OF INTEREST TO EVERYBODY.

Mrs. Brumfield moved the last of the week into the Nate Stevens house.

Rev. I. Dawson visited Chitwood and Elk City people Saturday and reported a pleasant day.

Mrs. S. E. Russell came from Yaquina Tuesday to transact business in the probate court.

Simeon Schmeer, a well known Portland traveling man and cousin of our landlord, spent Monday in our city.

Our druggist, Otto Krogstad, now resides in the Rectory by St. Johns church, having vacated the Trapp residence last week.

Altree Bro's shipped their first car of live cedar lumber to Eugene Monday. As soon as roads become passable these shipments will be of frequent occurrence.

Yaquina's furniture dealer, J. N. Stark, was a business visitor Tuesday business visitor. He tells a bad story on Hurley while at Salem but we won't repeat it.

The Myrtle Point Enterprise tells of an accident to Warren Deyoe, in which he was shot in the forearm and will lose two fingers and part of the use of his left arm.

B. F. Grant, one of the most prosperous stock raisers on the upper waters of Elk river, was in our city Tuesday paying his taxes. He came by way of Drift creek and returned the same day.

Messrs. Geo. Brown and Ale Catfish, of Siletz, with their families, departed Saturday morning for Chemawa to visit friends. George may move to Portland to live if work is obtained there.

Sunday's excursion was about the size of the first one each year. Saturday's weather promised a good day Sunday but a heavy fog hung over the landscape when the excursion train arrived. Very few of our citizens went.

Mrs. Will Ford and Bob started for their new home near Dallas Saturday morning. She leaves a large circle friends in this place. Thus people change about, seldom bettering their condition, and ever leaving the old friends and places for the new. May success follow them wherever they go.

C. E. Loomis, government land inspector, arrived Monday night to look after the unlawful gathering of chittim bark from trees on government land. His arrival caused quite a commotion and a great deal of talk of the harmless kind here but Mr. Loomis and his department did not cease work.

C. E. Hawkins and Old Man LEADER went to Chitwood Saturday to angle for the festive trout. Quite a number were led out during the day. The water was cold, but each wore gum boots and did not get wet—until they fell down. S-s-s—pl! but 'twas hard to breathe properly, and Hawkins almost burst before he stopped drawing in his breath.

J. W. Flowers of Newport, who left here last fall to go to Klondike gold fields, but later found himself in the state of Maine, instead, returned home Saturday. He has been quite seriously ill all winter, many times longing for the mild and somewhat salubrious climate of "Old Webfoot." That mining claim on the head waters of Bonanza creek is still waiting his happy coming by and bye.

Mark Savage, the piano man, departed for Salem Saturday. While in our little city he has sold two pianos and two organs. Dr. R. E. Darnell and J. L. Hyde purchased a Ludwig each, and Austin Altreet an organ. It is a good indication to see our citizens desire to make better and more pleasant their homes. Bad citizens seldom come from happy home firesides. Our town is better for having these instruments in it.

One man on Sunday's excursion brought a bottle with him—what? Yes he did, too. And he was going to take it home with him too, but at Yaquina, his feet slipped and he struck on the spot that always strikes first when you sit down that quick, and the bottle broke and cut a great slice of choice ham almost off of him and mixed glass and the whisky and blood with it till the ham wasn't any good, and he had to go back to Newport to have Dr. Warren stop the flow of blood.

BORN.

ALTREE.—To the wife of J. Clarence Altree, Wednesday, May 29, a son of—well, Doc says it just tipped the beam at 49 pounds.

At last reports Clarence was better and the same could be said of most.
