The hopgrowers of Oregon, we "trust," will soon be making the brewers hop to their music.

We disclose no secret when we remark that the twentieth century doesn't begin on January 1, 1900.

An unusual number of grandstand plays are being made by the minority in congress. They please the performers and are harmless.

Our own Congressman Tongue has been honored with the chairmanship of the committee on arid lands and irrigation. "And the harbor bar is moaning."

It now seems probable that it will be McKinley and Root vs. Bryan and Hogg. That arrangement will give the humorists and cartoonists a chance to work twenty-four hours every day.

"Where is my wandering boy tonight?" If you are referring to the late vociferous dissenter, Senator Stewart of Nevada, you will find him safe again in the republican fold. The fitful fever is over, and he looks well.

The mud has been scraped from Main street in Corvallis and, according to the Union-Gazette, that thoroughfare now excels any other in the state in cities of no larger size. We do love enterprise. Pass your scrapers along, please.

A new ledge of quartz a mile in width and assaying $800 per ton has been discovered near Dawson. There is some danger that gold will soon be too common to pose as the standard and this country will be forced to return to a clam-shell basis.

If the Oregonian publishes verbatim the report of the engineers on the subject of further improvement of our harbor, it is not putting it too strongly to characterize said report as dirty-net. There is a studied attempt throughout the report as given to the public to brand everything connected with Yaquina bay and its surroundings as insignificant and amateurish. However, we're all from Missouri—a long distance from Missouri—and must be excused for waiting for later returns before proceeding to annihilate the engineers.

The death of General Henry Lawton in the Philippines Tuesday is a serious loss to the nation. Officers of his ability are not too numerous, and it is to be regretted that he lacked the discretion which would have resulted in many more years of valuable service to his country. His nerve had been proven long ago, and the last, fatal display thereof was wholly unnecessary. Standing, as he did, in an exposed position, wearing a white helmet and a yellow rain coat, he was an easy target at only 300 yards for even a Filipino sharpshooter. A young officer with a reputation to make may be expected to indulge in such recklessness, but an old veteran whose bravery and ability are firmly established should know better. The fate of brave Lawton makes a sad page in American history.

A SURE CURE FOR CROUP.

Twenty-five Years' Constant Use Without a Failure.

The first indication of croup is hoarseness, and in a child subject to that disease it may be taken as a sure sign of the approach of an attack. Following this hoarseness is a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack. It is used in many thousands of homes in this broad land and never disappoints the anxious mothers. We have yet to learn of a single instance in which it has not proved effectual. No other preparation can show such a record—twenty-five years' constant use without a failure. For sale by O. O. Krogstad, druggist.

Tetter, Salt-Rheum and Eczema.
