Now that the Lincoln County Fair Association have decided to hold an exhibit this fall, it is up to the people to make it a success. In order to accomplish this, there must be harmony all along the line.

There is no method that will advertise a country and its resources as well as a county fair. Farmers and stockmen meet and compare notes, and the produce they have brought for their exhibit, whether it consists of grain, grasses, vegetables or live stock, represents the possibilities that are within the grasp of every rancher in the county and gives them an opportunity to see their own mistakes and wherein they may be corrected.

The board of directors have worked hard to bring this fair to an issue and the appreciation of their services can alone be shown by the universal support of the citizens of the county.

The fair will be held sufficiently late in the season to enable produce to mature and ripen. It is desired by the management that as great a variety of farm products as possible be sent in for exhibition. Don't overlook anything. Grasses, grains, vines roots and vegetables; any natural curiosity, monstrosity, or peculiar growth will be highly appreciated. All kinds of canned goods and preserves are desired. The material for preserving fruit specimens will be furnished free by applying to the president of the association. It is the intention of the management to send all the exhibits that can be preserved to the Oregon Information Bureau at Portland.

Let all unite in making the third annual fair of Lincoln County a brilliant success.

The State Fair.

No time in the history of the Oregon state fair has there been such a good feeling among the agricultural classes towards the success of the fair as exists at the present time. Every section of the state seems to be taking an interest in the fair and promises to give it their hearty support. Eastern Oregon for the first time has promised one or two county exhibits, consisting of agricultural products, while the southern portion of the state will also be represented by a comprehensive exhibit of its agricultural products. Live stock from all over the state is being prepared for this year's fair.

There are reasons for this awakening of the people to the support of the fair. One is, the management has worked hard and faithfully to make the fair as broad as the state itself. The transportation companies have come to their assistance and made very liberal rates on hauling exhibits of all kinds. Another is, the people are beginning to realize that it is time to let the outside world know of the wonderful resources of our state, and believe that the state fair is the proper place to meet the better class of homeseekers. This will make the fair doubly valuable. It will give those who are looking for homes on the Pacific coast an opportunity to see in a body what our state can produce, and where it is produced, without traveling all over the state at great expense. It will also give the exhibitor the best possible opportunity of showing his products, whether it be grains, grasses, fruits, vegetables or live stock.
