THE LEADER.

—W. L. DAVIS, EDITOR.—

FRIDAY, JUNE 16, 1899.

From L. W. Deyoe.

Albany Herald, 12.

In explanation of a gun accident which recently happened to L. W. Deyoe at Myrtle Point, in which he lost a $150 Lefever gun by an overcharge of Gold Dust powder, Grant Froman of this city is in receipt of the following letter from Mr. Deyoe:

MYRTLE POINT, Ore., 6-7-'99.
Friends and Fellow Citizens:—
Yours received this morning. It found us all well except Warren, and he is improving. I suppose you have heard that he accidentally shot himself very seriously. The charge entered at the left wrist and came out at the elbow, tearing the under side of the forearm entirely away and shot out about one inch of the bone. He is doing nicely and we think we can save his arm.

Now for my experience: I loaded up my shells with 3 drams of Gold Dust powder and walked bravely to the field where pigeons were as thick as grasshoppers, and soon got a shot. Results; kicked about twenty feet, nose bleeding, head almost busted, shoulder nearly broken, and all piled in a heap. But these are nothing. I stood them all bravely but when I hunted up my old Lefever and found a piece three inches long plowed out of the right barrel at the breech and the rib broken, it was more than I could stand, and now I presume I will have a church trial for the language I used, but I couldn't help it.

You know I never used Gold Dust, and to be sure I would make no mistake I went to a sportsman here who had used it and borrowed his measure, and had him set it for me, but I find 45 grains is a good load, instead of 180 grains. My friend was like me when he came to find it out. He had used Shultz and C. E. powders and supposed them to be the same as Gold Dust. But h—! there is a difference and now I know it.

Boys, come out this summer and see us; lots of deer and fair fishing. Give our best regards to all old friends and write often.

Most Truly Yours,
L. W. DEYOE,

Who has used Gold Dust powder.

Nortons Notes.

Nice rain Sunday and Monday. J. W. Price, the champion sheep shearer of Lincoln county, will commence shearing this week.

John Hamar went to Corvallis on business Monday.

Wallis Nash has sold his sheep to Chas. Roher, a herder, and will turn his attention to cattle raising. He received two cars of cattle from the Valley last week.

A. K. Sherk has planted 8 acres of Irish lemons this spring.

A. L. Porter, deputy U. S. surveyor, was with us Wednesday while enroute to his home at Sugar Loaf.

We're going to have a new school house this summer. It will be 30x20 feet and the preliminary work is all done. It will be painted inside and out and have a rooster on top.

More wool, mutton and beef will be shipped from here this summer than any other part of Lincoln Co.

A few of the sheep men have organized a dog and gun club and already have three of the best bear dogs in the county. They have a record of 11 bears out of 12 and will eat anything from a small biscuit to the largest bear in the mountains. All the sheep raisers wear a smile like a Spanish general and are so happy they can hardly contain themselves.

Poor Things.

During the Teachers' Institute last week a little episode happened which is too good to keep, and will mark another epoch in the young man's life. One of Lincoln's most promising young gentleman teachers desired to escort two young ladies who lived not far from town, to our city to enjoy one of the evening programs.

Walking is too common where he lives and he thought a boat ride to and from town would be just the proper thing. So a boat was procured, though the owner warned the young man to keep it well bailed out as it leaked badly.

The two ladies were gallantly assisted to seats and the journey began. Even the young ladies noted that he didn't row like some folks and that the wake their craft made was of a devious, winding character not usually seen.

Near the mouth of the slough one of the young ladies modestly mentioned that the water in the boat was visibly rising and suggested that the pump be started. The young man at once bailed out and again feathered his oars toward town. But little headway was made before the aforementioned young lady spoke again of the water in the boat. The young man again began to bail, but alas, 'twas of little use, more water ran in than he could bail out.

With great presence of mind he had the ladies go to the bow while he heroically knelt and resumed work. This was fruitless and he determined to row ashore, but when he stepped away from the stern to take the oars, the bow, with its precious burden, gracefully and unostentatiously sank beneath the water, luckily not deep at this place. A suppressed scream or two broke the twilight silence, and all was over.

Later three limp forms, covered to the knee with soft, black, clinging tide mud, wandered wearily homeward, and the young gentleman made no allusion to the boat ride, nay, not even to the newspaper reporter.

The artist who is in search of attitudes descriptive of torture, and poses depicting suffering, need not go to the Christian martyrs of old. If he could only see through the walls of homes all over this land, he would see women undergoing tortures in silence without complaining, before which the brief ordeals of the martyrs pale into nothingness. No one but a woman can tell the story of the suffering, the despair, and the despondency endured by women who carry a daily burden of ill-health and pain because of disorders and derangement of the delicate and important organs that are distinctly feminine. One of the worst effects of troubles of this kind is upon the nervous system. The tortures so bravely endured completely and effectually shatter the nerves. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is an unfailing cure for all weakness and disease of the feminine organism. It makes it strong and healthy. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration and soothes pain. It checks exhausting drains and tones and builds up the nerves. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. Good medicine dealers sell it, and have nothing "just as good."

"Since my last child was born, thirteen years ago, I have suffered from uterine trouble," writes Mrs. Paul Devraigne, of Jellico, Campbell Co., Tenn. "I consulted several doctors and took much medicine, but found no relief. I had very bad health for twelve years. Every month I was in bed a week before the monthly period and a week after. I was obliged to keep in bed for four months last summer. I was just like a corpse. I lost twenty-six pounds in four months. I was coughing so much I was considered in consumption. I suffered severely from pains in my back, bearing down pains in the womb, chills and cold sweats. After taking four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery my coughing stopped, and after six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription my periods became regular and were passed without pain. Now I am fleshy, more so than ever before. My neighbors are surprised to see me in such good health after having seen me so low."

Constipation causes and aggravates many serious diseases. It is speedily cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

In Clothing, we have the biggest drive of the season. A good solid woolen suit for $5.00, better grades $6, $7.50 and $10.
