Over There on the lovely Siletz—80

I like to get out with a rod and a reel
And silk line and leaders and flies;
It makes my nerves tingle whenever I feel
The luscious and lusty trout rise.
'Tis then that your truly casts trouble away
And life's heavy burden forgets;
It makes me feel younger to put in a day
Over there on the lovely Siletz.

I whip the wild ripples from morn until eve,
With scanty reward for the work,
While scheming and trying the trout to deceive
And lure from the holes where they lurk.

I get not my pay in the catch of the day,
In inches and pounds that it nets;
I'm paid by my visit with Nature, I say,
Over there on the lovely Siletz.

I wade the bright river and climb the steep banks
And get that tired feeling "for sure,"
Till the limit is reached and my over-worked shanks
Cannot more exertion endure;

And I don't care a snap when I fall on a stone
And the water my mid-section wets,
But just then 'twere better to be all alone
Over there on the lovely Siletz.

And then some.

The W. D. Mixer Company, land agents, with headquarters at Blodgett, is aiding materially in the settlement and upbuilding of Lincoln county. Since starting in the business Mr. Mixer has sold 8000 acres lying along the line of the Corvallis & Eastern, and the advertising pamphlets which he is circulating throughout the east will soon run the sales into big figures. The company has 41 agents, representing various railway companies, the Union Pacific being especially helpful. These agents are talking Lincoln county and doing all in their power to assist home-seekers in finding the spot they're looking for. Mr. Mixer is on the ground and always ready to show them around and hand out tempting bargains in real estate. He is a hustler, and should be appreciated by all who are interested in the advancement of Lincoln county.

County Clerk Ira Wade has been having fun in the hay field this week. The knowing ones say it is a political scheme, that he is training for the Congressional race against Hermann two years hence. We don't believe it. We believe Ira makes hay because he likes it—that is, likes the work—not the hay.

Mrs. Rose Haller and son Walter, returned Wednesday evening from a visit to the St. Louis Fair and at her old home in Indiana. They went to Siletz next morning, where Mrs. Haller will resume her duties as matron at the Indian training school.

Mrs. Annie Hawkins arrived home Monday evening from Leadville, Colo., where she attended a regular session of the board of managers of the Women of Woodcraft.

All who attended the Sunday school picnic Tuesday at Elk City report that it was an all-around success. The children especially enjoyed it.

These officers, we understand, were installed at the regular meeting last Friday evening, except the Advisor, Nellie Gaither, who was absent.

The Mill creek bridge, this side of the Siletz ford, should be repaired at once. Don't wait for an accident.

Postal Clerk Charlie Litchfield and Merchant Jesse Reeder of Yaquina had business in the city Wednesday.

Captain McJankin and his launch Toledo took a party to Elk City Sunday for a picnic. A fine time is reported—also more or less watermelon.

Hans Olson was in Justice Schenck's court yesterday evening on a charge of cruelty to animals, found guilty, and taxed $20 and costs. He will appeal.

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Jacobson of Newport were in the city yesterday. The Bay View House, of which popular hostelry Mr. Jacobson is proprietor, is receiving a good patronage this season.

That Development Convention.

PORTLAND, Or., July 25.—[Special Correspondence.]—That the Oregon Development League convention, to be held at the Marquam Grand Theater in Portland, under the auspices of the Portland Commercial Club, August 2 and 3, will be a magnificent success is now assured. It is desired that all delegates who can do so will beat the Marquam Grand by 9:30 so as to register and receive badges.

There will be but few vet speeches and these will be delivered by practical men in the different industries, and after each address delegates to the convention will be given an opportunity to ask the speakers such questions as they desire and to comment upon the facts presented.

If each and every delegation will prepare condensed reports of actual production, giving not only the results accomplished by growers and producers but the name of that grower or producer, in the same plain, direct language that an Oregon farmer would use in writing to an old friend in one of the distant states, then we will have matter for the use of the newspapers and the Immigration Department of the railroads that will secure results. These reports should be written in duplicate, not only for the use of the Portland papers, but to ensure a complete report of the proceedings.

A round trip open rate, good for every body, has been put on by the railroads, and tickets are good on all trains arriving in Portland on the afternoon of August 1 and the morning of August 2, good to return until August 4.

Residents of Oregon who take advantage of this rate and are not delegates to the convention, will be welcome to attend the convention, occupying seats in the balcony and gallery. The seats in the parquet will be reserved exclusively for delegates. Desiring to keep a record of this convention, not only in type but in illustrated form for general circulation, a snap-shot photograph will be made exactly at eleven o'clock Tuesday morning, August 2. The taking of this picture will only occupy a minute or two of the convention's time.

A committee from the Woman's Club of Portland will have charge of a trolley ride to be given to the wives, daughters, sisters and other ladies accompanying delegates to the convention, for which four large cars have been supplied with the compliments of the Oregon Water Power & Railway Company. This special train of trolley cars will leave the corner of First and Alder streets exactly at 3 p. m. August 2 for a trip to Canemah Park, beyond Oregon City.

Delegates to the convention and ladies accompanying them are cordially invited to attend a reception as the guests of the Commercial Club Tuesday evening from eight to eleven, and during both days of the convention, the rooms and especially the tower of the Commercial Club, will be open for the use of visitors and delegates. All those who have never had the pleasure of a birds-eye view of Portland should improve this opportunity.

The convention will adjourn in ample time to give all the delegates and the ladies accompanying them an opportunity to enjoy a trolley ride over the city, in which ten cars will be used, jointly supplied with the compliments of the City & Suburban Railway Co. and the Portland Portland Railway Co. These cars will start from Third and Yamhill streets Wednesday afternoon, promptly at 3 o'clock, and two citizens of Portland will be upon each car to point out places of especial interest.

TOM RICHARDSON,
Mgr. Portland Commercial Club.

Attention, Comrades.

There will be a meeting of Abe Lincoln Post No. 68, G. A. R., on the first Saturday in August.

F. M. WADSWORTH,
Post Commander.

W. H. Daniel of Big Elk was in the city last night.
