Friendless Yaquina.

A writer in an exchange declares that Willamette Valley people must help themselves if they ever expect to be helped at all, in the matter of an open river. Some of the things this individual says are worthy of attention, as they are certainly truth.

"You must learn now that if you get anything you will have to depend upon yourselves to get it, and not depend on others. Work for free locks on the river, and for the opening of Yaquina bay harbor. Succeed in getting these two and you will get great relief. You have been imposed on long enough in paying extra toll in getting your produce to market, and shipping your supplies back again. You can't depend very much for help from committees who are talking 'Greater Oregon,' but giving all their time and influence for the Columbia River, and no voice for improvement this side of Portland.

"It looks as though 'Greater Oregon' was centered in Portland. You hear very little about buying the Locks or opening the Willamette river, compared with what you hear about the improvements on the Columbia river, and nothing at all about the opening of Yaquina Bay harbor, which would be of the greatest benefit to the people in this part of Oregon.

"Of course, we favor the improvements on the Columbia river, because that is one of our natural outlets, but we, in this valley, and Western Oregon, have another natural outlet that we desire to have opened and improved, and should this be accomplished we feel sure that it would be of much benefit to 'Greater Oregon.'—Corvallis Gazette.

Yaquina Bay harbor is as inviting as it ever was. The government once spent some $600,000 on that harbor and vessels plied between San Francisco and Yaquina, which gave farmers six cents a bushel more for their wheat and a like increase over other products. The state has no designs on buying Yaquina harbor. Let the government take that project up again.—Albany Herald.

Your pleas are just and logical, neighbors, and are duly appreciated, though they go to swell the enormous volume of sweetness wasted on the desert air. Yaquina harbor will never be opened until the railroad and other moneyed interests which are holding the lid on are met by forces of their own kind. Oregon's representatives in Congress couldn't do anything for Yaquina worth mentioning, even though they were almost bursting with the desire—a condition in which our mind's eye cannot see them. Colonel Hofer and others who used to lacerate the ambient atmosphere with eloquent pleas for Yaquina harbor are now flirting with Coos bay and other propositions originally designed as a sleeping potion for Yaquina. The great and influential men of the state and nation overlook Yaquina like a white chip. Yaquina needs a new friend—several of them. But these friends must be the real thing; they must have an abundance of eloquent cash and a shortage of hot air.

It is stated on good authority that John D. Rockefeller's income during the present year will reach the enormous sum of $60,000,000. If John D. is found guilty of everything charged against him, the little hole which the penalty will make in his pile will look like a bee sting on an elephant.

President Roosevelt has assured Senator Fulton that he doesn't believe a word of that Collier's stuff, and also informs him that Secretary Hitchcock had nothing to do with it. It would look better if Hitchcock would speak for himself. Henry and Bristol have not yet reported.

nl Praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

There is no other medicine manufactured that has received so much praise and so many expressions of gratitude as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is effective, and prompt relief follows its use. Grateful parents everywhere do not hesitate to testify to its merits for the benefit of others. It is a certain cure for croup and will prevent the attack if given at the first appearance of the disease. It is especially adapted to children as it is pleasant to take and contains nothing injurious. Mr. E. A. Humphreys, a well known resident and clerk in the store of Mr. E. Lock, of Alice, Cape Colony, South Africa, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to ward off croup and colds in my family. I found it to be very satisfactory and it gives me pleasure to recommend it." For sale by O. O. Krogstad.

The choicest confectionery at the Bon Ton, Newport.

Dealers say that those who have used Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are quite loyal to them and can not be permitted to take any substitute. Get a free sample at Krogstad's drug store, give them a trial and you, too, will want them in preference to any other. They cure stomach troubles, biliousness and constipation.

THE NEW YORK WORLD Thrice-a-Week Edition.

Read Wherever the English Language is Spoken

The Thrice-a-Week World, now that a great Presidential campaign is foreshadowed, hopes to be a better paper than it has ever been before, and it has made its arrangements accordingly. Its news service covers the entire globe, and it reports everything fully, promptly and accurately. It is the only newspaper, not a daily, which is as good as a daily, and which will keep you as completely informed of what is happening throughout the world.

The Thrice-a-Week World is fair in its political reports. You can get the truth from its columns, whether you are Republican or Democrat, and that is what you want.

A special feature of the Thrice-a-Week World has always been its serial fiction. It publishes novels by the best authors in the world, novels which in book form sell for $1.50 apiece, and its high standard in this respect will be maintained in the future as in the past.

The Thrice-a-Week World's regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and THE LEADER together for one year for $1.70. The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.50.
