HEYWORTH IN WASHINGTON.

Oregon Contractor Anxious to Go Ahead With Yaquina Improvement.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Mr. Heyworth, of the firm of Christy, Lowe & Heyworth, who contracted for the Yaquina improvement, is in Washington endeavoring to have the work carried on in accordance with the contract, which he claims was duly made. He desires to know why the contract has not been signed by the secretary of war. He says that both bonds and contract were signed and forwarded by the firm long ago, and that after five weeks' delay, were returned for the purpose of inserting the word "and" in the firm name after Lowe. That they were then returned with the statement that the contract was all right. Now the firm has received word that there is some imperfection in the contract. They feel that they are being dealt with unjustly, and the delay has been made purposely for the object of defeating the contract. Mr. Heyworth, with Representative Tongue and other members of the delegation, is going before the secretary of war tomorrow in the hopes of having the matter straightened up. Heyworth, being a personal friend of Secretary Gage, may receive some assistance from the treasury department.—Oregonian, of the 7th.

OF INTEREST TO EVERYBODY.

Jack McCullum passed through this place Monday evening enroute for Newport from the Valley.

Sinslaw parties are trying to buy the mill machinery at Mill 4 to take the place of that recently burned at Acme.

Moses Gregson, our manufacturer of all grades of lumber, returned from a visit to Corvallis and Philomath Saturday evening.

N. A. Gallatly, a Blodget cattle feeder, was in town Tuesday after a car of stock which Albert Meaker was to deliver to him.

Fourteen ladies attended the Club Saturday night and enjoyed the evening immensely if countenances are to be read as reflecting emotions. Mr. Bogue is to be congratulated.

Jas. E. Allen, was a visitor in this city from Waldport the latter part of last week, too late for publication. He will tell you that we have one of the most accommodating railroad agents "what is."

T. W. Gorman visited our city Monday, returning in the evening. He has been without THE LEADER for several weeks and on this visit it was ordered sent to him for another year. He said his girls could not get along without the LEADER. Ladies accept our sincere thanks.

The LEADER cannot keep track of Dr. Carter these days unless he follows the section foreman's form of reporting derailed trains on a certain portion of his section which was something like this, "Off again, on again, gone again,—Finigan." He came from Elk Monday evening.

Monday morning quite a number of our citizens were nursing bland-and-blue spots which were liberally scattered about over their limbs and body, in consequence of Sunday's coasting down the Bethers hill. There was a goodly crowd present of the elite of the city, a sprinkling of the small boy and plenty of noise. One of our leading attorney's boys was out early Monday morning in quest of a pair of crutches. But it was a "glorious victory."

Mrs. King, Mrs. C. B. Crono's mother who has been visiting here for several weeks, returned to her Oak Creek home the later part of last week.

Twenty-seven drummers were down with la grippe in one hotel at Walla Walla last week. The hotel man's life was not all roses those days, we'll warrant.

Jno. Forgarty, Sr., of Far Far, came to our city Tuesday to transact business before the probate court connected with the estate of Herman Benke, whose lunacy and subsequent death at the asylum is well known to a majority of our readers. He reports everything quiet in his vicinity. He is of the opinion that our government appropriation is a lost cause, and believes it is so partly because of impotent labor and negligence of Mr. Thos. H. Tongue. Mr. Forgarty returned the same evening to his home.

Bro. Soule is putting too much stress upon the truthfulness of Tug items. Why, bless his soul, there isn't a democratic or populist paper in the county; how can he expect anything but the purest, unalloyed, glittering, quintessence of truth in a republican paper. Of course, Bro. Van says funny things that need a little fiction to make them sound well, and Bro. Mathews says cutting things about Alsea people and division questions, but Bro. Sober of THE LEADER deals in nothing but absolutely bald-headed truths.

At the general meeting of the Bellamy Co-Operative Association last week the following officers were elected: President, B. Tonder; vice president, Nils J. Matre; secretary, O. A. Tveitmo; treasurer, O. A. Pederson. Two new members were admitted, and the resignation of one member accepted. The Board of Directors of the Association is composed of nine members, eight of them being now residents of Oregon and the ninth is at present on a visit to Norway, but will arrive here early next summer. Financially the Association has made a very creditable showing the last year, and it starts out on its second year with renewed determination to succeed—and it will succeed.
