. He is a pattern maker and can facilitate the manufacture by being on the ground and making the patterns.

WANTED—Estimates for sinking a 100-foot shaft. Enquire of B. F. JONES, Toledo, Or.

A complete stock of $8.80 and $9.90 suits always on exhibition at the Yaquina Bay Mercantile Co's store.

Hon. Thos. H. Tongue visited his friends at Newport the last of the week. Everybody in this part of his district is much pleased to see him as they appreciate the hard work he did to properly and successfully lay our improvement demands before congress. At the time of his election few thought he could secure this legislation, try he never so hard.

Felix Fremerey, the Portland hemp expert, was in town the first of the week making contracts with our farmers for next year's acreage of hemp. We understand he secured one hundred acres in this vicinity, and we hope the matter of hemp growing may be of greatest value to our farmers.

BORN—Saturday, October 22, 1898, to the wife of Mr. Jay Dunn, a girl, weight 5 pounds. Grandpa Dick says he caught Jay out back of the woodshed whispering "papa" to himself to see how it would sound, but as he was somewhat excited himself, we cannot vouch for him.

November first there will be no saloon either in Lebanon or Harrisburg. The Junction City Times adds this to the news: "The two villages above mentioned will now be watched with some interest as to whether their morals will be improved and new churches built or whether the towns will decay and become burdened with moss."

It is worth one's time to examine the immense stock of goods now piled up in the Yaquina Bay Mercantile's ware room and on their shelves. To one not knowing the volume of their business it would seem enough to last them a year, but really in ninety days more will have to be ordered. When you have a spare moment call and look their stock over.

While Hon. T. H. Tongue was in Toledo, Messrs. F. M. Wadsworth and H. R. Sturdevant gave him an informal banquet at the Toledo Hotel, after which timely remarks were made by those present upon subjects important to the welfare of our town and county. It was a very pleasant affair, and seemingly much enjoyed by all present.

For Sale or Rent.

A farm of 50 acres between Toledo and Newport on county road. For price and terms apply to R. F. RAINES, Toledo, Oregon.

The bright star in the constellation of flour brands is and has been for years, the Red Crown brand. We sell it. Y. B. M. Co.

Patronize home enterprise and home merchants. Don't you know that we sell clothing cheaper than traveling fakes? Y. B. M. Co.

Nortons Notes.

We've us are all busy here at Nortons, digging potatoes, picking apples, plowing, etc.

Jim Brown's gang of bridge carpenters is working here this week repairing C. & E. railroad bridges.

M. L. Glass has sold his Big Elk ranch, and bought some land of H. S. Porter.

E. H. Bryant, who had his arm broken on the C. & E. last week is at home. His arm doing nicely.

W. L. Price, a Kings Valley stockman, bought a band of sheep from H. S. Porter, N. F. Edward and others last week. It takes money to buy sheep these days.

Earl Sherk went to Chitwood last week to teach school, but returned home on account of the children having the whooping cough.

J. W. Bryant took his wife visiting Sunday evening, (something he hardly ever does,) and when he got home the stairs were on fire and a partition partly burned out of the house. It is Joe's nature to work more for his own interests than for others, so with hard work he got the fire put out. If he had let his house burn down ye scribe could have written a half column item telling how sorry we all are and about Joe being a public spirited, hard working man, but he is not a friend of the printer and we will not mention it.

If Joe Price didn't change his mind so often ye scribe would have a wedding to write up. And that other couple that have been looking sideways at each other for so long might as well get married. Ye scribe spoke to the girl about it the other day and she said she was going to live to be an old maid and didn't thank me for my advice.

PRO BONO PUBLICO.

Waldport Items.

Mr. and Mrs. George Read and Mrs. Daisy Hosford, of Siletz, are visiting in Waldport and vicinity. As they formerly resided here 'tis like "Auld lang Syne."

C. R. Evens returned from an extended trip to Eastern Oregon. Judging from the way the boys come meandering around the Alsea country has as many attractions as the balance of creation.

Messrs. Chas. and J. E. Allen and families returned to their farms from the Valley on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Goin and Mrs. Kent are again city residents, after a summer tour on the banks of the Willamette.

Postmaster C. L. Diven made a flying trip to the Alsea flour mills between last week and this.

Ex-Assessor Silas Howell was over from his goat range on North Fork of Yachats last week. The goat men of that region brag that it will raise more pounds of fleece to the goat than e'er another range on "God's green earth."

Rumor says the cannery is again short on tin for cans. 'Tis an algebraical problem, given; tin "quantum suff." help in ratio, and the desire to make a record, just how many cases of salmon could be put up on the raging Alsea.

I. R. Gault of Tidewater, is suffering from a serious attack of dropsy. His recovery is likely to be a tedious matter.

R. Trenholm of Fall Creek, now carries the U. S. mail from Alsea postoffice to Tidewater.

REPORTER.

Our recently received stock of clothing which consists of a solid ton of ready made clothes, is always on exhibition. Y. B. M. Co.
