On your way to Canoe Landing or locality stop at Coquille Thompson's and ask Mrs. Thompson for a dish of those delicious raspberries.

Otis DeLaurier and Frank McCormick are busy making a trial from their chittim camp near Euchre mountain to the Reed place.

Miss Esther Copeland is visiting at the home of her brother, George Chambers, near Chitwood.

C. B. Croso and son Clifford passed through Siletz Monday.

J. A. Archibald, representing the Blaessing Granite Company of Portland, has been doing considerable work here. Among those who patronized the firm are Coquille Thompson and Mrs. U. S. Grant.

The sidewalks are being repaired—a much-needed improvement. Several have had severe falls from loose boards tripping them.

Edith Dedrick, Lena Charlie and Alvina Collins are expected home from Chemawa this week.

Many gallons of wild blackberries are being gathered by the ladies.

Joe Cook is busy cutting hay on his brother's place at Canoe Landing.

John Savage, Tom Jackson, Major Ludson, Mr. Jenkins, Sham Lafayette, Stewart Rooney, Harry Chapman and others have been cutting down trees, slashing brush, corduroying and otherwise greatly improving the Canoe Landing road.

Otis DeLaurier has perfected a turning lathe at the Hall Brothers' mill that will prove a great convenience to many during the season.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Swope secured the services of Mr. Kenta to convey them to C. F. Soule's residence on their way to their ranch home Tuesday.

Robert Collins and Will Soule brought in a load of bark and disposed of it to the Hall Brothers. As they were leaving town they were smoking cigars and singing. We caught the refrain: "We are the chittim kings, etc."

But a small quantity of the hay was damaged by the late rains.

Messrs. Dunlap, Dragar and Lloyd, Mr. Dragar's mother and sister and another young lady went out to Mr. Dunlap's ranch northeast of the Agency Friday.

Mrs. Oscar Brown has been on the sick list, but is recovering rapidly.

Mrs. John Newberry has the organ formerly used in the Catholic church. She is studying music and expects to become a good organist.

Jim Gaitner and Louie Parrish were Siletz callers Wednesday.

Louis Young, who was peeling bark for Al Waugh, went home Saturday.

John Garnier brought up a load of chittim as far as Canoe Landing, and being unable to secure transportation to Siletz readily, sold it to Mr. Jenkins, living on the Pellet Lane place.

Charles Montgomery has sold all of his real estate, except one acre, to his son Edwin.

Al Waugh was in Siletz Wednesday. Charlie Ruhl is kept busy weighing hay.

The hay harvest is nearly over.

We congratulate the people of Toledo on securing the services of O. B. DeLaurier as principal of the schools during the ensuing term. Mr. DeLaurier is thoroughly equipped and qualified for the position. His moral standing is unexcelled, and he has that energy characteristic of the enterprising easterners who are making their homes in our midst. We predict the best of success and a future with no regrets to those who have employed him.

A Pleasant Day.

On Sunday last a number of friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will C. Boone to celebrate the birthday of their son Willie and Mrs. Jerry Lane, which they proceeded to do in orthodox style. They first used water plentifully on Willie and then tried to whip him, but he eluded them by climbing a tree. Everyone was then ready for the excellent dinner which had been prepared, a feature of which was the red-white-and-blue cakes, which were as good as they looked. There was a pie contest—not of eating, the one that could get a pie and run the faster being awarded the pie. The winners were George King and Marion Boone, with Willie Boone and Alice King good seconds. The only casualty was when Alice had to get under the table to eat her pie. She came near losing it even then, although Willie fought valiantly and looked very brave in a white apron, with a fork in his hand. Charlie King says he prefers sugar to salt in his lemonade, but will not make a fuss over it, as he got a fresh glass. After dinner all joined in singing, and Mr. King with his violin and Miss Alice at the organ treated the company to some fine music, which was fully appreciated. Then Uncle Jerry Lane sang "The Old Shoemaker" in his inimitable manner.

It was late when the party broke up, and all united in saying it was one of the most enjoyable days on record.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Lane, Mr. Ben King and family and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. King.

On June 7 a boy was born to the family of W. N. Cook, and on June 19 a daughter was born to the family of Grant Hiscox. [This news is all right, but a little late.—Ed.]

Claude and Ralph Wilson had a narrow escape last week. They sawed down a large alder tree and a small fir that they did not see came down with great force, striking Claude on the head and Ralph across the body. Ralph said he kicked and struggled around awhile before he could breathe and when he came to he thought Claude was dead, but after some work he began to revive and said, "What is it, and where did it come from?" Ralph said, "Claude, you must have a nigger head, or your skull would never have stood that?" They are both able to be around again.

One of A. L. Chitwood's horses stepped in a knot-hole on the Thorn creek bridge Saturday and no doubt would have broken a leg had not plenty of help been at hand. Court, please refuse lumber that has dead knots in it for decking in the future. A loose board was placed over the hole, and it is hoped the supervisor will see that a new plank is soon in the place.

J. E. Wilson had a hard experience one day last week. He heard some one calling in distress, and his generous heart responded. He left home duties and started up the mountain through the wet fern answering often the call for help. He kept on and on, looking for a man in the hug of a bear, or, head down, hanging in some chittim tree, until he reached the top of the Gooser hill; then it seemed to be down in the canyon; but Joe was tired and stopped to locate the sound, when away down the Ohalla, toward Jay Dunn's, he heard the puff, puff, of the logging engine. The damp atmosphere and wind carried the snorting of this iron logging horse clear to Chitwood, and others have been fooled by its distressing sound.

Harry Chitwood of Damascus made us a surprise call on the night of the 16th. He is a nephew of D. J. Chitwood.

Lewis Wilson and family have come to make a home with us sure this time. We welcome them.
