CONTEST NOTICE.
Department of the Interior,
United States Land Office,
Roseburg, Or., Feb. 14, 1902.
A sufficient contest affidavit having been filed in this office by Charles W. Sheppard, contestant, against Homestead Entry No. 8388, made Nov mber 8, 1895, for sw $\frac{1}{4}$ sw $\frac{1}{4}$, sec 17, w $\frac{1}{2}$ nw $\frac{1}{4}$, sec 4, nw $\frac{1}{4}$, sec 20, twp 15 s, r 9 w, by Albert P. Brown, contestee, in which it is alleged that Albert P. Brown has abandoned said land for more than one year last past, and has disposed of such improvements as he had made on said land; that said alleged absence was not due to his employment in the army, navy or marine corps of the United States as a private soldier, officer, seaman or marine during the war with Spain or during any other war in which the United States may be engaged. Said party is hereby notified to appear, respond and offer evidence touching said allegation at 10 o'clock a. m. on April 25, 1902, before J. H. Lutz, county clerk of Lincoln county, at Toledo, Oregon, and that final hearing will be held at 10 o'clock a. m. on May 5, 1902, before the Register and Receiver at the United States Land Office in Roseburg, Oregon.
The said contestant having, in a proper affidavit, filed January 24, 1902, set forth facts which show that after due diligence personal service of this notice cannot be made, it is hereby ordered and directed that such notice be given by due and proper publication.

The Village Gossip.
There is perhaps no town big or little where the person known as the village gossip does not abide. Of course in smaller places they are better known and have a wider and better field to ply their vocation. This class of individuals are not all monopolized by one sex; they are to be found among the men quite frequently as among the women. Both are well represented in all towns, and both work alike to defame and tear down rather than build up character and reputation. The male species is mean enough, vile enough and untruthful enough to say any thing that his virulent temper may suggest. Truth has no conception in his mind, his all-prevailing ambition is to cast a shadow of doubt across the character of one whom he does not understand and is too vile and narrow to appreciate. He is generally of a sour sullen disposition, but sometimes he is just the opposite, his hypocritically face beaming with smiles, and a demeanor that would charm the angels. His venom is of the nasty, dirty filth of the moral gutter and has no place in the conversation of true gentlemen, even among themselves.

The man gossip, with all his vile insinuations, is, however, an angel incarnate in comparison to the female sort. In her you will find all the traits of the male species and in addition that venomous desire to destroy is more pronounced and more virulent than that in her less resourceful brother, who is generally content to wallow, like a sow in the filth and mire of his own debased conscience. Not so with a woman; she must bring others down to her own low standard. Her villifying tongue knows no virtue in another, and her keen and penetrating foresight (?) can usually, to her own satisfaction, convince the world that all is not as it appears to be. She is often of a pious nature and is found at the front in matters of religion and charity where her clarion voice is heard in behalf of the poor and oppressed in soul and body. Or she may be found with her nose over the back yard fence chattering with a neighbor over the horrible revelation made by Mrs. B. who told her that Mrs. D. had said that Mrs. X overheard Mrs. Y. say that she heard Mrs. A. had told one of her neighbors that the new family that had just moved over across the way was not alto gether right, and before she called on them she was going to find out for certain what they were trying to cover up.

Nothing is good to either of them; their minds cannot rise to that purity of purpose for which it was endowed by their Creator. Their whole mental being is one constant doubt of others. Their place in life is not above the vulture and the buzzard and the great black wings of their sordid intellect carries them on and on, past truth, past virtue, past all that is good, true and innocent, down the dark pathway of the dismal marsh in diseased minds. Faith in their kind is unknown and only the carrion of life is sought to satisfy the cravings of filth that comes from the depths of moral depravity that en shrouds and debases all that is moral within.—X.

SAVED HIM FROM TORTURE.
There is no more agonizing trouble than piles. The constant itching and burning make life intolerable. No position is comfortable. The torture is unceasing. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cures piles at once. For skin diseases, cuts, burns, bruises, all kinds of wounds it is unequalled. J. S. Gerall, St. Paul, Ark., says: "From 1865 I suffered with the protruding, bleeding piles and could find nothing to help me until I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. A few boxes completely cured me." Beware of counterfeits. Otto Krogstad.

THE LAST HEARD OF IT.
"My little boy took the croup one night and soon grew so bad you could hear him breathe all over the house," says F. D. Reynolds, Mansfield, Ohio. "We feared he would die, but a few doses of One Minute Cough Cure quickly relieved him and he went to sleep. That's the last we heard of the croup. Now isn't a cough cure like that valuable?" One Minute Cough Cure is absolutely safe and acts immediately. For coughs, colds, croup, grip, bronchitis and all other throat and lung troubles it is a certain cure. Very pleasant to take. The little ones like it. Otto Krogstad.

THE NEW YORK WORLD.
Time has demonstrated that the Thrice-a-week World stands alone in its class. Other papers have imitated its form but not its success. This is because it tells all the news all the time and tells it impartially, whether that news be political or otherwise. It is, in fact, almost a daily at the price of a weekly and you cannot afford to be without it. Republican and Democrat alike can read the Thrice-a-week World with absolute confidence in its truth.

In addition to news, it publishes first-class serial stories and other features suited to the home and fire-side. The Thrice-a-Week World regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and THE LEADER together one year for $2.00
