Misses Lulu Burt and Elsie Martin went out to Albany yesterday morning to see the soldiers.
One hundred passengers were on Saturday night, and ninety on Monday's train for the beach.
The July term of the circuit court for the county just $154.70, considerably less than half as much as the other session.
Mr. Frank Chitwood, who attended Walla Walla college last year, is now peeling chittim for his year's course and will leave for the first of September.

Dr. Dryer, the dentist has concluded to remain a few days longer. He is doing considerable work, and is a good workman.

Guy Miller, of Salem, came up yesterday from Newport, where he is taking his outing, and is visiting C. B. Crosno's family.

Yesterday was pay day at the Toledo creamery. Gust Forssell received $55.19, in good gold for his milk for one month.

Rite Dedrick had the misfortune to run a nail in his foot while working on the Waugh building last Tuesday. He has a very sore foot and will be laid up for some time.

Mrs. Tracy Davis died at her home in Newport Wednesday. The deceased had been a great sufferer for the past two years. We were unable to get particulars of her death up this time.

Bert Boles, who has had charge of the railroad office here during Mr. Buoy's absence of six weeks, went to Albany yesterday morning. Bert is a clever and accommodating gentleman and made hosts of friends while here.

Mr. Myers, of Dallas, is the guest of J. L. Hyde this week. Mr. Myers is an old pioneer 81 years of age and looks as hale and hearty as a man of 60. He came to Oregon in 1847 and settled on a claim near where Dallas is now, where he has since resided.

Fred Locklev, Jr., is at Newport for a thirty days' outing, says the Salem Statesman, and on Saturday last, succeeded in bringing 530 fish out of the famous Yaquina bay, on whose banks that city is located. Now, if Fred keeps that rate up during the full time of his furlough from the duties as postal carrier in the Capital City, just think what an enormous amount of the finny tribe he will have to dispose of—about 15,000—and at 1 cent a pound, if he sells them, each fish weighing four pounds, he will have a small Klondike.

Homer Davenport, the celebrated artist left New York last Friday for Africa via London, to do special work for the New York Journal. He will be equal to the occasion, and we may expect to see President Kruger as he really is. Homer will give those whiskers a touch never before penciled.—Albany Democrat.

Born.

MAINE:—To the wife of Henry Maine Jr., Wednesday August 9, 1899, at Yaquina City, a girl of standard weight. Dr. F. M. Carter officiating.

Mother and child are reported as doing nicely, but Henry is said to be unable to sleep for the joy which always comes with the advent of a man's first born.

Willis Elliott, of Bridgeport, near Dallas, celebrated his rooth birthday last Monday. Mr Elliott has 88 grand-children, 269 great-grand children, and 56 great-great-grand children. At the celebration there were about 60 present—one son and two daughters, seven grand-children, eleven great-grand-children and five great-great-grand-children. One of his daughters, Mrs. Tabitha Lawrence, lives near Eddyville.

An Occurrence.

Last Friday evening quite a laughable and yet semi-serious accident occurred to Mr. C. C. McBride of Eddyville while on his return from the residence of A. L. Chitwood. His load was of chittim bark and drawn by a team, one horse of which was, to say the least, eccentric. When about 1 1/2 miles on his journey this aforesaid horse, without warning and with malicious intent, threw up head and tail, bolted at right angles with the road and more quickly than it knew landed in a water ditch some eight feet wide and five feet deep. The momentum drove the tongue of the wagon firmly into the opposite bank and securely held both horses in the stream unhurt, while the wagon stood safely on the bank and its owner was too astounded to do much but "observe." He went back to Mr. Chitwood's and got help and worked all night before his horses could be extricated from their perilous position.

As Mr. McBride was at Newport the evening previous. It is supposed the ozone peculiar to that city during the summer season, was the real cause of the happenstance.

K. C.

Birds on Drift Creek.

The other day as I was at Glen postoffice I was shown a somewhat curious bird of beautiful plumage. It was perched on a piece of cardboard. I was shown it by S. J. Wilhoit, the postmaster, whose property I presume it was. There was quite a number of persons present, it being mail day, but not one of them could name it. It had a golden coat which was very distinguishable under the rays of the sun. Mr. Wilhoit talked of having it sent to a zoological garden.

Valley cattle buyers were on the Creek this week. They bought some cattle and paid good prices. Steers, $30 a head. They offered $25 for cows and $15 for yearlings and were anxious to get them at that price.

Lincoln county is all right. Her hills have their resources. Last Sunday I seen a great big deer that was dead. It was about the size of a house cat, and was being packed on horseback.

ZOONIC.

"Money to patent good ideas may be secured by our aid, address THE PATENT RECORD, Baltimore, Md."

Hawaii and Hawaiians.

A large and delighted audience attended the lecture on "Our New Possessions in the Pacific Seas," given by Mr. Ben Bruns on last Saturday night. Mr. Bruns is an able speaker and his word pictures of his travels through the "Paradise of the Pacific" and his description of the customs and habits of the original inhabitants of these far famed isles was interesting to the extreme and thoroughly enjoyed by those present.

Not the least enjoyable part of the program were the Hawaiian songs which he sang in an accomplished manner, showing that besides being a finished lecturer he is also a singer of no mean ability.

Mr. Bruns expects to visit the Islands again this winter and also extend his tour to take in Samoa, Tahiti and perhaps the Philippines.

Salado Sayings.

Gardens are very fair this year. Haying is all over, and every farmer is smiling at the big barns full of nice hay.

The weather is fine for the chittim peelers, and everybody is rushing the work along with a hearty good will.

All the ladies have concluded that this was the ideal weather for a picnic, and they named deer creek for the place to meet, as there is a fine sulphur spring and splendid shade trees there. I will say for all parties concerned that we had a fine time and all the chicken pie and several kinds of as good cake as good cooks can make with plenty other good things. We ate dinner and supper and everybody went home with a kind feeling for his neighbor, and a promise of another picnic in the near future. While there the young people persuaded Mrs. Bancroft to give a party, which will be on Friday, August 18th. Everybody that wants an enjoyable time come and be happy. Will have a picnic supper. Neighbor.

A Mother Tells How She Saved Her Little Daughter's Life.

I am the mother of eight children and have had a great deal of experience with medicines. Last summer my little daughter had the dysentery in its worst form. We thought she would die. I tried everything I could think of, but nothing seemed to do her any good. I saw by an advertisement in our paper that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was highly recommended and sent and got a bottle at once. It proved to be one of the very best medicines we ever had in the house. It saved my little daughter's life. I am anxious for every mother to know what an excellent medicine it is. Had I known it at first it would have saved me a great deal of anxiety and my little daughter much suffering. Yours truly, Mrs. GEO. F. BURDICK, Liberty, R. I. For sale by O. O. KROGSTAD, Druggist.

Typewriter paper and supplies on hand at Krogstad's.
