FOR PRESIDENT
THEODORE ROOSEVELT
FOR VICE-PRESIDENT
CHARLES W. FAIRBANKS

"According to program," as the Hon. George Brownell of Clackamas would say, President Roosevelt was renominated by acclamation by the Chicago convention and Charles W. Fairbanks of Indiana was chosen as his running mate in the same manner. Senator Fairbanks is one of the brainiest men in the Nation, and has long been regarded as a presidential possibility. A stronger ticket it would not, perhaps, have been possible to name. There is nothing to figure on now except the size of the majority for Roosevelt and Fairbanks, which, it is almost safe to predict, will break all records.

The Japs seem to be holding their own, and a little more, but it is about time for Port Arthur to fall again.

AN ELEPHANT TRAIT.

The Animal While Busy Will Never Injure a Person.

"An elephant never injures a person when it is busy," says an animal trainer with a big circus. "It may sound strange, but there is not a case on record of one getting ugly when it was performing or working. The reason, I think, is that the elephant is an animal of one idea—that is, it can think of only one thing at a time.

"When you put an elephant at work it gives its whole attention to its task. Great power of concentration? No, just inability to think of two things at once. When it gets busy it takes a lot to distract its attention, and it never stops to think about a private grievance. If we start a horse or a dog doing a trick we can't leave it for a minute or it will loaf or stop work altogether, but it is different with an elephant. Once get it started, either alone or with others, and it will go through with its turn without another word. It is absorbed in its work.

"That same trait, I take it, is what makes an elephant such a vicious animal when it gets ugly. It can think of nothing but what has made it angry, and it will not stop until it has torn something to pieces. Oh, yes, an elephant can carry a grudge. It never forgets an injury, and it waits its chance to get even, but when it is busy it forgets the tricks that have been played on it. It is only when it has nothing to do that it gets to brooding over its troubles. Human, eh? Well, I have known folk with that sort of disposition."

Johnny's Premonition.

"Come, Johnny," coaxed his mother. "You may as well confess that you ate the jam."
"No, I won't," blubbered Johnny. "I'll be switched if I do!"—Chicago Tribune.
