OF INTEREST TO EVERYBODY.

Jack Miller spent Tuesday in our city.

Drew Severy was in town from the Agency Sunday.

The Ladies Aid Society meets at the home of Mrs. Jones next Tuesday.

Chas. Wooding was up from Pools Slough Tuesday smiling and pleasant as usual.

Scott Lane, known to everybody, was seen on our streets Tuesday and seemed full of business.

Foreman Gannon suffered from an attack of pneumonia Saturday but soon got the best of it.

William Watkins of Yaquina, was a sojourner in our city Monday returning on the passenger.

The Misses Lulu Burt and Elsie Martin returned from a visit to Newport Monday morning.

Dr. Tatom arrived Monday evening and went at repair work the next day. As a D. D. S. he's all right.

Mrs. George Bethers returned to her Newport home Monday after having spent several days visiting among friends here.

George Baumann, one of our lumber manufacturers, departed for Summit and Corvallis Monday morning on business. He returned Wednesday evening.

Saturday morning at Corvallis, the wife of Rev. J. B. Kelly, while in a somnambulist state, fell down some stairs and broke her neck. She lived an hour and a half after her fall.

Our regular trains have been hauling some very large loads recently. Some five or six steamer loads of wheat from the Willamette are being shipped to Frisco over this line by the steamer Weeot.

John Forgarty Jr., who has been a member of the Yaquina Life Saving crew since its organization, departed Monday morning for Alaska, where he has secured a position. His friends wish him Bon Voyage and success.

The Albany Tanning Company filed articles of incorporation in the secretary of state's office Monday. The capital is $3,000, and the principal office will be located in Albany. The incorporators are: J. T. Shea, Albert Sternberg and S. L. Riley.

A despatch from Washington says Col. Mansfield, Capt. Taylor and Capt. Harts, were appointed to examine Yaquina harbor and report as to the advisability of its improvement because, being unacquainted with the project, they were more able to render a just decision.

Agent T. Jay Buford rode in from Siletz Monday afternoon on business. He seems to be wearing the additional honors of M. D. very gracefully and the rate of mortality among his patients is, if anything, decreasing. He departed for his duties Tuesday morning. The Indian department at Washington always gives T. Jay what he requests and the improvement of the government buildings always show his having been agent. It is a fine position to occupy, this standing well with the department, and THE LEADER congratulates Agent Buford.

The Oregon arrived in Manila Saturday. Dewey can sleep now; the Oregon will do the rest.

The Columbia river at Astoria is reported as full of chinook salmon, promising a good year's catch.

Sunday morning the Grange hall, a large two-story building which stood about ten miles south of Corvallis was burned, supposedly by incendiaries.

The long talked of special edition of the Walla Walla Statesman is at last before us and fully comes up to the point of excellence promised by its publisher. As an advertisement of Walla Walla city and the valley it cannot be excelled, for it is filled from cover to cover with valuable data and truthful descriptive matter. Send a copy to your friends in the East.

St. Patrick's day passed quietly in our city, only one altercation taking place. As usual it was whisky did it. Al Waugh made the assertion that Jack Allphin drank 138 drinks to celebrate the day. Jack denied it and a scrap would have ensued if it had not been that Sam Owen was present. He told Al he was mistaken and told also where the mistake was made in the count and this averted a bloody encounter and the consequent breaking of an old friendship.

Rev. and Mrs. Chas. Booth came up from Newport Saturday morning to pack their books, furniture, etc., preparatory to moving to Grants Pass in a few weeks, and also to conduct divine services Sabbath. This gentleman and his estimable wife have lived at Newport twelve years continuously and feel that a change of climate for a year will greatly benefit the health of both, as the best oculists of the state tell Rev. Booth a change is almost a necessity if he would benefit his eyes. Hence the change.

Perry Belmont, president of the Democratic club of New York City, and Col. W. J. Bryan are having a wordy tilt over which one is the better democrat. They are as far apart as the antipodes, yet both claim Jefferson as their patron saint. Meantime the world reads their telegrams and smiles. A re-organization of the democratic party must soon take place and when it does, the Bryanites will go with the Populists and ten years hence they will be found in some other party with a new name and a new hobby. This is their past history and it will certainly repeat itself.

The board of directors of the Corvallis school district, at a special meeting last night, accepted an offer from a San Francisco investment company of a reduction of 1 per cent on the interest rate on outstanding school bonds. The amount of the outstanding bonds, not including one bond of $1,000, for payment of which provision has been made, is $12,000. The offer comes from the corporation that now holds the bonds. The present interest rate is 6 per cent, payable semiannually, and the reduction makes it 5 per cent. The reduction is the result of an agitation looking to the refunding of the debt at a lower rate of interest. The reduction to 5 per cent was made by the bondholders to prevent loss of the investment.—Stolen.

If you don't read THE LEADER you don't get the news. $1.50.
