OUR SILETZ FRIENDS

E. T. Hamar has stored most of his chittim bark and is now working at the Monterey hotel near Newport.

Oscar Wood assisted a gentleman from Depot slough to take to that place a large drove of cattle Tuesday.

Robert Colhus and family are now living on their place near C. F. Soule's.

Wm. McLaughlin, an expert shingle worker, is helping the Hall brothers at the mill.

Mrs. Parrish from near Lebanon is visiting at L. D. Wood's at the lower farm. The late Mrs. Wood was her daughter.

Bob Felix has returned from the Salmon river country.

Charlie Ruhl has two large hog tusks that he intends sending to the Lewis and Clark Fair.

Arthur Bensell is painting the Government barns red.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Horning visited Messrs. Halls and sister Sunday.

Do not market your bark. The best place to keep it is on the trees.

Boys and girls enjoy playing with Belle, John Micek's pet bear.

Oat harvest next, then hops, then salmon.

Mrs. C. G. Copeland, Miss Esther, Miss Pearl Hall and Mrs. Alexander went blackberrying on Depot slough Tuesday.

Henry Wesolowski returned Tuesday from a two-weeks' visit at coast points.

Louie Fuller brought in his chittim Wednesday.

Several of our people expressed a laudable desire to attend the annual picnic of the M. E. Sunday school at Elk City, but only a few were able to go.

Pillars for porches are being turned out on the lathe at the mill for parties in Toledo.

William Porter went to Newport the fore part of the week to have some troublesome teeth extracted. Roy Bryant milked his seven cows and remained with the family during his absence.

Frank McCormick was fireman at the mill this week.

Misses Anna Alexander and Esther Copeland visited Miss Elma Waugh and parents at their home east of Canoe Landing Monday.

C. F. Soule was over on a fishing expedition, with only medium success. The fish these warm days seem sulking in the depths, but no better ripples are to be found anywhere than in the Siletz river for fly work.

Andrew Winkler has finished his house and moved into the same on his place northeast of town.

Ira Brown has erected a substantial residence on his ranch home and has it all completed but the roof. Mrs. Brown is establishing a good reputation as a butter maker.

The Government has the best gardens they have had for several years. To

Will Towner the credit belongs. He works for the Government just as he would for an individual and he is to be highly commended for his interest in the work.

Harlan Items.

Haying is about over in our neighborhood and the crop was heavy on an average. The hay was damaged some by the rain. Grain and gardens look fine.

The Bancroft boys are hauling hay from W. B. Mulkey's.

John Foss is doing Mr. Stoner's harvesting while he is doing the chittim act in Washington. He writes that they will do well if chittim brings a fair price.

Mrs. Kester is home again and Mr. Kester is happy, and I don't blame him for batching gets old.

Our postmaster has changed again, Mrs. Hathaway being appointed. We didn't have so much trouble this time, as we have different neighbors on the Hart place.

L. W. Mulvaney is putting up a new barn; also Mr. Hathaway.

Mr. Black has bought a new team of colts, but hasn't got them broke yet, but I think he is good for the job.

It looks home-like to see a woman at the Rowland place when you pass.

Leonard Grant went out to look after the sheep one day last week and found where a bear had killed one the night before. He had six of their bear dogs with him, which he put on the track and they soon had bruin going, but Leonard couldn't keep up, so had to come back without his bear—the first one the boys have failed to get out of 11 since the first of April. One dog came in at 12 o'clock that night, three the next day, and the other two Elijah went to hunt the second day and found them on Alesia.

Most everyone in this neighborhood is using derrick forks to hoist hay into the barn. I guess they find it a great improvement on the old way.

Grant's are enlarging their band of neumes. They drove in a bunch of fine ones last week. They know what is good property in Lincoln county.

The Yaquina River.

Onward, onward, sweeps the river,
'Neath the full moon's gentle ray,
Thro' the valleys, under bridges,
In its bed between the ridges,
Ever on, with gentle motion,
Toward the grand Pacific ocean,
The Yaquina wends its way.

Now beneath the willows bending,
Calm and beautiful it lays;
Then, as if with strong emotion,
Plunges down in wild commotion,
Then, in rapid eddying surges,
Dashes up upon its verges,
And in wild confusion plays.

Then again it smoothes its waters,
And all quietly they lay,
In the silent hour of midnight,
In the soft and gentle moonlight
While the world is wrapped in beauty,
Resting from its care and duty
Of the ever-busy day.

Like a narrow thread of silver
Wends its way between the hills,
'Neath green leafy bowers swinging
And a merry song it's singing,
While its banks beneath the bowers
Bloom with sweet and vernal flowers,
And the air with fragrance fills.

Thus the river thro' the woodland
Wends its solitary way,
Now 'tis calm and gently sleeping,
Now in cataracts 'tis leaping.
Coming from pure founts prolific,
Going to the grand Pacific,
Where the heaving billows play.
