County Officials.

According to the official directory compiled by Secretary of State Dunbar, showing names and addresses of state and county officers-elect in Oregon, Republicans hold 249 and Democrats 88 out of 342 offices, while 2 are filled by independents, 1 by a prohibitionist and 1 by a woman who has no political party designation. One office is vacant. The Republicans hold 72.8 per cent of the county offices and the Democrats 25.7 per cent. The Independents elected secured the office of Surveyor in two counties, the Prohibitionists elected a Coroner. The woman elected is Miss Emma Warren, who was elected School Superintendent of Clatsop county. No one was elected Coroner of Wheeler county.

As will be seen from the following figures, which show the political affiliation of the county officers, the Democrats fared best in electing Sheriffs and County Judges:

	Rep.	Dem.
County Judge	18	15
Clerk	25	8
Sheriff	17	17
Treasurer	26	7
School Superintendent	25	7
Assessor	22	11
Surveyor	25	6
Commissioner, 2 years	24	9
Commissioner, 4 years	30	3
Coroner	27	4
Recorder	10	2
Totals	249	88

Many of the counties have no recorder, which accounts for the small number of men elected to this office.

John D. Rockefeller is back from Europe, and has been interviewed. He says this is a good world, and that America is the best part of it; also that his tender feelings are hurt by the cruel newspapers—that he is misjudged. This may be true, but it does not remove the fact that John D. is the richest man in the country, and has expressed his desire to become the richest in the world; also that the price of coal oil and other Rockefeller staples keeps climbing. John D. may be a good man, but he's an old dog.

That was a very poor quality of lightning which was uncorked out in Kings Valley, Oregon, last Saturday. It managed to wreck a buggy without injuring the occupants and tore the harness from the horse without injuring the horse. A bolt of eastern lightning would be ashamed of such a tame performance.

A rifleman on a French war vessel a few days ago fired at the ocean and killed an officer on an American cruiser. That beat the Spanish gunners, who fired at the Americans and hit the ocean.

It's all off—to a certainty. President Roosevelt declares again that he will not be a candidate to succeed himself. Now be good and stop pestinating him.

We do wish Oregon's big dailies would stop quarreling. They not only set a bad example, but put up a very unattractive scrap.

There is no doubt about it. The peek-a-boo waist must go. We expect to note its disappearance with the approach of winter.

Oregon is long on hops and the price is hopping upward. The dry counties don't seem to cut any figure in the market.

Physicians who have been in touch with cases of cancer and who have good cause to assess the eating, consuming malady as hopeless, doubt the efficacy of the new cure—trypsin—of which such favorable report has recently been made. The part of wisdom, in the light of the law of suggestion, would be to throw the weight of hope in this doubtful scale. Disbelief may or may not be a potent agency in the diagnosis of disease and cure, but it is just as well not to proclaim it in the face of hope. Sufferers from cancer need all the encouragement they can get, if not for the sake of possible cure, for the comfort that the possibility brings.—Oregonian.

Faces Like Clocks.

Addressing a political gathering during the late campaign, a Marion county candidate gave his hearers a touch of the pathetic.

"I miss," he said, brushing away a not unmanly tear, "I miss many of the old familiar faces that I used to shake hands with."

Lay More Eggs.

A carload of eggs comes into Portland, Seattle and other Pacific Northwest cities every few days. It takes about ten carloads of wheat to pay for it. And all this in the face of the fact that we have the best poultry country in the world, and can "lay our own eggs." There has been great growth of the poultry industry in the past several years. It has advanced by leaps and bounds. But there is vast room yet for growth.—Oregon City Enterprise.

Summer Diarrhoea in Children.

During the hot weather of the summer months the first unnatural looseness of a child's bowels should have immediate attention, so as to check the disease before it becomes serious. All that is necessary is a few doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy followed by a dose of castor oil to cleanse the system. Rev. M. O. Stockland, pastor of the first M. E. church, Little Falls, Minn., writes: "We have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for several years and find it a very valuable remedy, especially for summer disorders in children." Sold by O. O. Krogstad.

What was Taking Him.

A Catholic priest of an eastern city is fond of telling a story at his own expense. "I was coming out of church one day," he says, "and directly in front of me were two old women who did not know that I was within earshot. 'And did ye know, Mrs. Mulligan, that Father Blank was going to Europe?' said one to the other. 'Indeed, I did not, thin, Mrs. McSwipes. An' what's takin' him there?' was the immediate query. 'My 10 cents and your 10 cents, Mrs. Mulligan, an' that's what's takin' him,' replied the informative dame, with a significant toss of her gray head."

For Sale Cheap—A two-thirds interest in the northwest 1/4 of the southwest 1/4 of Section 5, Township 12 south, range 8 west, near Toledo, Lincoln county. Price $500 cash. Apply to Gantenbein & Veszie, 723 Chamber of Commerce, Portland, Oregon.

An exchange says: All the requirements necessary for the country school teacher is to be a primary, intermediate and high school teacher combined. She must be able to rustle her own kindling wood, build her own fires, adjust the fallen stovepipe, put in the window panes that the boys break, mend the broken desk, love the dull, unruly pupil as she does the bright, obedient scholar, or at least give no evidence of a different condition of affairs. She must be able to drive a horse, spank the unruly kids, keep the big boys from making love to her, keep out of the neighborhood rows and keep on the good side of all the children in the district. She must understand the school laws and be able to interpret them to the school board. She must raise money for the school library, keep all kinds of records, plant trees on Arbor day, be of irreproachable moral character and pass an examination in all the branches of modern education in which half the college graduates ten years from examination would flunk, and in which an applicant for a $2,500 a year government position would fail. For all these varied accomplishments, for all this labor, the school teacher gets $30 a month and keeps herself until somebody takes pity on her and finds her. Out of this she is expected to blow in a part each year in attending the country normal to fit herself more thoroughly for the earning of this magnificent salary.

Unnecessary Expense.

Acute attacks of colic and diarrhoea come on without warning and prompt relief must be obtained. There is no necessity of incurring the expense of a physician's services in such cases if Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Remedy is at hand. A dose of this remedy will relieve the patient before a doctor could arrive. It has never been known to fail, even in the most severe and dangerous cases and no family should be without it. For sale by O. O. Krogstad.

While you are waiting for the farmer to come to town figure this out: A farmer and his wife desired to weigh a pig and had no scales. The man weighed 160 pounds and his wife 139 pounds. They put a board across a fence so that when they sat upon each end of the board it exactly balanced. Then they exchanged places, the wife taking the pig in her lap, just balancing the board again. How much did the pig weigh?—Aurora Borealis.
