Harmony is the Stuff.

A large number of various kinds of Republicans assembled in Portland on the 12th inst. and got together, as per plans and specifications. This was a sensible act—if they all meant it. THE LEADER sincerely hopes the brand of harmony concocted on that occasion will prove too solid to sever with the well-worn hatchet of erstwhile warring factions.

But what is to be the price of this harmony? Will a few would-be leaders who are hungry for office, and who have been mainly responsible for all the party's trouble in Oregon, be permitted to run things, or will they be decent and content to occupy the stool of repentance until they have squared themselves? Republicans of Oregon may cry "Peace!" but there is no peace and will be no peace until the outlaws in the party are sent to the rear. They are not needed, either as leaders, representatives at the national capital or state officials, and if they really desire Republican success, they will take the hint. There are plenty of good men in the party who have not been busy making enemies.

P. S.—Lincoln county has no candidates for any of the above-mentioned offices.

Michael Cudaby, the millionaire meat man, will spend $6,000,000 in St. Louis fighting the Standard Oil company. It's odds that John D. will make Mike look like a "piker."

Ex-Candidate William Jennings Bryan is broadening his mind over in little Japan. It must be conceded that William Jennings is looking in a likely spot for modern ideas, but when he has completed his tour of the world he will be honest enough to concede there is no place like home. We lead! others follow.

President Roosevelt's present trip through the sunny South has, of course, no political significance, as he has repeatedly declared he will never again be a candidate for President. A well-known citizen of Oregon repeatedly said he would not be a candidate for United States Senator, but that has nothing to do with the case.

Arkansas' Big Debt.

A mighty small proportion of the people of the United States know that the state of Arkansas owes the famous Smithsonian Institution, in Washington, nearly $2,000,000, which it has not the faintest intention of paying. In 1838, the first year of the reign of the late Queen Victoria, the United States received on account of the Smithsonian bequest, the details of which are too well known to require repetition, a sum aggregating $500,000. A good proportion of this was by act of congress invested in bonds of the state of Arkansas. Not a cent of the principal or interest of this ever has been paid. The bonds now are moldering in the vaults of the United States treasury in Washington, with coupons untouched by the scissors. And there they probably will remain for all time. The federal government was forced to make good Arkansas' delinquency and appropriate money for the inauguration and maintenance of the institution which is now famous all over the country.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Chicken For Invalids.

Some people think it would be impossible to boil less than a whole chicken to produce a satisfactory result, and, as an invalid can only eat a very small portion, the rest would have to be eaten by other persons—a needless extravagance, as a half or even a quarter of a fowl can be prepared thus, and so both monotony and waste can be avoided.

If possible, stew the piece in stock, enough to cover the chicken, but if this is not at hand put an onion, a carrot and a few pieces of bacon rind into the water to give it flavor. Bring the liquid to the boil, put in the piece of chicken, boil for a minute and then pull back the pan off the fire and simmer gently until the chicken is tender.

When it is done take it out and make a sauce by adding to one cupful of the stock in which it was boiled four table-spoonfuls of milk and a beaten egg. Stir this over the fire for a minute or two, but do not let it boil, and serve while hot.

Too Busy to Work.

The luxury of physical inactivity appears to be fully appreciated in the south, writes Mr. Bradford Torrey in "Nature's Invitation," and as an illustration he tells of a walk he took near

Said bids will be received up to 12 o'clock, noon, of the various days upon which they are listed to be opened in above schedule, and must be enclosed in sealed envelopes directed to Knott C. Egbert, Superintendent, Siletz, Oregon. Envelopes containing such bids should not have noted thereon the description of the lands to which the bids relate, but there shall be noted on such envelopes the date upon which the bid is to be opened. Bidders should submit a draft on some Portland bank; otherwise remit enough to cover exchange on outside banks.

Cures Chills and Fever.

G. W. Wirt, Nacogdoches, Texas, says: "His daughter had chills and fever for three years; he could not find anything that would help her till he used Herbine. His wife will not keep house without it, and cannot say too much for it." 50c. Sold by O. O. Krogstad.

Miami, Fla., and of a conversation he overheard:

I was walking away from the city at a rather brisk pace one morning when I passed a lonesome shanty. A white man sat upon the rude piazza, and another man and a boy stood near. "Are you going to work today?" asked the boy of the occupant of the piazza.

"No," was the answer, quick and pithy.

"Why not?"

"I ain't got time."

I do not expect to hear the philosophy of indolence more succinctly and pointedly stated if I live a thousand years.

A Nice Point of Law.

During Queen Victoria's reign one of the solicitors of the queen who had jurisdiction over capital cases chanced to be a man named Bacon. By a curious chance a man named Hogg was condemned to death under his jurisdiction. The day before the execution Hogg sent for his executioner, Bacon. The prisoner pleaded for interference in his case because of his claims of relationship to Bacon. The solicitor, always ready with a reply, answered: "I have no proof of our relationship. You are doubtless mistaken. At any rate, the execution must take place, for only in that way can matters be set right. Hogg is not Bacon until it is dead." It is said the prisoner laughed in spite of himself.

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION.

United States Land Office, Portland, Oregon, August 21, 1905

Notice is hereby given that in compliance with the provisions of the act of Congress of June 3, 1878, entitled "An act for the sale of timber lands in the states of California, Oregon, Nevada and Washington Territory," as extended to all public land states by act of August 4, 1892, James L. Keith, of Galesburg, county of Kalamazoo state of Michigan, has this day filed in this office his sworn statement No. 6653, for the purchase of the n 1/2 of se 1/4, and ne 1/4 of sw 1/4, and se 1/4 of nw 1/4 of Section No. 15 Township No. 12 south, Range No. 10 west, and will offer proof to show that the land sought is more valuable for its timber or stone than for agricultural purposes, and to establish his claim to said land before Ira Wade, County Clerk of Lincoln county at Toledo, Oregon, on Saturday, the 18th day of November, 1905.

He names as witnesses: Samuel E. Beaver, George W. Myers, Julius Busch and Samuel J. Stewart, all of Toledo, Oregon.

Any and all persons claiming adversely the above-described lands are requested to file their claims in this office on or before said 18th day of November, 1905.

ALGERNON S. DRESSER, Register.
