MORE OF THE SAME

While THE LEADER believes the direct primary law has much merit, it does not believe any legislative candidate should pledge himself to vote for the candidate for United States Senator who receives a mere plurality of the votes cast in the general election as an expression of personal preference only. Such a pledge spells danger. To illustrate: Portland and Multnomah county have a very large Republican majority—that is, when the Republican candidate is a Portland citizen. This means that with one candidate from Portland and two or three others from different parts of the state, the Portland man would in all probability secure the nomination by a plurality. Now, there would be no objection to this result if the successful Portland candidate should happen to be all right, but what if he isn't all right by a darn sight? Local pride and local interests may make it easy to forgive a candidate's trespasses and shortcomings—and money, like charity, may cover a multitude of sins. Plurality nominations should be considered binding only when the nominee's public, private and political record needs no defense. Of course, there is nothing personal in this little argument. Another point: Members of the Legislature are the hired men of their respective districts, and they should not be tied hard and fast by a pledge which may compel them to support a man whom their constituents do not favor—for good and sufficient reasons. This brings us back to the old subject. When men who have no moral right to seek office turn their talents into other channels, then will Harmony prevail and voters cease to be bored by circular letters breathing deep concern for the dear people.

Anything new from Jonathan?

There are others. The recent rains in California prove it.

The crop of candidates is growing right along, but THE LEADER does not feel at liberty to give names and size of aspirations until authorized to do so.

The Oregonian editorially refers to Sam Jones, the somewhat famous so-called evangelist, as "the reverend expert in sacred vaudeville." This seems to hit Sam squarely amidsthips.

When its dodgasted enemies are all dead and a few other obstacles are removed, Lincoln county will soon take its natural position in the front rank. Oh, do not be discouraged, for Portland is your friend!

We disclose no secret when we state that our wise Democratic brethren are praying for the nomination of the "King of French Prairie" and the high-geered gentleman who didn't help to furnish the state with a Republican Governor two years ago next votin' time.

We note that the Duchess of Marlborough underwent an operation for some inward trouble and thereby got her picture in the Oregonian. We trust that all women who hunger and thirst after fame will not take the hint and convert the leading newspaper of the Pacific coast into a mere photograph album.

A farmer of Clackamas county has brought suit against his two sons to recover possession of real estate valued at $14,000. The father alleges that his boys got him drunk and then persuaded him to sign a paper which proved to be a deed to the property. The old man needs a guardian. He would better let the boys keep the land and sue for alimony.

The orchardists of the valley—some of them—are organizing to wage war against insect pests and place fruit-growing where it belongs—among the leading industries of the state. There is no good reason why the Hood River and Medford districts should have all the fame as apple producers. Those sections pay for their reputations by hard, practical and incessant work. They excel many other localities only in energy and something somewhat superior to horse sense. No modern lip Van Winkle can pose as their competitor. Is the point visible?

Said bids will be received up to 12 o'clock, noon, of the various days upon which they are listed to be opened in above schedule, and must be enclosed in sealed envelopes directed to Knott C. Egbert, Superintendent, Siletz, Oregon. Envelopes containing such bids should not have noted thereon the description of the lands to which the bids relate, but there shall be noted on such envelopes the date upon which the bid is to be opened. Bidders should submit a draft on some Portland bank; otherwise remit enough to cover exchange on outside banks.

KNOTT C. EGBERT,

Supt. and Special Disbursing Agent, in Charge of Siletz Agency, Oregon.

While it is unanimously agreed that "Webfoot" no longer goes as a handle for Oregon, the proposition to substitute "Beaver," the old original nickname, is not meeting with general favor. To shut off argument, the matter should be laid on the table until the next session of the Legislature.

Only second to the Christian religion as a civilizing agent are the fraternal societies. While all fraternal orders are good, some are better—as the Kentuckian said of whisky. While the world could get along with fewer of these organizations, it is, in the opinion of a vast majority of its intelligent citizenship, a much better world than it would be without them. To them is due the absence of much strife and bitterness; they cool the hot head and restrain the flexible conscience; they scatter seeds of kindness and let sunshine into the homes of the bereaved and afflicted; they are stepping-stones to the one grand and all-sufficient organization, the Universal Brotherhood of Man, as a blessed and accepted reality; their teachings are the only influences for good that can touch the hearts of reckless thousands—and this alone places the stamp of value upon them in every part of the enlightened world. The only objection to any one of the numerous fraternal societies is the occasional member who has no regard for his sacred obligation. These rare "horrible examples" exist for the sole purpose of making good the old adage: "It takes all kinds of people to make a world."

Popular and Picturesque.

The only thing necessary to make the Denver and Rio Grande the most popular, as it has ever been known the most pleasant and most picturesque way to cross the continent, has come about. This is the establishment of through sleeping car service. In connection with the O. R. & N., a through Pullman Standard Sleeper is now run from Portland to Denver, leaving Portland at 8:15 p. m. arriving at Salt Lake at 8:40 a. m. the second morning, leaving Salt Lake at 3:50 p. m. and arriving at Denver 4:20 p. m. the following day. This schedule gives passengers seven hours stop over in Salt Lake, affording an opportunity to visit the Mormon Capital as well as a day light ride through the grandest scenery in the world. For reservations in this car and for illustrated booklets picturing the scenery contiguous to the Denver & Rio Grande, proving it to be the "Scenic Line of the World," write to W. C. McBride, General Agent, 124 Third street, Portland.

Dangers of a Cold and How to Avoid Them.

More fatalities have their origin in or result from a cold than from any other cause. This fact alone should make people more careful as there is no danger whatever from a cold when it is properly treated in the beginning. For many years Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been recognized as the most prompt and effectual medicine in use for this disease. It acts on nature's plan, loosens the cough, relieves the lungs, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. Sold by O. O. Krogstad.

Pat—I'm after biddin' you goodbye, Moike. It's to Panima for me. Shure, $4 a day workin' on the canal looks like a gold mine beside the $1.20 in Ameriky. Mike—But, Pat, do you mind that Panima is one of the hottest places in the world? It is twenty-one in the shade most every day. Pat—You don't suppose that I'm such a dommed fool as to stay in the shade all the time, do you?

A Jamaican Lady Speaks Highly of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mrs. Michael Hart, wife of the superintendent of Cart Service at Kingston, Jamaica, West Indies Islands, says that she has for some years used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs, croup and whooping cough and has found it very beneficial. She has implicit confidence in it and would not be without a bottle of it in her home. Sold by O. O. Krogstad.

Call for County Warrants.

Notice is hereby given that I have funds on hand to pay all County Warrants drawn on the General Fund, and endorsed: "Not paid for want of funds" up to and including June 7, 1902. Interest on said warrants to cease from and after said date. J. L. HYDE, County Treasurer. Dated at Toledo, Or., this 12th day of January, 1906.

The Grip.

"Before we can sympathize with others, we must have suffered ourselves." No one can realize the suffering attendant upon an attack of the grip, unless he has had the actual experience. There is probably no disease that causes so much physical or mental agony, or which so successfully defies medical aid. All danger from the grip, however, may be avoided by the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy, not one case has ever been reported that has resulted in pneumonia or that has not recovered. For sale by O. O. Krogstad.
