YAQUINA ITEMS.
Dr. Carter is in town attending to his sick friends.
The oystermen shipped forty sacks of oysters to Frisco last Saturday morning.
Miss Amanda Rader and Eva Stout were calling on Yaquina friends Monday.
Sheriff Ross is flying around as if he was full of business. He always has a pleasant word for everyone.
Mrs. Prosper and children left last Tuesday for Texas to join her husband, who has been there for some time.
If the weather continues as warm as now we shall all be making garden. I saw one lady spading up her back yard Wednesday.
Misses Minnie and Nellie Blower walked over the hills to town Monday to take their music lessons. Oregonians don't mind the rain or the walk.

The steamer Maggie, which has been at the docks for the past week under going repairs, tried to go out Wednesday, but the captain thought best to wait until the sea was a little more quiet, as he has a good many passengers.
Died—At the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Russell, Wednesday evening, January 17, 1900, Ida May Fanno, aged 9 years. She was a bright child and will be missed by all who knew her. "Of such is the kingdom of Heaven."
What has become of Felix? Hope he's not waiting until the 2d of February before we hear from him. [Our correspondent must not make odious comparisons. Felix is neither a groundhog nor in any way related to the porcine family. Contributions from Felix are always welcome.—ED.] JERRY.

Encampment Installation.
Yaquina, Or., Jan. 12, 1900—At the regular meeting of Lincoln Encampment No. 37, I. O. O. F., J. H. Penn, past chief patriarch and special deputy grand chief patriarch, assisted by F. M. Carter, J. Blaser and W. C. Hoefflein, installed the following officers: W. A. Bartges, chief patriarch; A. S. Casteel, high priest; S. A. Pruett, senior warden; J. Blaser, junior warden; F. M. Carter, treasurer; J. H. Penn, scribe; W. C. Hoefflein, inside sentinel. JERRY'S BROTHER.

More About Roads.
DEAR MISTER LEADER: As you haint done hearn nothin' from your old uncle for a long time, I specs you'll be mighty glad to git dis letter, an' if you don't want to hear from me nohow, jist say so, an' I won't never write no more to you. But the p'int is, I would like powerful well to hear from you all once on a while, so, if you'll jist send me your little paper about once a week, I'll be much obleeged to you all.
But now dis is what I want to write about—it's de roads. I's done seen so many mizzabul no-count onery roads 'at I'm gettin' mighty disgusted. Den agin when I see how som of the work has been done, or rather hain't been done, I'm disgusted agin. I'm allers disgusted when I go an' do a good homes' days work on de road an' de same day Bill Jones he don't do nothin' cept loaf round home or go a-huntin' contrarywise of de law, or go to town and loaf round de store or de blacksmith shop, or meby de sloop. An' Jack Robbison—what's he doin'? Well, he's thar, but most he does is tell yarus an' keep de boys list'nin' so they can't do much, an' he don't do much nuther. An' then thar is Jim Smith. He is allers there some time in de day, but he don't like to git up early, an' he has so many chores to go home orful early, so he don't git nothin' done. Then thar is Sam Jenkins. He allers gits thar, but he's so everlastin' contrary he won't do nothin' but stand round an' growl lessen he has his own way 'bout everything, an' he don't know no more 'bout road makin' 'an de Spaniards did 'bout w'ippin' Uncle Sam 'fore dey done tried it on. Now what I'd done like to see 'bout dis road business is 'at we git some legislator fellers what'll make a law to make all us fellers pay our road tax in "free silver," an' then let us vote for a for a good hones' man for supervisor (dat's a mighty big word, but I gess I done got it rite,) an' make dem he got to hire men an' make dem work jist like dey was workin' for a russler of a raucher. Now I want to ax you if that ain't 'bout rite, an' obleege yours truly,

Baby's Future.

The fond mother dreams great dreams of baby's future as she holds the sleeping little one in her arms. But the dreams will never come true unless she has given him a strong body and a healthy mind. Children die in hosts, or live to struggle through life feeble of body and dull of mind because the mother was unfit physically and mentally for motherhood. Women who use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription endow their children with strong bodies and bright minds. It is every mother's duty to give her child the advantages of a healthy body and mind. A weak or sickly woman cannot do this. "Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong and sick women well.
Mrs. Orrin Siles, of Downing, Dunn Co., Wis., writes: "I have been intending to write to you ever since my baby was born in regard to what your 'Favorite Prescription' has done for me. I cannot praise it enough, for I have not been as well for five years as I now am. In July last I had a baby boy, weight 11 pounds, and I was only sick a short time, and since I got up have not had one sick day. I have not had any womb trouble since I got up. I was not only surprised myself but all of my friends here are surprised to see me so well."
