

Catarrh

Is a constitutional disease originating in impure blood and requiring constitutional treatment acting through and purifying the blood for its radical and permanent cure. The greatest constitutional remedy is

Hood's Sarsaparilla

In usual liquid form or in chocolate tablets known as Sarsatabs. 100 doses $1. Nasal and other local forms of catarrh are relieved by Catarrhlets, which allay inflammation and deodorize discharge. 50c.

Polliteness Pays.

Virtue is not to be measured by ostentatious giving. There is frequently more real love for humanity in the soul of the man who removes the banana skin from the pavement than in the heart of the donor of the memorial window in the church. Polliteness, like all other faults and virtues, may become habitual. It is surprising how many small acts of kindness, how many little deeds of helpfulness, one may do in the course of a day when there are inclination to be kind and a lookout kept for the opportunity. One may set out with this intention in the morning, and the footing up at night—not to others, but to one's own secret conscience—will be cheering and encouraging.

To Make Harness Last Longer.

A little economy, which sometimes means a good many dollars to a man, is the proper care of harness, carriage tops, etc. Leather in daily use, exposed as it is to sun and wind, soon becomes dry, hard, inelastic, and unable to stand strain. Then, very likely at the most unfortunate moment, a break occurs, and precious time and money are lost. All this is easily prevented by a little forethought and care on the part of the owner. Every one owning horses should be supplied with a good leather preservative, and a good axle oil. These two things are necessary to the largest economical use of a working outfit, or a pleasure equipage.

Observation has shown that no oil penetrates leather so deeply, and resists the drying effect of sun and wind so well as Eureka Harness Oil.

Neatsfoot and some other inferior oils sometimes used, easily become rancid, or because of containing acid, hurt the leather. Stable men and others posted on the subject, invariably use Eureka Harness Oil. When harness is given an occasional dressing of this oil, and wagon spindles greased with Boston Coach Oil, a very large reduction is made in the necessary repair bills. Boston Coach Oil, by the way, is very much superior to Castor Oil. It has splendid lasting qualities, will not gum or corrode, and is more economical in every way.

People who are after economy in stable management will do well to ask for these oils.

Have You Noticed?

"I think Dick and Katharine will soon be married."
"Why, dear?"
"Well, I passed by the old porch last night and I heard her calling him pet names."
"Gracious! And was she calling him 'ducky' and 'dearest' and 'angel-face'?"
"Well, I should say not. She was calling him 'dunce,' 'goose' and 'stupid.'"
"You don't mean it!"
"I do, and that is always a sure sign a girl is in love with a man."

HAD TO USE A CANE.

Weakened Kidneys Made an Elwood, Ind., Man's Back Give Out.

R. A. Pugh, transfer business, 2020 North B Street, Elwood, Ind., says: "Kidney trouble kept me laid up for a long time and when I was able to be up I had to use a cane. I had terrible backaches and pain in the shoulders. The kidney secretions were dark colored. After doctoring in vain, I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. Three boxes cured me entirely, and I am glad to recommend them."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Caught.

"Tommy, you ate those peaches that were in the pantry."
"I didn't! I never touched 'em!"
"O, well, it doesn't matter. They were green, wormy, and of no account, anyway."
"Tain't so. They was splendid!"—Chicago Tribune.

At the Night School.

Teacher (of rhetoric)—What do you suppose the poet means when he speaks of "the stuff that dreams are made of?"
Shaggy Haired Pupil—I guess he means a cut of mince pie at bedtime.

Was Familiar.

Redd—Are you familiar with yachting terms?
Greene—Oh, yes; I tried to hire one, once!—Yonkers Statesman.

The Greatest Seaport.

New York is the second great seaport of the world. In 1903 over nine million tons of imports and eight million seven hundred thousand tons of exports were cleared through New York Harbor. London is the greatest seaport, exceeding New York in imports, though not in exports. Antwerp and Hamburg are third and fourth, respectively.

Somewhat Different.

Miss Elderleigh—How perfectly shocking!

Youngbach—What's perfectly shocking?

Miss Elderleigh—Why, didn't you see old Wedderleigh kiss that doll-faced Miss Peachy just now? He kissed her as affectionately as if she had been his wife.

Youngbach—Oh, much more affectionately than that. I should say he kissed her just as if she wasn't his wife.

No Use.

"Do you notice what a lot of women are going in for science?"

"Yes. My wife's got the fever, too."

"What's her line?"

"Mechanics. She's an inventor."

"Indeed? What has she invented?"

"Why, she's just perfected a stair step that makes me register the time I get home in the morning as soon as I put my foot on it."

"Can't you beat it some way?"

"It's no use. She's always awake any way and waiting for me on the upper landing."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Good Impression.

Gunner—Bluffem certainly has a considerate wife. She collects all the expensive cigar bands she can find.

Guyer—I don't see anything considerate in that? Does she waste her time decorating plates?

Gunner—No, she gives them to Bluffem and he sticks them around his stogies. Then he makes the impression that he is smoking 10-cent cigars.

"What is a practical joke?" "One that you can sell for a dollar and buy bread with it."—Judge.

"That man never uses money in his campaigns." "No," answered Senator Sorghum, "he merely makes promises. He uses credit instead of cash."—Washington Star.

The Parson—When I became a minister, I gave up playing the piano. The Elder—Then you became an expounder in a double sense of the word, didn't you?—Yonkers Statesman.

Cholly—I thought perhaps you had a preference for Bobby Jones? Mildred—Nonsense! You are just as welcome here as he is. Why, he is the most insufferable bore I know.—Judge.

"Why don't you get an automobile?" "My dear sir," was the answer, "I don't need it. I have a dog, three life insurance policies and a bull. I have trouble enough."—Washington Star.

Cicely—Why don't you learn to swim? Muriel—There is no one to teach me. Cicely—How about the boys? Muriel—Oh, they've all taught me before; different summers you know.—Brooklyn Life.

Gladys (at the seashore)—Are you having as many proposals as you had last season? Mayme (wearily)—Oh, yes, but they are all from the same man I was engaged to last summer.—Detroit Free Press.

"But," protested the pert young housewife, "you ought to take off something for the holes in these doughnuts." "Very well, madam," replies the wise baker; "I'll allow you one cent each for the holes when you return them."—Chicago Daily News.

"What," asked the sweet girl graduate, "was the happiest moment of your life?" "The happiest moment of my life," answered the old bachelor, "was when the jeweler took back the engagement ring and gave me collar buttons in exchange."—Chicago News.

Mrs. Windfall—Just imagine, Hiram! One of the sailors told me that this boat is now in communication with her sister ship! I wonder what the conversation is about? Mr. Windfall—Humph! Most likely each is asking the other if her cargo is on straight.—Puck.

"I presume, sir," began the young man, timidly, "that you will consider it very presumptuous for a fifty-dollar railroad clerk to apply for your daughter's hand in marriage." "Not at all, my boy," responded Senator Slickguy, kindly. "I dare say your side grafts are quite remunerative."

"Don't you object to your husband's poker playing?" "Goodness, no! I like it. You see he always plays with Mr. Jones, and Mrs. Jones and I are friends. If Mr. Jones wins she takes the money away from him and divides with me. If my husband wins I divide with her."—Cleveland Leader.

The two young men reached the door at the same time. "Is Miss Swelling-ton in?" they asked. The maid, Norah, looked at them and shook her head disconsolately. "She's in to wan av ye an' out to th' other," she said at last; "but th' two av ye coming together has got me so tangled Ol'm blest if Ol' know which is which. But come right in both av ye, an' Ol' ax her to come down an' pick ye out."—Judge.

What's in a Name?—An Irish soldier in a local regiment during the late war arrived at camp late one night. He was challenged with the usual, "Who goes there?" After pondering a few moments, and the challenge being repeated, and thinking he might avoid punishment, he answered: "Kitchener." He was immediately knocked down with the butt end of a rifle. While he was on the ground ruefully rubbing his head, the sentry exclaimed: "Why, it's Callaghan! What did ye say it was Kitchener for?" "Shure," came the answer, "when ye would do this to Kitchener, phwat would ye do to Callaghan?"

LINCOLN'S WEAPON.

How He Employed Ridicule for His Client's Benefit.

Wit and ridicule were Lincoln's weapons of offense and defense, and he probably laughed more jury cases out of court than any other man who ever practiced at the bar.

"I once heard Mr. Lincoln defend a man in Bloomington against a charge of passing counterfeit money." Vice President Stevenson told the writer. "There was a pretty clear case against the accused, but when the chief witness for the people took the stand he stated that his name was J. Parker Green, and Lincoln reverted to this the moment he rose to cross-examine. 'Why J. Parker Greene? What did that J. stand for? John? Well, why didn't the witness call himself John P. Green? That was his name, wasn't it? Well, what was the reason he didn't wish to be known by his right name? Did J. Parker Green have anything to conceal, and if not, why did J. Parker Green part his name in that way? And so on. Of course, the whole examination was farcical," Mr. Stevenson continued, "but there was something irresistibly funny in the varying tones and inflections of Mr. Lincoln's voice as he rang the changes upon the man's name; and at the recess the very boys in the street took up the slogan and shouted 'J. Parker Green!' all over the town. Moreover, there was something in Lincoln's way of intoning his questions which made me suspicious of the witness, and to this day I have never been able to rid my mind of the absurd impression that there was something not quite right about J. Parker Green. It was all nonsense, of course, but the jury must have been affected as I was, for Green was discredited and the defendant went free."

For the Children

To succeed these days you must have plenty of grit, courage, strength. How is it with the children? Are they thin, pale, delicate? Do not forget Ayer's Sarsaparilla. You know it makes the blood pure and rich, and builds up the general health in every way.

The children cannot possibly have good health unless the bowels are in proper condition. A sluggish liver gives a coated tongue, bad breath, constipated bowels. Correct all these by giving small laxative doses of Ayer's Pills. All vegetable, sugar coated.
