The New Year.

There is every present assurance that the year 1902 will be a happy and prosperous one for the people of this country. The fortunate conditions which have characterized the closing year still continue dominant. They have provided abundant capital for commercial and industrial activities unless unforeseen emergencies arise, and to withstand these better than ever before. They have equipped the laboring man so that he is better able to enjoy the good things of life. They have taught capital and labor their mutual dependence and led them to consider plans whereby differences may be adjusted without financial loss to either. Finally, they have done much to cement capital and labor into a commercial unit for the successful invasion of the foreign market, and have so far destroyed political lines that, in its relations to other countries, the United States is a Nation more than a confederation of States. The fortunate conditions of 1901 have done more for the real salvation of this country than can now be easily estimated. There is every reason to believe, too, that during the coming year we shall reap some fruits of many labors in the fields of economics, sciences and arts. The study given to practical questions of how best to live is certain soon to be productive of better conditions. The application of inventions and discoveries to practical uses, brings comforts within the reach of the many. The invasion of even the homes of the poor by art in one form or another, insures a greater degree of refinement. The more abundant facilities for gaining education, open to the child of humblest parentage, promise a more intelligent consideration of the obligations and duties of life. In these respects, it is better that we have lived in 1901 than in 1900 even, as slight as has been the improvement; and it will have been still better that we have lived in 1902, the second year in the new century, which holds out to us so much of advancement in all that makes life worth living. There is every reason why we can and should greet the new year with happy hearts.—Pennsylvania Grit.

Now that the holiday rush is over, every citizen of Oregon who is interested should petition Congressman Tongue and Senator Simon to put on a line of steamers to carry the products of the Willamette valley and tributary territory out of Yaquina harbor. Of course these statesmen will also be expected to convey said products to the Yaquina docks.

The Oregonian's New Year number is considered by many to be the best ever issued by that great paper. It covers a great deal more territory than its predecessors and should be of much benefit to the great Pacific Northwest.

There is some satisfaction in knowing that one brute always gets licked and sometimes killed in a prize fight.—Rockford Register.

The Albany Herald got out a very creditable holiday number and was "sooner" than anybody. The Herald is enterprising.

The Salem Statesman issues a splendid holiday number. We have seen no better—so far as it goes.

ATTENTION

To physical warnings will often prevent a serious illness. When there are oppressive fullness after eating, bitter risings, belching, headache, dizziness, nervousness, with physical and mental sluggishness, prompt attention should be given to the condition of the digestive and nutritive systems. Not all these symptoms will occur at once or in any single case, but any one of them indicates a disordered condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. A prompt cure of these conditions will be effected by the timely use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It heals diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, perfectly and permanently. Many diseases, seemingly remote from the stomach, have their origin in a diseased condition of the organs of digestion and nutrition. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures through the stomach diseases which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach, and hence diseases of liver, lungs, heart and other organs are cured by use of the "Discovery." It contains no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine, or other narcotic. It is a true temperance medicine. Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing else "just as good."

"I was a total wreck—could not sleep or eat," writes Mr. J. O. Beers, of Berryman, Crawford Co., Mo. "For two years I tried medicine from doctors but received very little benefit. I lost flesh and strength, was not able to do a good day's work. I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and when I had taken one bottle I could sleep, and my appetite was wonderfully improved. I have taken five bottles and am still improving."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation by curing the cause. They do not beget the pill habit.

THE NEW YORK WORLD.

Time has demonstrated that the Thrice-a-week World stands alone in its class. Other papers have imitated its form but not its success. This is because it tells all the news all the time and tells it impartially, whether that news be political or otherwise. It is, in fact, almost a daily at the price of a weekly and you cannot afford to be without it. Republican and Democrat alike can read the Thrice-a-week World with absolute confidence in its truth.

In addition to news, it publishes first-class serial stories and other features suited to the home and fire-side.

The Thrice-a-Week World regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year and this pays for 36 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and THE LEADER together one year for $2.00.

CHILDREN ESPECIALLY LIABLE.

Burns, bruises and cuts are extremely painful and if neglected often results in blood poisoning. Children are especially liable to such mishaps because not so careful. As a remedy DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is unequalled. Draws out the fire, stops the pain, soon heals the wound. Beware of counterfeits. Sure cure for piles. "DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured my baby of eczema after two physicians gave her up," writes James Mock, N. Webster, Ind. "The sores were so bad she soiled two to five dresses a day." Otto Krogstad.

Wise or Otherwise.

Marriage broadens some men and flattens others.

There is no cement that will repair broken promises.

Some people would rather be consistent than be right.

The man who has the "big head" invariably wears a small hat.

Few people would be satisfied if they got all that's coming to them.

You may close your eyes to your faults, but your neighbors will not.

Fortunate is the man who falls only for the purpose of rising higher.

It is much easier to reach the top of the ladder than it is to stay there.

Too much pleasure is apt to be the direct cause of a man's troubles.

A man feels like praying when he is miserable; a woman when she is happy.

If a woman's waist is shaped like an hourglass the sands of life soon run out.

Money is the rich man's faith; the poor man's hope and the good man's charity.

Many a poor man has made the discovery too late that marriage is a government contract.

Example may be stronger than precept, but precept does a great deal of example's work.

Wisdom is the art of being away from home when a neighbor calls to borrow something.

Many a woman clothes her body until she resembles a fashion plate, while she lets her mind go ragged.

Some men pay cash for everything they buy because they want to and others because they have to.

The man who finds he has bitten off more than he can chew is sure to indulge in a lot of unnecessary talk.

Order is heaven's first law, but it is the disorder on earth that enables the lawyers to get three square meals a day.

If a young man owns real estate in a large city it is an easy matter for him to find a girl willing to share his lot.

"Some time ago my daughter caught a severe cold. She complained of pains in her chest and had a bad cough. I gave her Chamberlain's Cough Remedy according to directions and in two days she was well and able to go to school. I have used this remedy in my family for the past seven years and have never known it to fail," says James Prendergast, merchant, Annato Bay, Jamaica, West India Islands. The pains in the chest indicate an approaching attack of pneumonia, which in this instance was undoubtedly warded off by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It counteracts any tendency of a cold toward pneumonia. Sold by O. O. Krogstad, druggist.
