OF INTEREST TO EVERYBODY.

Agent Buford was a Monday visitor in this city, doubtless looking after the interest of his wards.

Sunday was a corker. The wind howled and rain fell in sheets all day long. God pity the old tar who was on watch Saturday night.

Rev. Chas. Booth held services in the Episcopal church Sunday morning and evening, much to the pleasure of his little flock. He returned home Monday evening.

Sheriff Ross spent Monday in the eastern part of the county summoning jurors for next week's session of circuit court. He went to Newport in the evening on the same errand.

Twelve Florida possums were turned loose near Scio recently for the purpose of finding whether they will live and thrive here. Should they do well, Oregonians will soon have the opportunity of knowing whether the darkies' love for possum meat has been over sung.

Four weeks have passed since A. K. Handy was lost in the mountains that lie between Falls City and the Siletz and no trace has been found. His friends have almost given up and yet they are scouring the woods in hopes of stumbling upon some traces of him. The snow there is four feet deep.

W. T. Webber came up from Newport Friday to look after the sale of his property under a foreclosure of mortgage by L. W. Williams the following day. Geo. H. Williams of Portland purchased Lee's interest in the property and in this manner the matter was settled and Will seems to breathe easier. At noon Monday he was still in this city, but returned that afternoon, report says.

Chauncy Trapp pulled through this place headed eastward on a railroad bicycle Saturday. Now there is nothing unusual in Chauncy's visiting Yaquina to be present at Friday night meetings of Odd Fellows, but he seldom travels in this manner, hence an opinion was expressed that he must have overslept and missed the morning train. How was it, Chauncy?

Doc Wakefield was a Monday visitor at this office. He has been kept pretty close to his home for several weeks by sickness, but, being better, came down to attend to business here. Mr. Wakefield is one of our enthusiastic fruit growers and stock raisers and is ever working to advance the interests of these industries. He is now working to have our legislature pass a law making it obligatory upon shippers to correctly label all fruit especially as to the locality where raised. Labeling our fruit in Eastern markets as California fruit has not only resulted in the discouragement of our fruit growers, because there was but little market for their fruit, in past years, but it has been the means of keeping from this state emigration which comes west to find a fruit growing climate, and pouring it into the state of California. Thousands of good homes are not in Oregon today because of this deception of Eastern people and it is high time it was stopped. It is to be hoped that Doc will succeed in securing the passage of such a law.

Our sick people are one by one appearing on the streets again, but they all look as though they had been out the night or two before.

Joe Ewing spent the Sabbath with his parents near this place. Monday he returned to Newport and went at once to the Life Saving station to cook for the crew during the vacation of Fred Chambers. Fred has to be here during court week as a witness and will also visit his mother on the Agency before returning to work.

The British ship Adalana cap-sized in Tacoma harbor Saturday night and seventeen lives were lost—all on board. No one knew of the accident till day light.

Mark Twain says: "The czar is in favor of disarmament and so am I. There ought to be no difficulty about the rest of the world." Even serious matters are humorous when viewed properly.

The trial of Mate Harvey, of the American ship George Stetson, accused of beating Amos Stone into imbecility while on a voyage from Philadelphia to this port about a year ago, was concluded in Portland yesterday. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty after being out four hours. Stone is yet confined in the insane asylum, with but little hopes for his recovery.—Astorian, 14th.

An amusing incident occurred on Commercial street Friday afternoon. McEwen, the hypnotist, had placed a person in a cataleptic state in the window of Peterson & Brown, and a crowd had gathered near the store. One of the men in the crowd freely remarked that McEwen was a "fake," and that the person in the window was not in a cataleptic state, but that he also was "faking." McEwen happened along, and unknown to the man who was roasting him, listened to his abuse for a few minutes. Then, walking up to the man, he introduced himself, snapped his fingers in the person's face and informed him that he had lost his voice and could not speak. The man was dumb as an oyster, but he ceased his roast when McEwen brought him back to his normal condition. Doubtless he will not soon again roast hypnotists as "fakers."—Astorian.

Mrs. Bert R. Betz, wife of Prof. Betz, superintendent of the Indian school, at Siletz, called upon the following named parties during the past week for a contribution, and cheerfully and liberally they responded to the call, and presented to us last Sabbath, as a token of their appreciation of our services, thirty-three dollars: Maj. T. J. Buford, Dr. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Betz, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Kightlinger, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Center, Mr. and Mrs. Boland, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Lane, Mrs. C. G. Copeland, Miss Holms, Miss Miller, Miss Krugar, Miss James, Mr. Strong and Mr. Depoe. This was a delightful surprise to us, and more than the money, we appreciate the good will and God bless you expressed in the gift. A more social, friendly and charitable people it would be difficult to find, and we enjoy the hospitality accorded us in their homes. We thank one and all for this encouragement and help, and are deeply gratified for this act of kindness.

REV. E. H. BRYANT.
