The Treaty of Paris.

Extraordinary precautions are maintained by both the peace commissions to preserve secrecy as to the contents of the treaty. Each commission has two copies but even the commission attaches are not permitted to peruse the documents. The correspondent of the Associated Press, however, has obtained from a source usually reliable the following outline of the treaty:

Article 1 provides for the relinquishment of Cuba.

Article 2 provides for the cession of Porto Rico.

Article 3 provides for the cession of the Philippines for $20,000,000 as compensation.

Article 4 embraces the plans for the cession of the Philippines, including the return of the Spanish prisoners now in the hands of the Tagalos.

Article 5 deals with the cession of barracks, war materials, arms, stores, building, and all property pertaining to the Spanish administration in the Philippines.

Article 6 is a renunciation by both nations of the respective claims against each other and the citizens of each other.

Article 7 grants to Spanish trade and shipping in the Philippines the same treatment as to American trade and shipping for a period of 10 years.

Article 8 provides for the release of all prisoners of war held by Spain and of all prisoners held by her for political offenses committed in the colonies acquired by the United States.

Article 9 guarantees the legal rights of Spaniards remaining in Cuba.

Article 10 establishes religious freedom in the Philippines and guarantees to all churches equal rights.

Article 11 provides for the composition of courts and other tribunals in Porto Rico and Cuba.

Article 12 provides for the administration of justice in Porto Rico and Cuoa.

Article 13 provides for the continuance for five years of Spanish copyrights in the ceded territory, giving Spanish books admittance free of duty.

Article 14 provides for the establishment of consulates by Spain in the ceded territory.

Article 15 grants to Spanish commerce in Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines the same treatment as to America for 10 years. Spanish shipping to be treated as coasting vessels.

Article 16 stipulates that the obligations of the United States to Spanish citizens and property in Cuba shall terminate with the withdrawal of the United States authorities from the island.

Article 17 provides that the treaty must be ratified within six months from the date of signing by the respective governments in order to be binding.

In the death of Col. T. E. Hogg last week, Yaquina Bay lost a man whose life hobby terminated in her waters. Though hated by some people, his work has been the means of advancing this neck of the wood beyond sister places. For this work, then, give him due credit.
