Elk City Events.

The high water in the Big Elk and the drift wood broke through the trap at the fish hatchery and let the imprisoned salmon loose. This is unfortunate, as the chinook run is about over.

Chas. Ewing shipped a car load of cattle from this place last week. They went to Portland and the freight was $50. Stock raisers will have to resort to the old way and drive their cattle to market.

VanDusen, the game and fish warden, is out inspecting the hatchery. He thinks the hatchery will not be a success unless the law is enforced forbidding the putting of drift wood in the river.

A. Huyck and family have moved down to the Toner dairy ranch.

There are a good many desirable lots of apples and potatoes waiting for a market. The ranchers are of the opinion that they will have to wait and raise another crop before shipping, as one crop will not bring enough in the market to pay the freight. Mr. Williams shipped some apples to Portland and did not get enough for them to pay for freight and boxes.

The old timer who was telling on the streets during our brief spell of pleasant weather that he has known such weather to last all winter has left town.

Troy Mays and Frank Whetler were in town Tuesday night. They report a successful fishing season.

The Companion as a Christmas Gift.

The Youth's Companion is one of the few gifts that are always appropriate and yet within reach of the smallest purse. It brings to every member of the family something of interest, something of value—a story that cheers, an article that carries the reader into far-off countries or among men who govern, a sketch that amuses, a poem that puts a bit of truth in a new and convincing way, a page of pictures that holds the children spellbound. It is America's home paper—a paper received weekly in more than half a million households in the United States.

If you desire to make a Christmas present of The Youth's Companion, send the publishers the name and address of the person to whom you wish to give The Companion, with $1.75, the annual subscription price. They will send to the address named The Companion's Christmas Packet, all ready for Christmas morning, containing the Christmas number, The Companion Calendar for 1904, lithographed in twelve colors and gold, and subscription certificate for the fifty-two issues of 1904.

The new subscriber for 1904 will receive all the issues of the Companion for the remaining weeks of 1903 free from the time of subscription; also the Companion Calendar for 1904, lithographed in twelve colors and gold.
