Fall Sown Cabbage for Early Spring Use.

A very rich soil, plentifully manured, is essential for the production of tender succulent cabbage. The ground should be plowed very deep. By so doing the lower portion is turned up to the action of the weather, and substances in the soil previously inert, are thus subjected to a fresh decomposing action, which makes them available for the nourishment of plants.

In order to have heads the first or second week in May, the seed should be sown the first week in August, on properly prepared beds, choosing a situation if possible where they will be shaded from the midday sun.

Never permit the soil to become over dry at any time, carefully watering every evening, giving a good soaking, but avoid giving in such quantities that the water will run on the surface, as this has the tendency to cause the surface of the soil to become caked, thus checking the growth of the plants.

The following varieties are excellent for fall sowing: Extra Early Express, Early Etampes and Early Winningstadt. These varieties may be sown at the same time, each variety coming to maturity in the order named. The plants should be set out the last of September or the beginning of October on well drained soil. They will not thrive where water stands on the surface of the ground.—Oregon Experiment Station.

Weekly Crop and Weather Bulletin. WESTERN OREGON.

Weather.—The mean temperature for the week averaged 62 degrees, which is 3 degrees higher than for the preceding week and the same as the corresponding week last year. Light rain fell on Monday, and on Wednesday a few light, scattering showers occurred over northwestern Oregon. The total rainfall for the week was less than .10 of an inch. The winds were northerly in direction and light to fresh in force.

Crops.—The rains being followed by several days of cool weather, were of great benefit to growing vegetation. Fall-sown grain is in excellent condition; it is turning yellow, and has every promise of being a heavy crop. Spring-sown grain has stood much better than usual; it is growing and is reported to be as promising as it is possible for spring-sown grain to be. Much of the spring grain was sown under adverse circumstances, and unless showers occur at intervals the yield may be reduced. The present prospects are excellent for the grain crop.

Haying continues and all reports indicate that a first-class crop is being secured. The rains delayed work for a few days, but no injury resulted.

Corn is making progress. Warmer weather would produce more rapid growth, but its present condition is thoroughly satisfactory. Potatoes are growing rapidly. The weather has been extremely favorable to them. Some planted early are in bloom. Vegetables of all kinds have good growth. During the rains the weeds were very rank, but the dry weather permits cultivation and they are being destroyed. The vegetable crop will be large. Hemp and flax are making good growth.

The fruit prospects remain unchanged. Cherries are ripening, but many are falling to the ground. Strawberries have passed the height of their season, and rail shipments have practically ceased; the crop was good. Raspberries and blackberries are ripening. Peaches have commenced to ripen and shipments from the Ashland district and from places along the Snake and Columbia will begin within a few days. The peach crop is not as large as usual and in sections it is a failure; in the real peach growing districts the crop is good. Prunes have practically ceased dropping; the prunes remaining will mature much better than if the trees were, as they usually are, heavily laden. Pears will be a short crop and apples a fair crop.

Stock is in good condition.

The crop conditions in Oregon today are good. Some varieties of fruit will be a short crop, but otherwise there is no cause for complaint.

The descent is certain from weak lungs, lingering coughs, throat troubles or bronchial affections through bleeding lungs, to consumption, if the first stages are neglected. Thousands of people who are now in their graves would be alive and well to-day if they had heeded the first warnings of those troubles which lead to consumption and death.

The hacking cough, spitting of blood, weak lungs, and all similar troubles of the organs of breathing, will surely lead to consumption, if they are not already the signs of it. Then there are the other indications of the approach of consumption, such as night-sweats, emaciation, or wasting away of flesh from bad nutrition, which, if neglected, lead to certain death.

Ninety-eight per cent. of all the cases of weak lungs, bleeding lungs, lingering and obstinate coughs, and other bronchial and throat diseases, which have been treated with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, have been cured by it. Do not wait until your throat trouble becomes serious. All bronchial and throat troubles are serious. The time to take the "Golden Medical Discovery" is right at the start.

Even if your throat trouble has been neglected until it has been pronounced pulmonary disease or consumption, do not hesitate to use the "Golden Medical Discovery," for thousands of letters from the sufferers themselves, who are now well, bear evidence that the "Golden Medical Discovery" will cure, even after good physicians have pronounced the disease pulmonary consumption.

"I had been troubled with bronchitis for several years," writes Mrs. Orlin O'Hara, Box 114, Fergus Falls, Ottertail Co., Minn. "In the first place, I had sore throat. I doctored with different physicians and took various medicines, but got no relief. I raised from my throat a sticky substance like the white of an egg. Could not sleep, and had made up my mind that I would not live through the winter. I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Favorite Prescription' alternately, and in a few days began to see that I was better. I took eight bottles. I have not felt as well in years as since using these medicines."

Unfailing—Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets for constipation and biliousness.

Last fall I sprained my left hip while handling some heavy boxes. The doctor I called on said at first it was a slight strain and would soon be well, but it grew worse and the doctor then said I had rheumatism. It continued to grow worse and I could hardly get around to work. I went to a drug store and the druggist recommended me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I tried it and one-half of a 50-cent bottle cured me entirely. I now recommend it to all my friends.—F. A. Balcock, Erie, Pa. It is for sale by O. O. Krogstad, druggist.
