YAQUINA ITEMS.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Walsh returned Tuesday evening from a visit at Albany. J. M. Russell lost a fine cow this week. She fell down the bluff.

Miss Pearl Markham left school for a change of climate and will reside in Ashland for a year.

W. A. Gentry of the machine shops suffered from a severe fall last week, but is improving.

Miss Winnie Davis of Newport, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. W. C. Hoeftin, returned on Wednesday to her home by the sea.

Mr. Elliott, who was at the Parker house sick with pneumonia, has recovered sufficiently to return to his home in Corvallis.

Mr. Allen of Waldport was in town Sunday, calling to see Mrs. Helm just before her death.

The church bell slowly tolled Monday morning until ninety solemn strokes announced that only that which was mortal of Mrs. Harriet Helm was left to earth. The perishable will soon be hidden from all it once knew, but the immortal part, freed from its prison, will live in the home eternal. Mrs. Helm was for seventy-five years a member of the M. E. church. Two sons and one daughter survive this aged mother.

A PROMINENT CHICAGO WOMAN SPEAKS.

Prof. Roxa Tyler of Chicago, vice-president Illinois Woman's Alliance, in speaking of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, says: "I suffered with a severe cold this winter which threatened to run into pneumonia. I tried different remedies, but I seemed to grow worse and the medicine upset my stomach. A friend advised me to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and I found it was pleasant to take and it relieved me at once. I am now entirely recovered, saved a doctor's bill, time and suffering, and I will never be without it again." For sale by Krogstad, druggist.

JOHNSON ITEMS.

During a recent storm, the roof of Mr. Resch's barn was blown off.

High water again—this time higher than it has been for four years.

George Derriek of Eddyville has been visiting friends in this vicinity the past week.

Charlie Read has made another trip to the valley. We pity his horses and wagon.

A. L. Stephens has the contract to carry the mail between Kernville and Johnson.

The other evening, when it was pouring down rain, A. S. Thompson was hunting his cattle in the woods. Darkness overtook him, so he laid down by a log and stayed all night.

Sunday Mr. Calkins and Melvin Burton found eleven sheep dead. They supposed it to be the work of a panther. Whatever it was, it killed the sheep by crushing the bones in their necks. The following evening the two gentlemen kept watch but received no visitors.

A Wonderful Offer to Women.

We have received word of a most remarkable offer which is to be made to women by The Delineator, of New York.

Taking the fact that next year begins a new century, The Delineator offers to distribute $17,500 among 1901 women. The plan is so cleverly arranged that a woman living in a small town or village, has just as good a chance to win one of these 1901 prizes as a woman living in a city—because the prizes are given for the number of subscriptions secured in a town in proportion to the population of that town, instead of being given simply to those who send the largest list of subscribers—which, of course, are most easily obtained in big cities. Another clever feature of the plan is, that all the cities and towns of the United States and Canada have been arranged in seven classes. The cities of the greatest population are grouped in Class 1, and as these cities are not very many, the prizes offered are twenty-eight; the highest prize being $500, and the lowest $5.00. The total amount of prizes given away in this class is $1,000. The remaining smaller towns and villages fall into six other classes, and as the number of towns in a class increases, because, of course, there are more small towns than large ones, the amount of prizes given away to a class increases, so that in Class 7, there will be $4,000 distributed among 601 winners.

Furthermore, to everyone who fails to win one of the 1901 prizes there will be paid an extra commission on subscriptions, provided they equal one out of every two hundred inhabitants of the town from which the contestant sends them.

This is altogether a very liberal offer, and one which the famous old Delineator is well able to make good. From our point of view, we do not see why such an offer needs to be made by the Publishers of The Delineator, for we believe it already has nearly half a million subscribers. Its strong hold upon the affections of American women has come in the past generation, from its practical advice about dress details and home matters.
