Study These Facts.

Though but half as far, it costs more than four times as much to ship a carload of paper from Portland to Ashland, as from Portland to San Francisco. It costs 82 cents per 100 to Ashland through the car passes through that town and is delivered in San Francisco at 20 cents per 100, less than a fourth the cost to Ashland. San Francisco has a water route from Portland; Ashland has not.

It costs 82 cents a hundred to ship a carload of paper from Portland to Ashland, and it costs $1.20 a hundred to ship it from New York to Portland. 100 times as far. There is a water route from New York to Portland, but none from Portland to Ashland.

In New York they haul wheat through the Erie canal, 387 miles from Buffalo to the seaboard for 87 cents a ton, and what is more remarkable, the state has voted an expenditure of $101,000,000 for further deepening and widening of the canal so the cost can be reduced to 26 cents a ton. It will mean the carrying of a ton of wheat as far as across the state of Oregon for 26 cents a ton, but a cent more than half what it is charged for merely passing a ton of wheat through the Willamette locks at Oregon City. What do these remarkable figures mean?

Along the northern boundary of Oregon and into Idaho and Washington rolls the Columbia river, while nearly 200 miles through the richest and most resourceful valley on earth, sweeps the Willamette—and both are obstructed and fettered. In these magnificent streams, nature gave prodigally to the people who dwell by them, but it is little the people have done to utilize the gift. A fortieth part of the sum that, unaided and alone, New Yorkers are spending on Erie, would give to the Columbia and Willamette basins, water routes that in New York means wheat hauled as far as across the state of Oregon for 87 cents a ton, and that is soon to be reduced to 26 cents per ton. Under the glare of these facts how can it be that anywhere or in any way outside of the interested railroad corporations, there can be a single individual who can, for one moment, fail to discern the unparalleled and incalculable importance of opening and freeing these two great streams to unfettered navigation? If the people of Oregon taxed themselves even millions of dollars to open these rivers, wouldn't it all come back in saved freights in a single year? Thus, if congress at the present session fails to acquire and open the Willamette locks, wouldn't it pay the state of Oregon to do it? Is it not paying New York on an exactly similar basis, to spend $101,000,000 on the Erie canal?

Finally, if Oregon should acquire the Willamette locks after congress failed to, would not the effect be to stimulate the national government to be more generous with the Columbia, upper and lower, and would not every dollar come back many fold in larger appropriations for the Columbia and a hundred fold in freights saved to nearly all parts of Oregon?—Portland Journal.

Yes! Even Yaquina Bay might then gain recognition. It is the natural shipping point for Willamette Valley products.

It is announced that Tammany is lined up solidly for Mr. Hearst and will endeavor to hand him the Democratic nomination for President. Mr. Bryan probably regards the rumor as a harmless little joke.

While State Printer Dunaway has magnanimously volunteered to do certain work at a figure about $10,000 below the old rate—for which he deserves credit—he has not yet asked to be placed on a flat salary.

Governor Chamberlain appreciates the difference between the real thing and a make-shift. He advocates the election of United States Senators by direct vote. There is a whole lot of hot air and hoodwink in the direct primary law, notwithstanding certain good features.

Pine Salve Carbolyzed, acts like a poultice; highly antiseptic, extensively used for Eczema, for chapped hands and lips, cuts, burns. Sold by Otto O. Krogstad's drug store.

Andy Carnegie says he is willing to give up $300,000,000 for a ten-years' extra lease of life. He could easily play even on the investment in ten years, if he could form a partnership with Rockefeller.

One of the things which makes the common or average mortal weary is the air of secrecy or mystery which pervades railroad building, the establishment of factories and other important enterprises. A faint whisper; a sourceless rumor; winks of the other eye; wags and nods of the heads of self-constituted sages; vague statements for publication from the real or imaginary projectors; days, weeks, months, years of watching and waiting—and then it comes, or it doesn't come. The corporation that promises to do a thing and makes good right off the reel is a rare flock of birds.

By a decisive vote the National House of Representatives spoke in favor of raising salaries as follows: Vice-President, Speaker and members of the Cabinet to $12,000 per year; Senators and Representatives, delegates from territories and the resident Commissioner from Porto Rico to $7500 a year. Some of the officials are probably worth the money to their state and country, but THE LEADER believes a "sliding scale," designed for statesmen of every caliber, would be more likely to please the dear people.
