Lincoln County's Friend

Republican Candidate for Congress
First District

BINGER HERMANN

VOTE FOR HIM

Still Denies It.

At Home Among the Firs,
May 4, 1903.

EDITOR LEADER: I ask space in your paper to reply to a statement made in your issue of May 1.

They say Mr. Hawkins stopped me on my way to the polls. They are mistaken. I was in his office, and Mr. Hawkins asked me if I was going to vote for Hurley Lutz. I told him "No; I could not go back on Ira." Hawkins said "All right."

I think the whole thing started from what I told about a couple of Republicans of the Ross faction who tried to teach me how I should vote. It was at J. S. Copeland's, W. C. Copeland being present, when the conversation took place. At a later date I was in the clerk's office. Clark Copeland, I believe, asked me if Hawkins asked me as a personal favor to vote for Hurley Lutz. I told him no; that Hawkins asked me if I was going to vote for Hurley Lutz, and I told him no, I could not throw off on Ira, and that Hawkins said "All right."

Does that look like a request? Does it look like he urged me? Is this a free country? Has a man a right to ask another whom he is going to vote for?

I suppose the bosses have ordered the attack on myself because I saw fit at the last election to vote as I pleased. It seems like a funny way to get votes—report private conversations, distort so they will mean something else, and then put them in the paper. If county officials would attend strictly to business they would not have so much time to devote to tattle.

I very much regret that any of my old friends should let political animosity get away with their good sense, but I can only say I have told the truth and nothing but the truth—to the best of my recollection. Respectfully yours,
E. W. KYNISTON.

THE LEADER regrets that Mr. Kyniston has permitted himself to be hypnotized by Mr. Hawkins. Next week we expect to produce a few more sworn statements from honorable citizens in support of our assertion that Mr. Hawkins asked Mr. Kyniston to vote for Hurley Lutz. In reply to Mr. Kyniston's remark that the attack on himself was probably ordered by the bosses, we simply remind the gentleman that he has not been attacked. The slur at THE LEADER sounds very much like an echo from Mr. Hawkins. We have stated that we do not blame any man to whom Mr. Hawkins displayed his wonderful neutrality. By the way, THE LEADER first mentioned this subject in its issue of March 27. Why did he wait four weeks before replying? Mr. Kyniston answered this question when he visited THE LEADER office Wednesday. He said Mr. Hawkins didn't remember but that he might have asked him (Mr. Kyniston) to vote for Hurley Lutz, and he wanted time to talk it over! In other words, Mr. Hawkins tried so hard to remain neutral that he wasn't sure but that he worked a little for Hurley Lutz! If Mr. Hawkins desired to support Mr. Lutz, that was his business; but it is a part of THE LEADER'S business to prove its own statements—and we shall do it.
