

Lincoln County Leader.

Volume XIII.

Toledo, Lincoln County, Oregon, Friday, July 21, 1905.

Number 21

The Windup.

The July term of Circuit Court for Lincoln county came to a close last Friday afternoon when the Grand Jury returned "not a true bill" in the case of the State of Oregon vs. Fred Green and Minnie Green.

The details of this case are well-known to readers of THE LEADER, and a review would be a waste of time and space. E. G. Sharratt is still dead, and those who believe, or profess to believe, he committed suicide constitute a very small minority. One of the members of the Grand Jury informs us that the evidence supported the theory of murder, but did not point to the perpetrators of the crime—in other words, did not prove the guilt of the accused. If a Grand Jury can legally usurp the functions of a trial jury, then the latter might well be banished from the dispensary of justice. It is not for THE LEADER to say the proceedings were illegal or irregular, but they certainly were somewhat unusual, and by no means satisfactory to the majority of our citizens, who desired that the case be tried in open court, and upon its merits. It surely would have cost no more—possibly not as much. When Court convened the State was ready to proceed with the case, but no little delay and consequent expense resulted from the absence of witnesses for the defense. Another point: If the evidence was all on the side of the defense, then the defense had nothing to fear from a trial; in fact, a vindication of this nature would have brought more glory to the already more or less illustrious attorneys for the defense, and at the same time been of more value to the defendants. If the defense had a sure thing, one can hardly understand why an attorney for the defense did not turn down the opportunity to do regulation trial stunts behind the barred doors of the Grand Jury room and thus give the admiring populace a chance to see how he did it. What a lot of sweetness has been wasted on the desert air!

Baseball.

A good game was played at Siletz on the 16th (Sunday, by the way) between the Siletz Warriors and the Tigers of Toledo, the latter winning by a score of 18 to 12. Siletz played an errorless game, but three bobbles by the Tigers let in six runs. Jim Brown struck out 11 of the Siletz batters. Following is the lineup and score by innings:

Warriors	Tigers

So-Boss-So keeps flies from your cows. STEWART'S STORE.

The Corbin-Thelma Company.

This first-class attraction, presenting up-to-date vaudeville and exhibitions of the magician's art, will appear in in Woodmen Hall, tomorrow (Saturday) night, July 22—one night only. Entertainment will begin at 8 o'clock; doors open at 7:30.

The Keystone.

When in Newport go to the Keystone for ice cream, served in all the latest styles; also a very choice line of confectionery, cigars and souvenir cards. A. D. SHOLLENBERG, Proprietor.

Stewart's Store talks shoes this week.

When in Newport go to the Bon Ton for cigars, tobacco and confectionery.

Mrs. E. J. Avery and children left Wednesday morning for a month's visit in Portland.

Roy Bryant left last Saturday for his home at Sheridan, where he has secured employment.

Round trip tickets from Toledo to the Fair, good for 30 days, $6.85 via Corvallis, $7.25 via Albany.

Mrs. K. C. Egbert and little daughter and Miss Edythe Hall of Siletz went to Portland Tuesday for a brief visit to the Fair.

Dennis Cusack returned Wednesday evening from a protracted visit to Portland and the Fair. He will soon be busy again on his Siletz farm.

Attention is called to the fact that the time for opening the bids for raising and repairing the schoolhouse has been extended one week, or to Saturday July 29.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Brown, who have been enjoying their vacation with relatives and friends at Siletz, left Tuesday for Yainax, where Johnnie is industrial teacher at the Indian school.

The Lincoln County Telephone company received a large supply of telephones and fixtures the fore part of the week and is busily engaged in stringing the town and taking orders for 'phones.

Harry Eyer is in Toledo again, after an absence of about eighteen months. You will find him in McCaulou's store, where he will be pleased to meet all his old friends and place a few new ones on his list.

It is reported that H. H. Cook of Beaver creek will soon remove to Toledo and establish a woodenware factory. Mr. Cook knows how, and the raw material is here. There is no reason why the enterprise should not meet with success.

O. A. Hooker and family, who have been occupying the Judge Brown residence, have moved into the A. W. Rogers property over in the north end. Mr. Rogers and daughter left yesterday for their farm home near Chitwood, where they will reside during the summer.

I. N. Gallagher of Inkster, N. D., who had been visiting his old neighbors, Norman Anderson and George Hall, left for his home the fore part of the week. He came out to take in the Fair at Portland and, like many others, ran down to size up the attractions of Lincoln county.

The wonderful Thelma, at Woodmen Hall, tomorrow night. Write a question on a slip of paper, place same in your pocket, and Thelma will answer it without having seen it or having been informed as to its nature. Other unexplainable acts peculiar to the very few persons on earth possessed of this power will be presented.

B. H. Pennington of Clarksville, Ark., is visiting at the home of his aunt, Mrs. C. E. Hawkins, after viewing the Lewis and Clark Fair. One of the very pleasant features of his visit is the trout-fishing expedition to Drift creek, in company of Mr. Hawkins and son Chauncey, which at this writing is still on. P. S.—Renus Arnold was a late attachment to the party.

Peter Schirmer sends to the Fair this week a nice lot of his world-beating strawberries. Thomas Butler contributes some fine bunches of barley; C. U. Damon of Chitwood sends a mammoth sample of rape, the popular forage plant; Ira Brown of Siletz turns in some 7-foot oats. This helps ever so much more than kicking and growling. Next! P. S.—Gabriel Dahl if next, with some fine vegetables. Next!

Iver Storlie of Lanesboro, Minn., was in the city a few days ago. Mr. Storlie was visiting the Lewis and Clark Fair and was persuaded by a citizen of the Alsea bay country to take a look at Lincoln county, with the result that the gentleman has purchased a farm near Bay View and will bring his family from Minnesota as soon as he can dispose of his property there. Here is a pointer for all our citizens: When you visit the Fair, talk for Lincoln county. Mr. Storlie is an old acquaintance of our fellow-citizens K. M. Borgen and Otto O. Krogstad.

The Hint Hornerian.

On his return recently from an extended tour through eastern Oregon, Prof. J. B. Horner of the Oregon Agricultural College made the following statement to THE LEADER:

"Eastern Oregon is a vast wealth-producing region; and, as might be expected, the people as a rule are either well-to-do or wealthy. They are an active, busy people, who are bringing the country to the front, and they are thoroughly loyal to western Oregon, where they are frequent visitors. In Sherman, Wasco and Umatilla counties I met many who have sniffed the ocean breeze and enjoyed the scenery of Yaquina Bay. They all seem to think they will come again and bring others. It occurs to me, therefore, that it is our duty to acquaint visiting friends with the seaside and other attractions of the state, so they will visit every locality and become acquainted with the resources. This may induce them to return soon, with the steadfast resolution to become citizens of Oregon. Evidently this is an opportunity to do some telling letter-writing for Oregon.

"Oregon seaside resorts certainly rank with the finest in the world. Every attraction belonging to ocean and beach may be found here; and it is but patriotic and proper to announce this fact to friends visiting the Lewis and Clark Fair, so that when they come so far they may see and enjoy more than their hearts could have hoped.

"The enjoyable journeys through our delightful valleys will impress so many from dryer localities with our green fields, pretty meadows and garden homes, where contentment reigns, absolute and supreme."

It is to be hoped these timely suggestions from a well-known and highly respected citizen are not wasted. Stand up for Lincoln county.

Circle Installs.

Syringa Circle No. 21, Women of Woodcraft, installed its new officers last Friday night and otherwise entertained Pochontas Camp. Following are the officers installed:

Guardian Neighbor, Nellie Gaither; Past Guardian Neighbor, Ada Soule; Adviser, Margory Alexander; Magician, Ilona Howell; Attendant, Lulu Gildersleeve; Inner Sentinel, Mary Arnold; Outer Sentinel, Annetta Krogstad; Musician, Emma Crosno. Grand Manager Annie Hawkins was the installing officer.

At the conclusion of the ceremony of installation the Woodmen selected partners for supper by guessing them by their eyes as they peeped through two peep-holes in a screen. Some of the choppers couldn't guess a little bit—a fact much to their credit when you sit down quietly and ponder over it awhile. Don't you really think so?

Refreshments were followed by the usual tribute to the farmer's dog, and another good time was placed to the credit of Syringa Circle.

Dr. F. M. Carter of Yaquina had business in the city yesterday.

Owen Graves, the genial Bon Ton man, was up from Newport Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Starr left yesterday morning for a month's outing at Otter Rock.

Miss Edna Hoeftin of Coburg is in the city, the guest of her brother George and family.

Miss Lottie Krogstad, returned last Saturday evening from an absence of several weeks in Portland.

George Hall, the North Beach liveryman and guardian angel of the summer girls, was in the city Wednesday.

George Reeve went to Philomath Tuesday to purchase some dairy cows. Mr. Reeve expects to become a patron of the Toledo creamery.

S. J. Crosno and his cousin, Miss Cora Wells, of Mount Vernon, Ill., arrived yesterday evening and are guests of C. B. Crosno and family.

Smokers, try the Tom Cat 5-cent cigar at Landreth's. With each 100 bands from these cigars you get a ticket to the Lewis and Clark Fair.

Rev. H. G. Kemp of Siletz departed Tuesday morning for Sacramento, Cal., in the interest of his health. He expects to be absent from one to two months.

Al Waugh, Stoney Wells, Sam Center and Hurley Lutz are making hay this week on the former's place on the Siletz. Their tools consist largely of rifles, fishing rods, dogs and concealed weapons. P. S.—They're back again, having run out of concealed weapons.

The Yaquina Bay Mutual Telephone and Improvement Company will soon have completed its line through the county east and west, connecting with the valley and world at large. Within two or three weeks, it is reported, phones will be installed and the line in operation.

Deputy United States Marshal H. T. Jones of Portland arrived in the city with a pocketful of subpoenas for witnesses in the W. N. Jones land fraud case. County Clerk Ira Wade, Fred Stanton and John Micek went to the seat of trouble yesterday, and others are expected to follow them on short notice.

Russell Jeffreys of Nome, Alaska, is visiting his cousin, Mrs. T. P. Fish. Although but 15 years of age, Russell recently graduated from the Nome High School. He talks entertainingly of the famous gold camp of the north and carries a full cargo of information regarding the country. He will remain in Toledo about a month.

That tannery, which has been talked more or less for several months, is a go. J. W. Smith, an expert tanner, has leased a site on the McJunkin place on Olaha and will at once begin constructing the necessary buildings. He has associated with him in the enterprise Toledo business men whose names are not for publication at this stage of the game—so our reporter was pointedly informed.

The Ladies' Aid Society met Tuesday with Mrs. Olive Nye and elected the following officers for the ensuing six months: Mrs. Clementine Brown, president; Mrs. E. J. Avery, vice president; Mrs. I. W. Derrick, secretary; Mrs. Elma Hyde, treasurer. In addition to the business transacted those present report a very pleasant social time. They appreciate the kindness of J. F. Stewart, who furnished the conveyance. It was an old-fashioned hay-rack party—minus the boys.

Stop those pesky flies killing your cows by using So-Boss-So.

STEWART'S STORE.

Wicked Albany!

A dispatch from Albany to the Portland Journal says:

"Waugh & Wade and Gustav Olsen, two saloon firms of this place, were indicted for selling liquor on Sunday and fines of $25 each were paid by them."

For Sale.

Household goods, boat, and other articles; also bees, growing vegetables etc. A bargain if taken at once.

E. W. SAWDON, Butler place, near mouth of Mill Creek.

You will find me in the Landreth building with a choice stock of Dry Goods and Gents' Furnishings. The latest and best of everything in these lines, at very reasonable figures. Farmers and workmen will find just what they want in my large stock of "Boss of the Road" overalls. Come in and see me. J. S. ARIN.

Baseball! Baseball!

A series of baseball games has been arranged to be played at Newport every Sunday during the summer season hereafter. The first game will be played next Sunday, July 23, between the Corvallis and the Siletz Indian boys. Low Sunday excursion rates from all points on the C. & E. Come and enjoy the national sport and a day at the seaside. Fare from Toledo, 50 cents round trip.

The New Judge.

Circuit Judge L. T. Harris seems to take kindly to the bench and will no doubt be as good as the best when the "new" wears off. His dignified and gentlemanly bearing and evident determination to be fair and impartial won him the undivided respect of those present during the session. There was some regret expressed, however, that he lacked the power to sentence a couple of lawyers to a protracted term in Portland or some other Henezyized town.

Stockmen's Meeting.

There will be a meeting of the Lincoln County Stockmen's Association at Eddyville, Or., on Saturday, July 29, 1905, at 10 o'clock a. m. J. G. STANDARD, Secretary.
