When East Meets West.

The East needs an introduction to the Middle West. Both the East and Middle West need an introduction to the Far West. That introduction is going to be made, both formally and informally—you may take your choice—this year, and the Lewis and Clark Exposition at Portland, Oregon, is going to be the introducer. This Exposition, which will open June 1, will be useful in many ways, but in no way will it be more useful to Americans than in making the far-divided sections of this great country acquainted with each other. What does the man who lives in Portland, Maine, for instance, know about the man whose home is at Portland, Oregon?

The Exposition at Portland will bring together both ends and the middle and make them mutually acquainted. The East ought to know more about the West than the West knows about the East, for Easterners travel in the West more than Westerners travel in the East; but somehow these touring Easterners do not seem to diffuse their knowledge of the West when they return home. Or perhaps the home-staying Easterners refuse to believe what their travel-wise neighbors tell them of the West, because some of their tales appear unbelievable to the conservative Easterner.

On the other hand, the East has gained a mighty misconception of the West by placing credence in tales entirely too tall for the proper stature of truth and veracity. The "wild and woolly" West is the only West which much of the East wots of. The tamed and tranquil West they refuse to believe in, and they entertain also, in some quarters, a notion that the West is incapable of complete civilization.

It is related that a Boston woman who visited St. Louis last year was amazed to learn that the telephone was in general use throughout that city. What will be her astonishment to find in Portland not only the telephone that talks, but the telephone that sees? At the Lewis and Clark Exposition a device whereby one talking through a telephone may see the reflected features of the person at the other end of the line will be exhibited in practical operation for the first time in public; and—strange to state—it is the invention of a Portland man.

The East and the West will become acquainted at Portland. This will clear up many misconceptions on each side and will serve the stronger to cement the several sections of our land.

An Editor's Opinion of the Royal Gorge.

Elyth Tozier Weathered, in describing a recent trip over the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad, says in "The Exposition":

"At last the goal of the ambition of years has been reached—marvelous, wonderful, grand and inspiring Royal Gorge is on either hand. The only disappointing thing is you only have one pair of eyes, while the train darts in and out of the tremendous chasm. If any who have never seen it are wondering how it looks just go and see. Thousands have tried to describe it, yet every attempt falls short of giving the subject justice."

If you contemplate a trip East, write W. C. McBride, 124 Third street, Portland, Ore., for booklets picturing Colorado's famous scenery, and any other information you may desire.

Why Suffer From Rheumatism.

Why suffer from rheumatism when one application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm will relieve the pain? The quick relief this liniment affords makes rest and sleep possible, and that alone is worth many times its cost. Many who have used it hoping only for a short relief from suffering have been bappily surprised to find that after a while the relief became permanent. Mrs. V. H. Leggett of Yum Yum, Tennessee, U. S. A., writes: "I am a great sufferer from rheumatism, all over from head to foot, and Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the only thing that will relieve the pain." For sale by O. O. Krogstad.

"The girls who sold kisses at the church fair so's to get a new velvet carpet for the preacher's house is being much praised for their cleverness," remarked Uncle Rastus in one of our exchanges, "but if poor old crippled-up Bill Burwick's gals 'ud sell enough so's the old man could raise the mortgage, wouldn't there be an awful howl go up."

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Very Best.

"I have been using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and want to say it is the best cough medicine I have ever taken," says Geo. L. Chubb, a merchant of Harlan, Mich. There is no question about about its being the best as it will cure a cold in less time than any other treatment. It should always be kept in the house ready for instant use, for a cold can be cured in much less time when promptly treated. For sale by O. O. Krogstad.

Rev. I. D. Driver, known by nearly every one in Oregon, tells a good story on himself. While he was a member of the Oregon legislature some years ago, he was accosted at the Willamette Hotel in Salem by a man who was very much under the influence of liquor. The man insisted upon heartily shaking hands with Dr. Driver. "Why, Dr. Driver, I know you very well (hic) for you converted me over twenty-eight years ago." Dr. Driver answered: "I thought it was some of my work, for I was sure the Lord had nothing to do with it."—Statesman.

Exposure

To cold draughts of air, to keen and cutting winds, sudden changes of temperature, scanty clothing, undue exposure of the throat and neck after public speaking and singing, bring on coughs and colds. Ballard's Horehound Syrup is the best cure.

Mrs. A. Barr, Houston, Texas, writes, Jan. 31, 1902: "One bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup cured me of a very bad cough. It is very pleasant to take." 25c, 50c, $1. Sold by O. O. Krogstad.

Here's a Good One.

With the June number will begin the Pacific Monthly's series of special editions for the year 1905. They will comprise a number for Portland, for Seattle, for Southern California, for San Francisco and the souvenir number of the Lewis and Clark Exposition, also a special automobile number. The articles of Dr. Wolf von Schierbrand, six in number, on "The Coming Supremacy of the Pacific" are also promised, and the plans contemplated by the publishers will, without question, place the Pacific Monthly far in advance, not only of present competitors, but also into the unreachable class of periodical literature on the Pacific Coast. The Pacific Monthly is sold to regular subscribers at the extremely low price of $1 per year. We have made an arrangement with the publishers by which we are able to offer it in connection with THE LEADER (both publications) for $1.50 a year.
