W. Bourke Cookran, at a lawyers' banquet in New York, depreciated long speeches.

"He who makes short speeches," said Mr. Cookran, "will never find himself in the embarrassing position of a friend of mine last month."

"My friend, when a certain case of his was called, rose and pleaded in a husky voice for an adjournment."

"On what grounds?" asked the Judge.

"Your honor," was the reply, "I have been making an address in another court all the morning, and find myself completely exhausted."

"Very well," said the Judge. And he called the next case.

"Another counsel rose and in his turn asked for an adjournment."

"Are you exhausted, too?" said the Judge. "What have you been doing?"

"Your honor," was the answer. "I have been listening to my learned brother."

THE NEW YORK WORLD
Thrice-a-Week Edition.

Read Wherever the English Language is Spoken

The Thrice-a-Week World, now that a great Presidential campaign is fore-shadowed, hopes to be a better paper than it has ever been before, and it has made its arrangements accordingly. Its news service covers the entire globe, and it reports everything fully, promptly and accurately. It is the only newspaper, not a daily, which is as good as a daily, and which will keep you as completely informed of what is happening throughout the world.

The Thrice-a-Week World is fair in its political reports. You can get the truth from its columns, whether you are Republican or Democrat, and that is what you want.

A special feature of the Thrice-a-Week World has always been its serial fiction. It publishes novels by the best authors in the world, novels which in book form sell for $1.50 apiece, and its high standard in this respect will be maintained in the future as in the past.

The Thrice-a-Week World's regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and The Leader together for one year for $1.70. The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.50.
