HERMANN GETS THERE

The latest returns give Hermann a majority of 2308 over Reames. The official count will make no material change in these figures. Reames carried 4 of the 17 counties in the district—Clackamas, Jackson, Josephine and Polk. The latter county—Lincoln's sister—seems to be a fickle old girl. We're ashamed of her.

Mr. Hermann won rather easily in what may be regarded as an uphill contest. He was fought all the way with dishonest charges and all the tricks at the command of a very shifty opponent.

Mitchell, Fulton, Hermann! Looks good for Oregon, doesn't it?

From Centralia (Mo.) Courier, (Dem.): Speak for Grover Cleveland for President and every full dinner pail in the land rattles "empty." But mention his name, and the ghost of Coxey's army passes in review before you. At the very suggestion the Government printers begin to oil up the presses for another bond issue. At the hint of a third term Washington turns in his grave. Nominate him and the index finger on every Democratic sign board in the country will point back to Benedict Arnold and Judas Iscariot. Elect him and factories will close down, business stagnate, values depreciate, and the long bony fingers of Want will knock at the door of every laboring man's home in the land. Cleveland for President—the thought is synonymous with dishonor, panic, bonds, tramps, bankruptcy, privation, chill, penury, and senility. But the black plague of a third term of Clevelandism will not be visited as a terrible scourge upon the people. He will not be nominated, and if he were, Roosevelt would beat him 10,000,000 votes.

Woman.

The London Express prints this poem with a double reading. Read it as it stands, and woman is highly flattered, but read alternate lines (one and three, two and four of each verse), and the sentiment is very much the reverse:

Happy a man may pass his life
If he's directed by his wife;
If free from matrimonial chains
He's sure to suffer for his pains.
No tongue is able to unfold
The virtues in woman you behold;
The falsehoods that in woman dwell
Are almost imperceptible.

In woman's heart you'll see appear
Truth, darling, of a heart sincere;
Hypocrisy, deceit, and pride,
In woman never can abide.

He didn't have a dollar; he didn't have a dime. His clothes and shoes were looking just as though they'd served their time. He didn't try to kill himself to dodge misfortune's whacks. Instead, he got some ashes and he filled five dozen sacks. Then next he begged a dollar. In the paper in the morn he advertised tin polish that would put the sun to scorn. He kept on advertising and, just now, suffice to say, he's out at California at his cottage on the bay.—Ex.
