And now the question arises: What shall it profit a man if he gains the whole world and then gets kidnaped?

The famous Boy cavalry leader, General Dewet, couldn't put up a much better fight if the final letter in his name were "y."

Portland is going to have an exposition or something if it takes five years. Now is the time to begin advertising, as Seattle or some other village in the northwest may steal a march.

While there is still more or less trouble in the Philippines, there is no evidence that Aguinaldo is ever in the mix—and that's also where his resemblance to George Washington ceases.

William Jennings Bryan is either bursting with hope or putting up a magnificent bluff. He believes about 8,000,000 voters who were ferriest him in November will yet "return to the teachings of the fathers and the traditions of the Republic"—in other words, learn to believe as he does.

In the recent harbor appropriation bill Yaquina seems to have been overlooked. About a quarter of a million was cut out for the Willamette and Columbia below Portland, while Long Tom, Skunk Creek, Coon Run and other brooklets also got their stockings filled. However, Yaquina harbor is all here—what there is of it—and will keep until other points are satisfied. We're meek and humble, we are.

There are probably few other women in this country as busy as Mrs. S. T. Rorer, the famous cook, or few who earn as much money. Besides her editorial work for The Ladies' Home Journal, which involves answering several thousand letters each year, she conducts a big cooking-school in Philadelphia, and lectures almost constantly during the season, traveling through all sections of the country. Mrs. Rorer has never had a headache, she is never ill, and, in her appearance, is certainly the best example one could have of her theories as to the right way to live.

Some of our esteemed republican contemporaries profess to believe there is some good in the ship subsidy bill. With all due respect for their intelligence, we point to the assertion of the advocates of the measure that under existing conditions and low freight rates American vessels cannot compete with foreign ocean carriers. As they also assert that if the bill becomes a law ocean freight rates will be reduced 25 per cent, it is difficult to see anything but a job in the proposition. The bill is temporarily sidetracked, but it is not dead. THE LEADER loves Mark Hanna, but hopes and believes he will find his pet measure to be a red hot iron.

If you would have an appetite like a bear and a relish for your meals, take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They correct disorders of the stomach and regulate the liver and bowels. Price 25 cents. Samples free, at Krogstad's drugstore.
