SILETZ ITEMS.

Barney Williams died Feb. 1 at his home three miles north of the Agency. The last sad rites were performed by the Catholic fathers and he was laid to rest in Siletz cemetery Sunday. He was a sober, industrious citizen, was sick only five days, and his death has caused general sorrow on the reservation. A very large number of sympathizers were in attendance.

McDonald & Hall Bros. have ordered a carload of feed and seed wheat and oats. We hope more land will be cultivated this coming season than for several years. We are urging our people to use their money to buy stock, build fences, raise grain and make general improvements instead of gambling it away or spending it for intoxicating liquors.

One might prognosticate from the conglomerated heterogeneous mass of portentous clouds gradually ascending above the undulating line of the evergreen forests silhouetted against the sky in the west, also from the ambulosity of the atmospherical bodies, the colorial manifestations in the surrounding ether and southerly winds that rain was inevitable.

We stepped into the schoolroom last Saturday evening on the occasion of the school's social gathering. The room was brilliantly lighted and every face beamed with pleasure. Checkers, croquet, caroms, dominoes, music and social chat aid very much in the social education of these children. Nearly all of the school employees were present.

Lost—This side of Coquille Thompson's residence, three miles north of Siletz a valuable case of instrument, the property of Dr. Z. T. Daniels. The finder please leave at the government building and receive reward.

Correction—Will Kisor being duly interviewed deposes and says he is a citizen of Lincoln county; occupation, a bachelor, and that he has gained eight pounds in Siletz.

Willie Towner, tenor, Charlie Blacketa second tenor, Jesse Crook, bass, and Tom Scott, second bass, are furnishing good music at all services.

Jakey Johnson came up from the mouth of the Siletz river with John Spencer Wednesday.
