We regret to announce that the Portland baseball team is again headed toward the cellar.

A Milwaukee (Wis.) bank president stole the neat sum of $1,450,000, but lost it all in speculation. He ought to get at least two years for such a crime.

There are eighteen saloons within six blocks of the Lewis and Clark Fair grounds at Portland and several more will soon be ready for business. Carry the news to Kentucky.

The Russian and Japanese fleets are still supposed to be "approaching each other." As they have been doing this for several weeks, the grand collision may occur at any time during the next six months.

More snowstorms and blizzards have been reported from the middle west and as far south as the Texas panhandle during the past week. This is probably the source of Oregon's recent light frosts. We are bound to catch a little of the sloopover occasionally.

After receiving notice that the supreme court had decided that they had a perfect right to act just like white men, two California Indians got drunk a few days ago and then got into a fight. One of them was shot dead and the other probably fatally caryed with a knife.

A woman has been appointed Market Inspector of Portland. This is one of the most sensible acts ever perpetrated by the powers of our metropolis. Here is an inspector who will inspect. Every intelligent woman is the enemy of filth. Many of the so-called lords of creation are not so particular.

Recently published governmental statistics show that the United States consumes more coffee than any other nation on earth; the United Kingdom leads in tea drinking, Germany in beer, Russia in whisky and other distilled spirits and France in wine. Coffee and tea seem to have the best of the argument when it comes to odious comparisons.

A movement is on foot to make two states of Pennsylvania and call the western half Allegheny. Of course it is a Republican scheme to secure more Republican Congressmen, United States Senators and Presidential Electors, but it would be a great and wealthy state, ranking seventh in population and containing the largest steel plants in the world.

Oregon's State Printer continues to be the target of certain newspaper men who evidently want his job. After sleeping and dreaming over it, and making some very careful guesses, they are satisfied that the salary is about two-thirds graft. There is nothing which comes nearer reaching the limit of insignificance than the printer who envies the printer who receives fair compensation for his labor and capital invested.

Judge Bellinger Tuesday morning ruled against the plea in abatement made by Senator Mitchell's attorney, and Prosecutor Heney has promised the Senator a trial at the earliest possible date. Judge Bellinger sustained Heney at every turn in the road, declared that Heney isn't prejudiced, and, in fact, held out not a grain of hope to the indicted brigade. It is discouraging to find all the goody-goody people on one side of a great case.

There is quietly at work in this country a more effective agency for the elimination of drunkenness than all of the temperance societies that can be organized. The increased competition which labor is forced to meet has resulted in the tippler being placed at such a decided disadvantage that he can no longer secure employment on even terms with the man who does not indulge in spirituous liquors. Last week 4000 employees of the Union Railway Company at St. Louis were notified that instant dismissal would be the penalty if any of them were found frequenting saloons or racetracks. The almighty dollar is, of course, the underlying cause of this reform, but its effectiveness is beyond question.—Oregonian.

About Rheumatism.

There are few diseases that inflict more torture than rheumatism and there is probably no disease for which such a varied and useless lot of remedies have been suggested. To say that it can be cured is, therefore, a bold statement to make, but Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which enjoys an extensive sale, has met with great success in the treatment of this disease. One application of Pain Balm affords such quick relief and costs but a trifle? For sale by O. O. Krostad.
