Every postmaster in Lincoln county is authorized to act as agent for the LEADER.

There has been but little news from the Philippines recently and apparently the worst is over. There may be a little bushwhacking occasionally, but the backbone of the insurrection is broken—and Aguinaldo is still at large.

Roberts, the polygamist, was fired out of congress by a decisive vote, and apparently his only sympathizers were some of the women in the galleries. The edict has gone forth. No man who is weak-minded enough to want more than one wife need not attempt to break into the American congress.

As a result of the trouble in Kentucky over the state election, William Goebel, the democratic contestant for governor, was shot Tuesday morning and probably fatally wounded by some unknown party who was evidently concealed in some building near the capitol grounds at Frankfort. While it is a deplorable affair, it is only what may be expected at any time in Kentucky. No other state in the nation is afflicted with the gun habit like Kentucky. William Goebel is spoken of as one who "has killed his man," and he carried a revolver when he was shot down. At last reports Goebel was still alive and had been sworn in as governor. Taylor, the republican contestant, is also exercising his authority as governor, and it is a very complicated and warlike situation. "The dark and bloody ground" is keeping up its record.

Perhaps we were rash in buying the wagon, and perhaps we ought not to have bought the horse; but having made those investment for better or for worse, let us not now hesitate about buying a set of harness. The way to justify expansion is to make the most effective possible use of what we have acquired. Our altered position in both oceans, coupled with the enormous recent increase of our foreign trade, must require a larger and more expensive navy henceforth than we have maintained in the past. A canal on our own soil, making it possible for us to use the Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean sea as great naval centers from which our ships can have a quick and safe passage to the Pacific, will almost double the efficiency for defensive purposes of a given number of war vessels, and will accordingly save us enough on our yearly naval bills to meet all interest and sinking-fund charges on the cost of the canal. Viewed from the material standpoint and tested as a business proposition, the Nicaragua canal is as necessary to the completion of our new territorial, commercial and strategical policies as the harness is necessary to the utilization of the horse and wagon. The indirect opposition that has made itself felt so powerfully at Washington comes, of course, in large part from transcontinental railroad interests. This is natural enough, and it is merely well that the public should know it. We have good reasons for going ahead, and in the end these transcontinental railroads themselves will be the richer for all the business development that may follow from the construction of the inter-oceanic canal.—From "The Progress of the World," in the American Monthly Review of Reviews for February.

For The Babies.

There is no better medicine for the babies than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Its pleasant taste and prompt and effectual cures make it a favorite with mothers and small children. It quickly cures coughs and colds, preventing pneumonia or other serious consequences. It also cures croup and has been used in tens of thousands of cases without a single failure so far as we have been able to learn. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. In cases of whooping cough it liquefies the tough mucus, making it easier to expectorate, and lessens the severity and frequency of the paroxysms of coughing, thus depriving that disease of all dangerous consequences.
