FOR PRESIDENT
THEODORE ROOSEVELT
FOR VICE-PRESIDENT
CHARLES W. FAIRBANKS

AS WE WERE SAYING:

A drought in Oregon! That will sound like a joke to the people of the east. However, it looks like rain again.

We pause to note that the San Francisco baseball team is fighting for cellar honors with the Portland Browns. We're still betting on Portland.

The Japs still seem to be having the best of the argument, but Port Arthur still stands—or did when last heard from. It's becoming monotonous.

The "sane" Fourth of July seems to have resulted in as many casualties as the old crazy Fourth. You can't change it. Death and disaster are a necessary feature of our Nation's birthday.

The Corvallis Times says "the 4th was a howling success," also that the splendid oration of Hon. Lawrence T. Harris of Eugene "was wisely brief." We trust the two statements have no connection.

The Democrats could not be more earnest in their national convention work if they stood even a ghost of a chance of winning in November. They have the art of fighting over empty honors down to a science.

At this writing it seems quite probable that the Democrats will name as their candidate for President Judge Alton B. Parker of New York. The Judge is a stronger candidate than Bryan. He doesn't talk much.

Colonel Hofer, the wealthy editor of the Salem Journal, is again enjoying life with his family in their cottage by the sea. We believe Colonel Hofer is still the only editor in Oregon who is financially able to last through a season at Newport.

According to reports, the Turks are again slaughtering the Armenians by the thousands. And the great civilized nations calmly look on, giving vent occasionally to a feeble protest which, it is well understood, will not be recognized. Money is also the root of evil in this case. It is again suggested that the creditors get together and carve the Turkey.

A Portland bartender got married last Saturday evening and treated the boys who appeared to give him an old-fashioned charivari to a 15-gallon keg of beer. Result: One boy in the Good Samaritan hospital minus an eye and otherwise badly injured; the bridegroom and his employer under arrest for giving liquor to minors; other members of the party under arrest for assault and battery. The bride probably realizes that it was an eventful night.
