EDITORIAL AND COMMENT.

A number of our counties have declared their taxes delinquent and turned the rolls over for collection. In this matter our county court erred for several years. The tax of one year should be collected, the roll cleared before the following assessment is made. It may seem hard in some individual cases but it is the only way an indebted county can ever become free from debt and prosperous. The delinquent roll of 1895 is still with Sheriff Ross. Some $8000 was left him to collect. Other taxpayers who have paid their taxes are burdened with paying the state tax on this amount for the past three years and again this year will have to do the same. Much has been spent in an endeavor to collect these taxes, too, and yet, year after year the same property appears on the roll and taxpayers are alarmed at the increased rate of taxation when they step up and pay state taxes on the land, while they or the county receive no benefit from its possession. The delinquent rolls of '95, '96, '97 and '98 should be settled and the account closed this fall, and in future the tax should be collected and the roll done away with each year, making a great saving in money to the county and taking from the sheriff a great load of worry, inconvenience and labor for which the county receives nothing.

Last session of court was a trying one for County Judge Stewart and his colleagues. J. B. Zeigler had a grievance and aired it as usual, taking the opportunity to give Judge Stewart a round cursing, for which he should have been heavily fined. Over a just rebate of taxes, Z. S. Derrick became indignant and a suit at law would have resulted had not the court come to terms. A bill of the county surveyor was also causing some dispute and it will have to be settled or costs will be added which some one will have to pay. Judge Stewart realizes that the path of a county judge is not a bed of roses alone, but contains a goodly number of hidden thorns. A judge cannot but err. Not to err is divine, and the people make no allowances for motive but criticize severely the facts as they exist, often times having but little knowledge of the facts upon which to base their judgment. The Judge had THE LEADER differ materially in politics and in business policy, yet THE LEADER has thought it best not to criticize and it often wonders how the Judge would like to see such articles concerning his actions as have formerly frequently appeared in these columns concerning the county judge and his court. There has been ample ground for such articles had the disposition behind the pen been the same as formerly. It is not. It sees no benefit to its readers, to the Judge or to itself. It also sees that from these same articles before mentioned has sprung hard feelings, enmities, dissensions and strife that will not be eradicated for years, and no one good thing. In regard to its treatment of all these errors and differences THE LEADER believes it is superior to THE LEADER of other days; is above party in its treatment of facts as they occur, endeavoring constantly to better the condition of its county, its people and its town.

To those who are worrying about trusts, their ponderous strength and the evil uses to which they are put, the following news from the Albany Herald may be of great benefit: The Indiana Supreme court has rendered a decision that a public corporation which entered into a combination with other corporations to destroy competition and thereby increase the price at which an article was sold to the inhabitants of the state becomes liable to a forfeiture of its corporate franchise. The decision is in the case of the state on the relation of a prosecuting attorney against the Portland National Gas & Oil Company. Judge Jordan, of the supreme court, who wrote the decision, says, in part: "When the state seeks to destroy the life of an incorporated body it is expected to show some grave misconduct, some act at least by which it has offended the law of its creation, or something material which tends to produce injury to the public and not merely that which affects only private interests for which other adequate remedies are provided. Where, however, the facts disclose that a corporation has failed in the discharge of its corporate duties by uniting with others in carrying out an agreement, the performance of which is detrimental or injurious to the public, it thereby may be said to offend against the law of its creation and consequently to forfeit its rights to its franchises." The authorities affirm that if the act complained of, by its results, will restrict or stifle competition, the law will regard such an act as incompatible with public policy.

The Daily Press of Grangeville, Idaho, and the Daily Tribune, of Lewiston arrived from J. H. McNiel this week. We note in the Press that the Buffalo Hump group of mines has been bonded for the neat sum of $500,000.

Next week we will publish from Acme, near Florence, a letter concerning Harwood and his famous falsehood. It is crowded out this week.

The mooted election fraud cases of Marion county have at last been dismissed at the instance of the prosecuting attorney Hayden for lack of evidence.

A cyclone Sunday swept the town of New Richmond, Wis.; off the face of the earth. Over 250 people were killed.

Oregon boys started on their home journey Monday, which will land them here about July 10.
