"Have you lived very long in the suburbs?" "Not so very long; only about fourteen cooks."—Brooklyn Life.

Doctor.—After this you ought to sleep like a baby. Patient (anxiously)—I hope you don't mean like my baby, doctor.

Some men, it is said, carry their sense of honor so far as to spend all their time in idleness because they object to take advantage of time!

"Yes, sir; I put in months of hard work forming that girl's mind." "Well?" "Then she said she wouldn't have me."—New York World.

"How much money have you, Sammy?" "Well, if I didn't owe grandma a dime and sister a nickel I'd have fifteen cents."—Chicago Record.

"Our bookkeeper seems to be stepping high this morning." "Yes; some girl has either accepted him or gone back on him."—Chicago Record.

"I thought you and Rebecca were the same age." "We were; but she seems to have receded, while I've been going on."—Indianapolis Journal.

Ma.—"Tommy, you seem to love pa better than you do me." Tommy—"Oh, ma, I don't mean to; but y' see, pa allus has his pockets full o' nickels."

The little girl slipped something beneath the edge of her plate. "I wish," she said, under her breath, "there was an anti-crust law! That's what I wish!"

"Daughter, I notice that Harry isn't a bit gallant to other women." "No, indeed, ma; I broke him of that right after we were married."—Indianapolis Journal.

He—"I asked your father's consent by telephone." She—"What was his answer?" He—"He said, 'I don't know who you are, but it's all right.'"—Harvard Lampoon.

Clerk—How did the alarm clock work? I suppose you got up the moment it went off? Blake—I had to. Didn't have anything in bed to throw at it.—Boston Transcript.

"Can you depend on what Bondword says?" "You bet your life! Why, man, I've known him to quit a poker game loser just because he'd promised his wife he'd be home early!"—Puck.

"Jones, you'll never get rich like other men if you take so many afternoons off to base-ball games." "Oh, I don't know; I'll outlive them and catch up in the long run."—Indianapolis Journal.

She—You told me you love me, but I suppose you have told the same thing to fifty other girls at least. He—What of that? You wouldn't want to marry a freak, would you?—Boston Transcript.

Mrs. Hatterson—"What! You have breakfast at half-past seven? Isn't that very early?" Mrs. Catterson—"Yes. But it is necessary now since my husband has given up business to play golf."—Life.

"David, dear, I won't go a step to the Paris exposition without you." "Now, Eliza, do you really want my loved presence. Do you want somebody to push you around in a wheel-chair?"—Indianapolis Journal.

"I cannot sing the old songs," she sang at a high pitch in the torture chamber, which is the music room. "I don't think you can sing the new ones, either," growled the man on the porch.—Detroit Free Press.

An Explanation.—Undertaker (to bystander at a funeral)—"Are you one of the mourners?" Bystander—"I am, sir." Undertaker—"What relation to the deceased?" Bystander—"None at all—but he owed me $5."—Chicago News.

The Palmist—"This line in your hand indicates that you have a very brilliant future ahead of you." Simkins—"Is that so?" The Palmist—"Yes; but the other line indicates that you are too slow to ever catch up with it."—Chicago News.

Cleverton—Now that you have succeeded in getting on such intimate terms with New York's most exclusive literary set and meeting so many distinguished men, I don't see what you want to quit for. Dashaway—"The fact is, I haven't a cent left."—The Smart Set.

Effulgence.

"He isn't nearly so bright as he thinks he is," said the young woman who discusses her acquaintances.

"No," answered Miss Cayenne, "and that's a very fortunate circumstance. If he were, we couldn't look at him without using a piece of smoked glass."

Appropriately Named.

"Why are they called pyramids, pa?" asked George, who was looking at a picture of those wonders of Egypt.

"They are called pyramids, my son," replied the father, without hesitation, "because, you see, they appear amid the general desolation of the desert."

The District of Columbia is first in the field with its census report, giving a total population of 278,718, an increase of 20.98 per cent since 1890, a rate that would make the total population of the United States about 76,000,000.

Liquid hydrogen is transparent, and the lightest as well as the coldest liquid known, a cork sinking in it like lead. A whitish substance seen at the bottom of the vessel on Professor Dewar's first exhibition was really solid air or air ice.

An Unselfish Nature.

"When I get to be a man," said the boy, who has a good memory for phrases, "I'm going to strive to cultivate an unselfish nature."

"That's right," replied his father. "How are you going about it?"

"Well, in the first place, if I have any little boys, I'll let them shoot their own fireworks, instead of telling them they must let me do it, for fear they will hurt themselves."

While in congress Jerry Simpson saved most of his salary and invested the money in land and cattle. He is now rated at $40,000. When he first went to congress he had to borrow money to buy a railroad ticket.

The American Man.

Much comparison has been made between the endurance of the Chinese and the American working man. Those with authority say that the average working man of America is as superior to the Chinese as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is to any other dyspepsia cure. The Bitters also cures constipation, indigestion and prevents malaria.
