Protect the Clam.

It is gratifying to note that in the general hustling to protect game, that sport-giving bird, the salt water crab, has not been overlooked. Fifty crabs a day is considered a reasonable number for one hunter to bring down in a day, and indeed the man who would exceed this limit must be a game hog of the worst description. So far we have not seen a champion of the silent but deeply ruminative clam step forth. Fish are to be safe on the overland route and fishhooks smaller than a bower anchor were to have been contraband, but not a bill has been introduced to protect the hard-working clam, who furnishes us with chowder, to say nothing of rendering possible that most delightful of all fresco banquets, the clam bake. We call upon some Representative from a seaboard county to defend the clam. Let no man be permitted to shoot more than 25 a day or use a gill-net with meshes smaller than a foot square. Make it felony to rob a clam's nest of its eggs, and above all provide a punishment for the heartless persons who make two clams do the work of 50 in their urns of clam nectar.—Wexford Jones in the Oregonian.

We trust Lincoln county's able Representative, Hon. "Jim" Cooper, will get busy without further notice.

The Portland Journal says $351,000 has been expended in operating the dredge Chinook at the mouth of the Columbia, but "she has not been worth a penny in permanently deepening the bar." But just think of the additional prestige which such a wad of money brings to this mighty stream. No other port on the Pacific can get that amount to fool away, and only a few can secure a small fraction thereof to be wisely expended.

It is now rumored that ex-Governor Geer is perfectly willing to be the successor of Congressman Binger Hermann. Mr. Geer is all right, but he won't do. He is too big a man for the place. Hermann's successor should be some man of only average stature and ability, who will not be noticed by Hitchcock.

A cougar has been enjoying himself within the limits of Portland during the past week. The effort to exterminate the beast will probably be successful, as Sheriff Word of Multnomah seems determined to rid the city of all undesirable inhabitants before the opening day of the Lewis and Clark Fair.

Even the common average man has discovered that many a woman makes herself prematurely old by trying to make herself appear just as young as she used to be.

A Portland preacher, says the Journal, used a $100 bill Sunday evening in illustrating a sermon. Without further proof we are compelled to believe it was stage money.

If the ice-bound, blizzard-swept East will only quit chasing the almighty dollar long enough to pay us a visit we'll show it something nice in the weather line.

THE LEADER tenders its most hearty congratulations to Hon. George Brownell. That indictment has placed him in the list of Oregon's really great men. Next!

The Minnesota Educational Exhibit, which won the grand prize at St. Louis, will be sent to the Lewis and Clark Exposition.

Uncle Sam has at last begun an action against the Paper Trust. Very naturally, we're all pulling for Uncle Sam.

New Manager in Charge.

T. H. Curtis of Astoria, appointed by A. B. Hammond to take the position of manager of the Corvallis & Eastern railroad to succeed the late Edwin Stone, is here since Sunday and was busily engaged in the general offices of the company yesterday in familiarizing himself with the work of the office and the needs of the line. He is fairly familiar with the road, having frequently visited here and along the line of the Corvallis & Eastern, and as he is person

Said bids will be received up to 12 o'clock, noon, of the various days upon which they are listed to be opened in above schedule, and must be enclosed in sealed envelopes directed to Knott C. Egbert, Superintendent, Siletz, Oregon.
Envelopes containing such bids should not have noted thereon the description of the lands to which the bids relate, but there shall be noted on such envelopes the date upon which the bid is to be opened. KNOTT C. EGBERT, Supt. and Special Disbursing Agent, in Charge of Siletz Agency, Oregon.

ally known to the officers of the road, is finding the work of becoming thoroughly acquainted with his duties rather an easy task, for he has the hearty co-operation of the officials. Mr. Curtis is one of Mr. Hammond's right-hand men in Oregon, is vice-president of the Astoria & Columbia River railroad. He is a civil engineer and a practical railroad man, and the same excellent business methods heretofore in vogue on the road will be pursued by him. For the present he will not spend all of his time here, as he has duties on the Astoria road that will take up part of his time there.

Mr. Curtis is a quiet, pleasant gentleman, a man of few words, thoroughly informed on his work and the needs of the country through which the line passes, and his administration of the affairs of the office of manager will doubtless meet with success.—Albany Herald.

For Sale.

I will sell my 400 acre stock ranch located in Little Elk valley, 4 1/2 miles to station on the C. & E. Railroad. 90 acres in pasture and meadow; two good barns and house; good well; plenty of running water the year round; good out range. For further information call on or address IRVEN MAGEE, Eddyville, Oregon.

Oregonian and LEADER only $2.

Croup

Begins with the symptoms of a common cold; there is chilliness, sneezing, sore throat, hot skin, quick pulse, hoarseness and impeded respiration. Give frequent small doses of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, (the child will cry for it) and at the first sign of a croupy cough, apply frequently Ballard's Snow Lintment to the throat.

Mrs. A. Vliet, New Castle, Cal., writes on March 19, 1901: "I think Ballard's Horehound Syrup a wonderful remedy, and so pleasant." 25c. 50c. and $1 at Otto O. Kroegstad's.

Talk-o-phone Given Away.

With every purchase of fifty cents worth of garden, vegetable and flower seed you will be entitled to a free ticket by which you may win the best talking singing and playing machine now on the market. Sample of the machine seen and heard at my store or at Landreth's barbershop. Yours for business. OTTO O. KROEGSTAD.

For Sale—Or will trade for cattle: One team of ponies; will work or ride; one wagon, Chattanooga make, inch and a quarter tire; will sell at a bargain; can be seen at my ranch, Siletz bay, or address me at Kernville, Oregon. JESSE FARRIN.
